

Dallas Is Set For Big Parade Monday Night

Hallowe'en Event Will Start At 6 Many Fine Prizes

Dallas High School Band and the Junior High School Marching Unit will head the Back Mountain Hallowe'en Parade Monday night in Dallas Borough.

John Williams, general chairman, has announced that preparations have been made to handle the biggest crowd in the history of this annual event.

Contestants will assemble promptly at 5:45 at Commonwealth Telephone Company parking lot on Lake Street. The Parade will start at 6. The line of march will be down Lake Street past the Judges' Reviewing stand in front of Dallas Borough Building.

All children will receive candy bars and scores of money prizes will be awarded for a wide variety of costumes.

Herman Kern, popular Harveys Lake song leader, will lead group singing.

Mr. Williams has announced that parking facilities will be ample both in the Acme Market Lot and in Miners National Bank lot.

Special lighting arrangements will be made in front of the judges stand.

"We look forward to a wonderful night of good weather," Mr. Williams said, "so be sure all of the children are on hand and have a grand time."

In case of rain on Monday night, the Parade will be held Tuesday night at the same time and place.

Luzerne And St. Johns Play Here Saturday

Back Mountain football fans will be able to see their favorite team in action this weekend as both Back Mountain grid teams are home in non-conference tilt.

Luzerne will furnish the opposition for Dallas on the Junior High School field at 2:00 p.m., while Lake-Lehman will meet St. John's at Lehman starting at 2:00 p.m.

This will be the first time for the Back Mountain teams to face these opponents.

LUZERNE VS. DALLAS

Luzerne, unofficially a member of the West Side Conference is hopeful of being admitted to the conference next season if the school does not decide to drop the grid sport.

Luzerne has yet to win a game since 1957 although it has managed a few ties.

The Lions coached by Joe Kurpis, former Luzerne and King's College gridder, shows a record of 2 ties and 2 losses for the season. Luzerne opened the season with a surprise 0-0 tie with Forty-Fort; then ran into a powerful Wyoming eleven losing 21-0; followed by a 6-5 tie with Edwardsville then last Saturday lost to Newport 20-0.

According to these statistics Dallas should have little trouble in turning back the Lions, but records do not always speak for themselves. It could be the boys from Dallas will not be up for this encounter since it's a non-conference tilt and the Lions could spring an upset.

ST. JOHN'S VS. LAKE-LEHMAN

This will be the first game for a St. John's team to visit the Back Mountain and it looks as though the Knights will have their work cut out for them if they hope to stop a Big St. John's eleven.

The Johnnies are not affiliated with any conference and play independent ball. They meet three WSC foes this season.

They lost a heartbreaker to Wyoming 6-0 in the opening game of the season and the following week lost another thriller, 13-12 to Exeter.

St. John's sports a 2-4 record on the season, having lost its first two outings mentioned above then followed up with successive shutouts over Carbondale 21-0 and St. Michael's 13-0 before losing to Durvey 34-0 and last week dropped a 14-6 verdict to Jenkins Twp.

Coach John Hopkins in his first season at the helm of St. John's presents a big line with Pete Boyanowski the heaviest at 275. Other linemen include Len Hoover, an end at 214; Alan Moffitt, a tackle at 247; Mike Loughney, a tackle at 205 and John Durkin another tackle at 190.

In the backfield the Johnnies have two fine juniors in Tom Gubbotti and Bob Walsh. The loss of Gubbotti in the Jenkins Twp. fray due to an injury hampered the St. John's attack. Another fine back is senior Jerry Mularkey.

Coach Eddie Edwards may have to unveil some new plays for this game since its pretty hard running over such big linemen as the Johnnies. Look for Lake-Lehman to use the air-lanes often.

Dallas Faculty Taking Part In United Fund Drive

New Dallas Senior High School Is Dedicated At Impressive Ceremony

Much-Delayed Structure Officially Completed With Laying Of Cornerstone and Dedication

Dallas Senior High School took the last official step to acceptance of the building Friday night at Dedication ceremonies performed in the new auditorium.

The band played under direction of Lester Lewis, before the program started, and at conclusion of the ceremonies, when the National Anthem rounded out an impressive program.

Alfred M. Camp was at the console of the new electric organ.

Dr. Robert A. Mellman presided. Invocation was by Rev. William W. Reid Jr., pastor of Carverton Methodist Church; benediction by Rev. William McClelland, rector of Prince of Peace Episcopal Church.

Dedicatory prayer was by Rev. Robert D. Yost, Pastor of Shavertown Methodist Church, and greetings by Eugene S. Teter, Luzerne County Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Eck gave the keys to Charles Mannear, president of Dallas School Board who handed them to W. Frank Trimble, principal. Mr. Trimble gave the keys to Dale Mosier, president of the Student Council.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, stressed the paramount importance of increasing the reading ability of students in the lower grades.

Reading, he said, is still the stepchild, students reaching college age without development of reading, coherent writing, and spelling.

Dr. Boehm pursued his theme with the zeal of an evangelist, stressing that no amount of knowledge is of value unless it can be communicated in terse and simple language.

The dedication brochure contained a picture of the model of the school and shots of the school itself, pictures of faculty, building authority, and school directors; names of contractors and sub-contractors.

Gifts included $500 from the class of 1961; a lecture from the Junior High School Council; $77.77 from the 1961 senior class parents group; a television set from A&P; parking area painting by Acme; Dallas Township PTA, $100.

Bed-Rock Delays Laying Of Mains For Natural Gas

Trencher Stymied By Boulders, Crew Uses Jackhammers

Work crews laying four-inch natural gas mains along Pioneer Avenue last week ran into bed-rock which the trencher could not handle. For 300 feet boulders had to be broken with jackhammers.

Normally, the stretch would have been finished in less than half a day, welders, bulldozers and tampers following the trencher.

The superintendent stated that under ordinary conditions 2,000 feet could be laid comfortably in a 10-hour day.

Already laid is an eight inch main from intersection of Route 118 with the Harveys Lake highway, down to Mill Street; four-inch mains up Mill Street and Woodlawn Avenue to the cemetery; down the highway to the A & P.

Mains will go down Center Street in Shavertown to the Shopping Center, branching from Pioneer Avenue. At the Quaker Motel, mains will bore under the highway and under Toby's Creek. Elmcrest and Haddonfield Heights will get mains.

Eighteen men are on the job. As trenches are excavated, a side-boom caterpillar tractor with claws lifts the sections from a pipe-truck and lowers them. Arc-welding apparatus follows, sealing the joints, which are then further sealed against moisture by wide plastic tape.

Workers fill in carefully around the pipe with soft dirt to guard against bruising. Bulldozers follow with coarser dirt and small stone.

A tamping machine follows the bulldozer. Driveway entrances will be restored to their original state upon completion of the work.

AROUND TOWN

With Louise

Since it's Halloween week . . . there are many exciting festivities scheduled in the stores. Two big parties . . . one, at the Back Mt. Shopping Center, Shavertown, sponsored by Acme Markets; the other to be held at Giant Market, Luzerne. Both parties are being promoted by Quaker Oats Co. Prizes are to be given for the Ugliest, Prettiest, Funniest and most Original costumes.

The Giant Market party will be judged by Mrs. James Jones, Kingston, Mrs. Dorothy Rand, Luzerne and our own Mrs. Stefan Hellersperk, Dallas.

Halloween . . . Tuesday October 31 . . . will be the big night at Forty Fort Ice Cream Co. All customers who visit the store in costume will be charged one-half price for fountain specialties. Even the staff promises to be in costume that evening . . . so don't forget to join the fun!

Welcome back . . . to Gunda and Joe Perry, former owners of Perry's Shoe Store, Main St. Dallas. The Perry's have recently returned from a trip to Europe. Mrs. Perry will be the manager of Polly's Shoe Store, in her old location on Main St. Stop in to say "hello."

Charlie Gosart will break records again . . . this week, it's a "Charlie Weaver Days" promotion. Search for your longest necktie men . . . and you ladies who can write . . . get busy with a clever "Letter to Mama". The prizes are featured in Charlie Gosar's ad.

Please note that Johnny's Barber Shop has moved to a shop across from Merle Bigelow's Shavertown.

Fire Delays Dallas Post

Flash Fire Damages Intertype Machine

A flash fire during welding operations Monday night seriously damaged one of The Dallas Post's Intertype machines and made it appear for a time that this newspaper would not make its scheduled appearance today.

Willard Peck, publisher of The Pittston Gazette, kindly came to our assistance and set most of the type for this week's issue of The Post in his plant in Pittston.

The fire resulted when the flame from an acetylene torch, being used by August Walters of Dallas Portable Welding Company to mend a broken machine part, came in contact with one of the plastic keys on the machine keyboard.

Instantly flames shot six feet high consuming all of the other keys, destroying leather belts and scorching the machine.

Mr. Walters threw his sweater over the flaming keyboard while other employees used a fire extinguisher and water in an attempt to put out the fire, but the plastic burned as quickly and as intensely as celluloid. Damage was estimated at $500.

Exeter And Lehman Tie

Underdog Lake-Lehman battled Exeter to a 19-19 tie Friday night at Exeter stadium.

Lake-Lehman scored on marches of 46 and 9 yards along with recovering a blocked kick in the end-zone.

Exeter put together two drives of 80-yards and an 88-yard run by Charlie Voda, halfback who was the standout all evening.

A NEW BLIGHT threatens Pennsylvania's maple trees. So far, no cure has been found. The disease, first noticed in 1959 in Somerset County, is attacking both sugar and soft maples. Early stages are difficult to diagnose. Penn State specialists say the damage potential is unknown. However, they report excessive mortality, reduced sugar yield and extreme downgrading of lumber quality.

Borough Democrats Present Strong Slate For Election

J. WARREN YARNAL
Council

WELTON G. FARRAR
School Director

GEORGE D. CAVE

GEORGE E. WEALE
Council

JOHN NEKRASZ
Judge of Election

MARGARET R. McDERMOTT
Tax Collector

Growing in strength the Democratic Party has a full slate of candidates in Dallas Borough and hopes to gain large support from Republican voters at the November 7 election.

According to Bernard McDermott, chairman and sparkplug of the party here, all have been residents and home owners for a number of years.

"They are civic minded and understand the problems of the community. Each candidate is qualified for the office he is seeking and will do his best for the betterment of the Borough."

"The Democratic Committee is proud to have Welton Farrar, a Dallas resident, as candidate, for School Director at Large. Mr. Farrar is Professor of Economics and Business Administration at Wilkes College.

The other candidates are J. Warren Yarnal, George E. Weale and George D. Cave for Borough Council; Margaret R. McDermott for Tax Collector and John Nekrasz for Judge of Election.

Seeking reelection on the Republican Ticket are: Tax Collector, Arthur R. Dungey; Borough Council, Grace T. Cave, Robert Moore and Wilbur Davis. There is no Republican candidate for School Director-at-Large from Dallas Borough. Mrs. Thomas Vernon of Trucksville is the Republican standard bearer.

Misericordia's Lyric Theatre Will Present Anouilh's Antigone

Jean Anouilh's "ANTIGONE" is now in rehearsal at Misericordia's Lyric Theatre under the direction of J. Gerald Godwin, chairman of the College's Speech and Drama Department.

The play will be presented November 2 and 3 at 8:30 p.m. in Walsh Auditorium on the college campus.

Mr. Godwin is acting the leading male role of Creon. Carol Zience, Misericordia junior, is playing the title role, Antigone.

Antigone, the heroine whose age is that of our western civilization, is a modern champion of the Christian-democratic ideal in Anouilh's version of the Greek legend. Following the French classical tradition, Anouilh took the theme treated by Sophocles in his "ANTIGONE" and by Euripides in his "SUPPLICANTS" and adapted to express the spirit of French resistance to Nazi occupation in 1944. In his play, Creon, King of Thebes, has put down the rebellion of Polynices, his nephew. He has decreed that since Polynices was a traitor, no one in the kingdom will be allowed to bury him under pain of death. In defiance of their uncle, Antigone and Ismene attempt to bury their brother and are discovered. The tragedy begins.

In her courageous stand against Creon, Anouilh's Antigone, became to 1944 France a symbol of resistance to Nazi tyranny and of faith in humanity's power to resist oppression. In this first Paris production the role of Antigone was acted by Monelle Valentin, Madame Anouilh. The lead in Misericordia's production, Carole Zience, is a home economics major who has devoted most of her extra-curricular activity to dramatics during her two years at Misericordia. She is a resident of Woodbridge, New Jersey.

Back Mountain Again Failing To Measure Up

Business Places Have Given Only 10% Of $2,343 Goal

With just seven more days to go in the 1962 Torch Campaign, leaders are turning special attention on the sections running behind in the overall campaign.

Back Mountain area, both West Metropolitan and Suburban Business, are far behind. West Metropolitan Division covers residential solicitation while the Suburban Business conducts solicitation among the merchants and business places.

Fund officials point out that the residential solicitation is not a door-to-door campaign. Only those individuals who have indicated that they wish to give at home or are not included in the solicitation at their place of employment are included.

For the Back Mountain, the Suburban Business goal is $2,343. As of last Monday's report meeting only $245—or just 10.4 per cent of that goal had been reached.

The Metropolitan Division has a goal of $6,658. Reported in so far is $3,423 or 51.4 per cent.

Campaign leaders point out that the 52 member agencies provide services to people in all sections and last year more than 90,000 individual services were rendered to people of Wyoming Valley United Fund area.

In the Back Mountain more than 4,700 services to people of all ages were provided. Such vital services as those provided by the hospitals, the various agencies working with children, the youth and recreation services—all these were given to people here.

It is up to the Back Mountain people to support—and support adequately—the work of the agencies by "fair share" support in the annual Torch Campaign. Fund leaders said.

"In the closing days of this annual appeal you will be contacted by a campaign solicitor, if you have not already been asked for your pledge, give your fair share."
