Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Pollock, Chase Road, had as recent guests, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin H. Pollock and son, Jordan David, New Haven, Conn. Irwin Pollock is manager of Timex Corporation in New Haven and his wife is Director of Psychology for the State of Connecticut. Jordan David, their son had to be practically carried away, as he was learning the art of trout fishing on the beautiful stream that runs through the Pollock Estate. His grandfather was the proud teacher. Grandfather Pollock recalls a few years back when Irwin and his wife, who were employed in lucrative positions, left their jobs to take an eighteen-month vacation in Europe, traveling both ways by ocean liner.

Grandfather Pollock, met them at the dock on their return and took them to task for taking such a long vacation at such a loss in income. The young couple told him of the wonderful time they had on the liner, the delicious food, the dancing at night and the cocktail parties, all of which they thoroughly enjoyed. By contract, there were many elderly and wealthy couples on board, suffering from various ailments, could not enjoy the delicious food, or any of the fun. They pointed out to Grandfather Pollock that one should not wait too long to enjoy life, a point which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pollock are now following.

Mt. Zion

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Siglin and children Gary, Dawn, and Gail, Tom's River, N. J. have been visiting Mrs. Siglin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schoble.

This correspondent was spell-bound with the beauty of Jack Schoble's back yard lawn and garden. A lovely patio adjoining the garage is surrounded with variegated morning glories. Across the smooth lawn in the corner is a flower bed surmounted by a wooden windmill. On a post in the center is an artistically lettered poem which stirs one's emotions:

"The kiss of the sun for pardon, The song of the birds for mirth. One is nearer God's heart in a garden."

"Than anywhere else on earth." Another man who makes flowers do his bidding for beauty around the place is Sam Gardner who has a store at Orange. What an attractive lot that is, all around the drive as well as out front! It so happened that it was 21 years ago today, the 14th, that I pronounced Sam and Roberta man and wife. Roberta is always a reliable organist at Orange church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Futtler, of Kingston, were Saturday visitors at the Edward Miles' home.

The first Roundup of the Ram 4-H Club was held on the Exeter Township Elementary School grounds Saturday. The following contestants won blue ribbons prizes:

Dallas charge. This is under the supervision of the Commissions on Education of these churches. Leaders will be the Rev. Edward Lintern and the Rev. William Reid. This Conference which will be practical and helpful is open to all Sunday School teachers, workers and any others interested in the work of the church.

After preaching at Dallas Methodist Church services last Sunday we drove to Maine, N. Y., to help Mr. and Mrs. Leon Aggar celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. They were always dependable workers in the Federated Church there of which I was pastor for eight and a half years before coming to Pittston.

Charles Johns of Pittston was guest organist at Mt. Zion Church last Sunday. Charles has recently returned from the World Methodist Conference in Oslo, Norway.

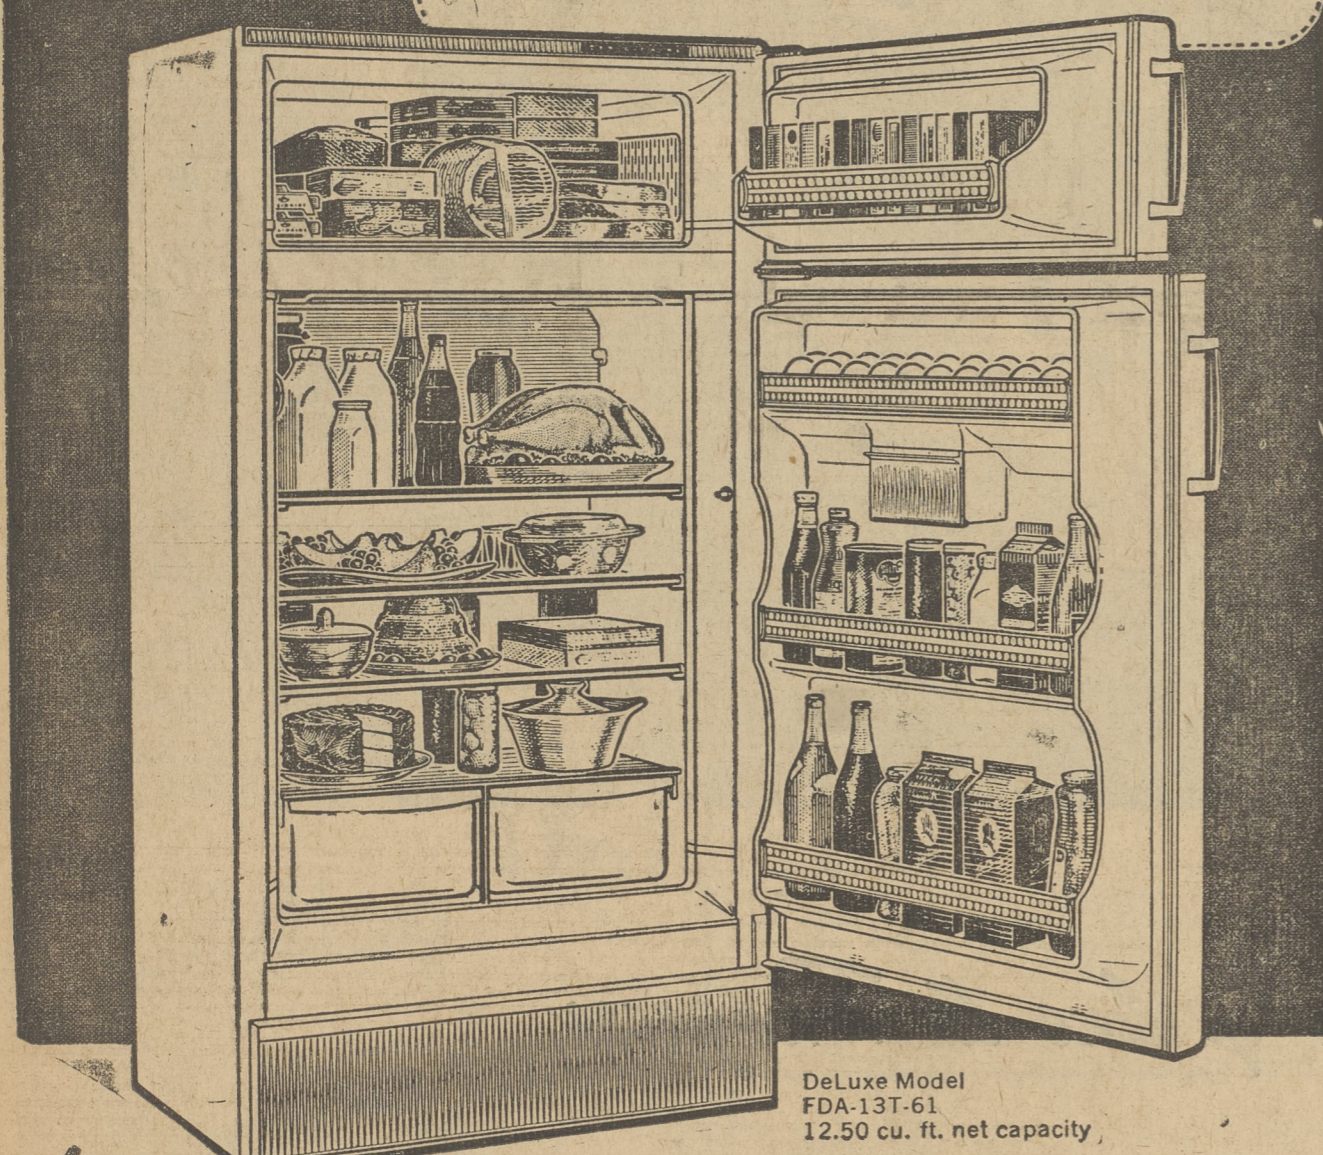

"The Department of Commerce estimates there will be over 114,000,000 motor vehicles in the U. S. by 1976. All you pedestrians who want to cross the street had better do it now."
