

Ruggles Methodists To Dedicate New Organ Sunday Afternoon At 2

Ruggles Methodist Church will dedicate its new organ Sunday afternoon at 2, when Mrs. Fred Swanson, Alderson Methodist organist, will preside as guest artist at the console.

Treva Traver, organist at Ruggles, will give a solo, and Delbert Cobleigh of Binghamton, former resident of Ruggles, will play a trumpet selection. The choir will sing.

Mrs. Swanson will include in her offerings "In a Monastery Garden," and "Adoration."

Mrs. Frank B. Mathers, Trucksville, will present a flannel graf story.

Rev. John Gordon, pastor of the Alderson-Noxen Charge, will officiate.

Ruggles Methodist Church is a comparatively new edifice, one of the most recently built churches in the Back Mountain. Paying for the Kimberly Duchess model electric organ has been a church-wide project.

Charles Sickler Dies After Long Illness

Charles Sickler, longtime resident of Center Moreland before moving two years ago to Noxen, died early Monday morning at his home after a long illness. He was buried Wednesday afternoon in Perrins Marsh Cemetery, following services conducted by Rev. J. Edwin Lintern from the Kniffen Funeral Home.

Mr. Sickler, 63, was supervisor for the State Highway Department at Tunkhannock for many years. He graduated from Lehman High School. Church affiliations were with Center Moreland Methodist Church and its men's organization.

His parents were the late Enoch and Elizabeth Sickler, of Center Moreland. His first wife, Edith London, died several years ago.

He is survived by his widow, the former Helen Miner of Kingston; a daughter, Mrs. Chester Viseski; Noxen; two sisters: Mrs. Nellie Klein, Orange, and Mrs. Martha Baker, Greenburg; seven grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late S. Olive Ide takes this opportunity to thank friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy during the time of the bereavement.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Ella Major wishes to thank the community for its spontaneous and heartfelt sympathy, expressed in so many deeply appreciated ways during the time of illness and death.

Mrs. Major Once Made Beautiful Rugs

Almost ten years ago, Mrs. Ella J. Major posed for this picture in the Dallas Post, displaying with pardonable pride a hooked rug gay with tulips, roses, pansies, and surrounded by a flagstone garden walk developed in soft blues and greys. She sketched for the Dallas Post reporter the story of her life, and her fifty seven years as Sunday School teacher at Lehman Methodist Church, Rev. Frank K. Abbott, minister at Lehman at that time, took the photograph.

Rev. Abbott was to have officiated at funeral services for his former parishioner, but was prevented by illness in his own family from attending. Rev. Norman Tiffany, Lehman Methodist Charge, conducted private services from the Bronson Funeral Home on Monday. Mrs. Major was buried at Lehman Cemetery.

Until the first of July, Mrs. Major 87, kept house for her son Burton at the family home on the Lehman-Meeker Road. A broken hip, accompanied by severe shock, hospitalized her until two weeks before her death, when she returned to her home. She died Thursday afternoon.

She was a native of Mountain Top, daughter of the late Rev. Joshua Reynolds and Frances Durland Wagner. When her father, a Methodist minister, was transferred from Mountain Top to Lehman, Ella Josephine Wagner met her future husband and settled down to spend the rest of her life in Lehman. Before marriage to William H. Major, the 1892 graduate of Wyoming Seminary taught school in Lehman for one year. In 1941, Mr. Major died.

Mrs. Major was a faithful worker in the Lehman Church, where she served as organist and superintendent of Primary and Junior Departments of the Sunday School, and was a member of the official board. When the steps became difficult for her, she relinquished her post as superintendent and became a member of the Luella Neely Bible Class. She belonged also to the W.S.C.S. and the W.C.T.U.

Always interested in education, and a closer contact of parents with teachers, she was a charter member of Lehman PTA and served for a term as president.

Pallbearers were Alan, Homer, Corey and Stuart Major; George and John Rice.

Surviving are these children: Mrs. A. S. Simms of Lehman, who until this year and mandated retirement, was head of the health department of Lehman-Jackson-Ross schools; Burton, at home; Harold W. LaGrange, III; Mrs. Harvey G. Bland, Gloucester, Virginia; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Olive Ide Is Buried In Lehman Cemetery

S. Olive Ide, Lehman-Outlet Road, died Thursday night at General Hospital where she had been a patient for one week. She was buried Monday afternoon in Lehman Cemetery, following services conducted by Rev. Norman Tiffany from the Bronson Funeral Home.

Miss Ide, 79, had been a wheelchair patient for several years, badly crippled with arthritis. Until disability set in, she and her brother Raymond collaborated on a nice garden, which they used as a basis for canned food for the winter.

Since coming from her native Kansas with her parents Isaac B. and Jerusha Williamson Ide when she was a child of nine, she had lived in the Lehman area. Her mother, who died in 1941, was a wheelchair patient for twenty years, requiring Miss Ide's constant care.

She belonged to Lehman Methodist Church and its Luella Neely Bible Class, which with the death of Miss Ide and Mrs. Ellen Major, lost two of its staunchest members on the same day.

Miss Ide leaves three brothers: Raymond, Outlet; George, Rochester, N. Y.; and John, Philadelphia; several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Isabelle Harrison To Be Buried Friday

Mrs. Isabelle M. Harrison, Trucksville, will be buried Friday in Mt. Greenwood Cemetery, following services conducted from the funeral home in Edwarsville by Rev. Robert T. Webster at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Harrison, 74, died Tuesday morning at General Hospital, where she had been a patient for ten days. She was born in Plains Township, June 13, 1887, where she resided 30 years. She had since resided in Trucksville. Mrs. Harrison was a member of Trucksville Methodist Church and Service Mothers Group, Trucksville. Her husband, Sam, died in December, 1953.

Surviving are a son, Thomas J. Harrison, Trucksville; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Vivian, at home; three grandchildren; brothers, William Morris, Plains, and Robert Morris, Wilkes-Barre.
