Dallas Senior High School News

BACKWARD GIRLS?

If anybody has been told that there are backward girls at Dallas Senior High School, please don't believe it! Actually, they only seem backward. If it weren't for the junior and senior Keyette members our school's halls would be perfectly normal. But, also, last week Keyette initiation was held and all of the little sophomores had to do as they were told by the junior and senior members. Therefore, girls in dresses, stocking, and flats were seen walking backwards with books on their heads; turning circles as they walked down the hall; clearing seats of trays off of the lunch tables, and they were even heard singing "Jesus Loves Me" and "Yankee Doodle". Quite religious and patriotic, don't you agree?

SPORTS

As themes are turned in, in English class, you can tell which sports are coming into season—basketball and wrestling.

This year our basketball JV's are under the capable management of Mr. George McCutcheon, our guidance counselor. The varsity is being coached by Mr. Clint Brobst, our boys' phys. ed. instructor.

The wrestling team has a little workout room right next to the boiler room and I'm told that you can lose quite a bit of weight due to the terrific heat. The squad is under the expert coaching of Mr. Alan Husband and Mr. Louis Palermo, both biology teachers. Mr. Husband was the head coach at Kingston High School last year.

We wish both teams a good season.

EDUCATION WEEK

On Friday afternoon a special program was held for the parents in conjunction with National Education Week. They were given the opportunity to visit classrooms and learn what is being accomplished in each subject. At 2 p.m. parents and teachers assembled in the cafeteria for tea and cookies. The students were in the auditorium at this time, where a movie was shown.

GOOD FOOD

We think that it is time that the kitchen staff be commended for the delicious food they have been preparing. It isn't an easy job to prepare food which must supply, not only our school, but all the district schools. Much work must be done to insure satisfaction and acceptance by all students. The food has been tasty, the menus appetizing with much variety. It is vitally important for us, as growing teen-agers, to have a nutritious meal and one which is eye-appealing, as well. That is why we would like the cooks and everyone else concerned to know we really appreciate the good meals they have been turning out.

ores Garahan was omitted from the list of names present at W.S.C.S. last week.

ASSEMBLY

Awards were given in assembly to those two students who sold the highest number of Christmas Cards during the sales campaign, conducted by the Athletic Association to raise money and at the same time aid more students to attend home athletic contests.

Passes were given as prizes. If you sold two boxes you could win a season pass to either all home wrestling meets or all basketball games. If you sold four boxes, you won a season pass to both; and if you sold six boxes you won season passes to all home wrestling meets, basketball and football games.

Awards were also given to home room captains.

Awards were made by Mr. Lester B. Squire in behalf of the Athletic Association.

Following this, varsity football players who will not be playing next year told of their exciting moments, and what the sport has meant to them. Each boy had encouragement to those who are just beginning and told how football has developed them physically and mentally.

EDUCATION WEEK

Many compliments were given F.T.A. members who helped during National Education Week activities. Some were at the Tea at Lake and some were guides at Lehman.

Bulletin Boards also earned many compliments; each displayed in outline pictures from the first schools to the proposed new building. These interesting Bulletin Boards boosted both students' and parents' morale.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The football season is over! We weren't the top team but all are proud of our record.

As a reward, the Football Mother's Association is giving the team a turkey dinner Saturday evening at 6 in Lehman Fire Hall.
