Dr. William Imhoff, Dallas, died Sunday morning, aged 79, at Veterans Hospital, where he had been former chief of the neuro-psychiatric service. He had been ill for two weeks.

He was buried yesterday at Chapel Lawn, following services conducted by Rev. Robert D. Yost, pastor of Shavertown Methodist Church, from the Disque Funeral Home.

Dr. Imhoff was born at Denver, Pa., May 12, 1882, son of the late Harry and Lizzie Morburger Imhoff. He received his formal education at Franklin and Marshall College and Temple University Medical School.

As a hobby, Dr. Imhoff helped veterans receive citations from Anthonite Post 283, VFW, for outstanding service in the promotion of ideals and purposes of the VFW.

Jewish New Year Begins Sunday, Leading Up To Day Of Atonement

The Ram's Horn will be sounded Sunday night to usher in the traditional ten days of penitence throughout the Jewish world, leading up to Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

Rosh Hashanah is called the Day of Judgement, when the children of men are judged according to their actions. The Jewish doctrine of salvation is that a man who stumbles and falls on life's pathway may still seek his Father's face if he will repent in contrition and humility.

The Shofar, or Ram's Horn, is blown to arouse those who have fallen morally and spiritually asleep in life. Rosh Hashanah is traditionally the anniversary of the creation of the universe, and by implication the creation of spiritual life and awareness.

At Temple B'nai E'vrit in Kingston, where Rabbi Earl S. Starr will officiate. Clifford Balshaw of Dallas will be at the organ as the choir chants the musical portions of the services.

The impressive chanting of the Kol Nidre will be heard at Yom Kippur services Tuesday evening, September 19.

Another Old-Timer Passes Away With Death Of Mrs. Emma Hadsall, 88

With the death Saturday morning of Mrs. Emma Hadsall at her home in Beaumont, another of the old-timers of the area will be seen no more. Mrs. Hadsall is the fifth to die within a short space of time.

Mrs. Hadsall, 88, received a heartfelt tribute from Mrs. Oce Austin in her column this week. It is not given to everybody to rate the affectionate eulogy that an elderly woman dying, has left the community a better place to live in, by her steadfast and upright presence.

Services were conducted Monday from the Nulton Funeral Home by Rev. L. E. Peterson of the Beaumont Baptist Church. Burial was in the family plot at Beaumont Cemetery.

Mrs. Hadsall had been ill for a long time, her always small stature diminished by sickness. For over fifty years, she and her husband Job operated a general store in Beaumont, one of the last of its kind, where anything from large brown eggs to kerosene and overalls could be purchased.

Three years ago Job Hadsall died, but his widow continued to be active in the store, operated now by a son Wayne, a long-time member of Monroe Township School Board.

Mrs. Hadsall was a native and lifelong resident of Beaumont. Her parents were William and Urania Clark Richards. She was a member of the Beaumont Baptist Church and of the Sunday School.

She is survived by her son, Wayne; a daughter, Mrs. Charles Parrish, at home; nine grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Rose Jayne, Mehoopany; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ann Richards, Beaumont.

tion at her home in Idetown. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherwood entertained Mrs. Sherwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hughes, her brother Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zweier, David Roskos and George Faatz on Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Griffith and daughter Dana, of Little Fall, N. J., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams over the weekend.

Modern machinery can be dangerous. This was proved to two Chase Manor people. First, Frank Fabian, had the first, second and third fingers of his left hand badly injured when he reached down to remove grass from his reel type lawn mower. In a twinkling his hand was drawn into the whirling blades.

He was removed to Nesbitt Hospital for treatment and has remained a patient there.

Al Sherman, Jr. was running his rotary lawn mower when it struck a stone which hit his home and boomeranged hitting him under the left ear. Mr. Sherman was unaware of the incident until his father called his attention to the blood streaming down his neck. The moral of this story: Be Extra Careful When Operating New Fangled and Dangerous Lawn Mowers.
