Married At Noxen

MRS. RONALD SWINGLE

First Methodist Church of Noxen was the setting recently for the wedding of Sandra Lee Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Morris, Noxen, to Ronald Lee Swingle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Siglin, Noxen.

Rev. Ruth Underwood, Duryea, former Noxen pastor, performed the double ring ceremony at a candlelight service before an altar flanked with white gladioli and carnations. Mrs. Warren Montross was organist and Sharon Montross, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore floor length gown of chantilly lace over taffeta and tulle styled with fitted bodice, jeweled Sabrina neckline and long sleeves tapered at the wrist. The bouffant skirt was enhanced with an over skirt of Chantilly lace edged with sequins. Her four tiered elbow length veil of imported illusion fell from a crown of crystals and pearls and she carried a bouquet of carnations centered with white orchids.

Marion Jolley was maid of honor. She selected cocktail dress of shrimp colored organza fashioned with scoop neckline, brief sleeves and bell shaped skirt. She wore a matching pillbox of satin with profuse veil and carried a swing bouquet of shrimp and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Lucile Balmer and Ann Louise Mark. They chose ice blue cocktail dresses made like that of the maid of honor, matching pill box hats, and bouquets of blue and white carnations. The bride's mother wore blue lace dress, matching accessories and shoulder bouquet of orchids, and the bridegroom's mother beige lace dress, matching accessories and orchids.

John Kovalich acted as best man and Donald Thompson and David Morris, brother of the bride, as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Kunkle Community Hall and the couple left by motor for West Virginia. They will reside in Noxen.

The bride is a graduate of Lake Noxen High School and Wyoming Valley School of Nursing. The bridegroom was also graduated from Lake Noxen High School. He is employed as foreman at Armour Leather Company at Noxen.

Mrs. Emma Gensel To Celebrate Eighty Ninth Birthday, Saturday

Mrs. Emma Gensel will celebrate her eighty ninth birthday anniversary quietly with her daughter, Katherine Gensel, Heller's Grove, Trucksville on Saturday, September 30. Her health is fair.

Daughter of the late Philip and Hettie Cragle of West Nanticoke, Mrs. Gensel is widow of the late Peter Gensel, for many years employed by the D. and H. Railroad, later by Back Mountain farmers. He died in 1947.

There are five living children, Mrs. George Boone, the former Laura Gensel, Lime Ridge, Charles, Lehman, Willard, Alderson, Esther Cragle, Hunlock Creek, Katherine at home; one sister, Mrs. Genevieve Boyer of Warren, Ohio; eighteen grandchildren and thirty five great grand children.

Though she formerly enjoyed an active life, pottering around the house and making quilts, Mrs. Gensel confines her activity now to her beloved church, Dallas Free Methodist, depending on her good friend Jimmie LaBar to get her back and forth when she feels equal to going.

Jane Ann Wellhofer Marries U.S. Coast Guard Ensign Nelson

At a very pretty wedding, Saturday, September 9, Jane Ann Wellhofer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Wellhofer, Haddonfield Hills, Dallas, became the bride of Ensign Jerold A. Nelson, U.S. Coast Guard, stationed in Honolulu, Hawaii. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Nelson of Minneapolis, Minn.

Rev. Robert DeWitt Yost performed the ceremony at 2 p.m. in Shavertown Methodist Church. Margaret Robertson of Long Island, N. Y., was maid of honor and Jane Lydman of Hudson, N. Y., former sorority sister of the bride, bridesmaid.

C. Arthur Nelson was best man for his son. Ushers were David and Spencer Wellhofer, brothers of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bianchi gown of candlelight ivory bouquet taffeta designed with a square neckline, tucked bodice, elbow-shy sleeves and a wedding-ring waistline finished with reem-broidered hand-run Alencon lace. The full graceful skirt featured monk pleats. Her three-tiered, elbow-shy French illusion veil was attached to a crushed rose of matching ivory bouquet taffeta inset in a wedding-ring band embroidered with seed pearls and iridescents. The bride carried a swing bouquet of white gardenias and ivy.

Attendants were attired alike in gowns of violet peau de soie fashioned with open portrait necklines, elbow-shy sleeves and fitted basque waists attached to bell skirts with matching petite bows throughout the skirt. They wore French colots of matching violet peau de soie with bow and veil of French illusion and carried swing bouquets of white and violet mums and ivy.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wellhofer selected an original gown of blue tone mist peau de soie designed with a bodice of matching hand-clipped reem-broidered Alencon lace, short sleeves and a sheath skirt with redingote detail. She wore a matching hat and her flowers were sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige lace sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frederick C. Wellhofer of Belleville, N. J., wore an aqua dress with matching hat and a corsage of white roses.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left by plane for Minneapolis, Minn., where the bridegroom's parents entertained at a reception for the couple. For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a three-piece bronze and black suit with a bronze pillbox hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of bronze mums. After September 27 the couple will reside in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The former Miss Wellhofer is an alumna of Forty Fort High School and Bucknell University, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. She was a stewardess for United Airlines.
