

Two Local Boys Complete Training At Parris Island

STANLEY J. PARDUSKI

ERNEST L. HARRIS

Two Back Mountain boys have completed their training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island.

They are: Marine Pvt. Stanley J. Parduski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Parduski, Shavertown; and Marine Pvt. Ernest L. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Harris, Claude Street, Dallas.

Parduski graduated September 21, Harris, October 3.

Both men have been transferred to Camp Lejeune, N.C. for combat infantry training, after a twelve-week course of drill, bayonet training, physical conditioning, and other military subjects. Specialized instruction or assignment to a unit of the US Fleet Marine Force follows intensive training at Camp Lejeune.

These Two Won Prizes During Gosart's Charlie Weaver Day

MRS. STANLEY FARR

CHARLES LAMOREAUX

Winners in Charlie Gosart's Charlie Weaver Days were Mrs. Stanley Farr and Charles Lamoreaux, Mrs. Farr for a letter from Mama, Mr. Lamoreaux for sporting the longest necktie.

Mrs. Farr's letter (copy to Jack Parr) follows:

Dear Sonny: (Mama always calls me Sunny cause I'm so bright). I was going to sit down and write you a letter but I just couldn't. I got to stand up. You see, yesterday Paw got sort of looped an got lost down in Snyder's Swamp. I got on old Bessie and went down to fetch him home. Since I had just took a drop — for medicinal purposes — I

Hunt Pheasants, Make Hat

Pheasant feathers may be preserved for trimming and making hats. Clean the skin well and remove all fat and flesh. Place the skin, feathers down, on several layers of paper. Sprinkle the skin generously with borax and rub it in gently. Let stand two weeks. When skin is dry, shake out the borax, brush the skin and feathers. Work the skin gently with your hands to soften it for easy shaping, then cut strips or shaped sections with a razor blade on the skin side.

To treat plucked quills and feathers, clip the ends, leaving about a half inch of fuzz on the quill, then stick quills into borax packed in a shallow box. Let stand three or four days, then brush feathers lightly. Sort feathers according to colors. Fold wide masking tape in half lengthwise and fasten it, adhesive side up, to a large piece of cardboard. Place the quill ends in rows on the tape. Arranging the feathers by colors helps to speed up the work of making a hat or trim.

You may use several methods of making a hat. Parts of skin may be cut and fitted on hat frame or, if feathers are loose, sort as to color, size, etc. Plan your arrangement. Better hats will have about four layers of feathers.

Home After Surgery

Jesse Jones returned yesterday to his home at 118 Carverton Road after spending seven weeks as a surgical patient at Nesbitt Hospital.

got the saddle on backwards an didn't know whether I was a'comin or a' goin. It took quite a while to bring Paw home.

Say, did you know Grampa Ogg is about to marry that young widdler down near Skunk's Misery? Well, if he ain't the most optimistic old bird in Mt. Idy. He's lookin' fer a house real close to the school!

Almost forgot to tell you your old gal Elsie Crack, was in the hospital. She was so sick they had to feed her inconveniently. Old Doc Bunion was hopin' the prescription would work, since he's havin' the same trouble himself.

Well, Sonny, I got to go git your paw ready for bed. He's listenin' to the Ignited Nations on the radio, but it's time he turned in. Love, Mama
