Mt. Zion

Tuffy-the pointer sat on oir porch with nose pointing down the road. My eyes followed his nose. There was a deer vanishing into the bushes. Soon it reappeared under the old apple tree. Tuffy sounded his alarm bow-wow summoning us to look. About all we saw was that big white flag waving. It was the first I had ever seen full view of a white tail. Thanks, Tuffy, for pointing him out.

Jack Sobole of Carverton brought two potted Norway Spruce seedlings. It was our 44th wedding anniversary and I named one the Jack and the other Peg and set them out on our west lawn.

over the world. Writes, "I now have tape friends, with whom I talk regularly, in Tasmania, San Diego, Indianapolis, Ivyland (near Phila.), Florial park (Long Island), Trinidad, Rotherham (England) and am in process of acquiring one in Germany and one on Pitcairn Island." Si's father, Cleve LaBara, lives over on Kitcher road. Si's wife is the former Evelyn Smith, daughter of Paul and Myrtle over on Hicks Creek road.

It's still beautiful even with trees here. Now we can see neighbor Bill Alling's porch light twinkling through the bare branches. On our way home by way of Wyoming we can now see our own lights from half a mile down the road. We like to look at the pond at dusk with fading light reflecting in the water through the dark trees.

This last was a busy week, preaching three nights at Plymouth for our friends George and Vera Dickinson. They have two darling children. It was the week, too, when the storm windows needed to be installed. I made some with plastic stapled to frames.

Here's wishing all you readers a happy Thanksgiving. Even patients in the hospital tell me they have much to be thankful for, both because of and in spite of experiences with oxygen tents, plaster casts, traction, operations, needles, things which God has inspired men to invent to heal bodies. Having a thankful spirit helps heal the soul. (No charge for the sermon.)

I would like to share this thrill, which is a first for me, with our readers.

Last Thursday Mrs. Michael Clark and I watched from her window a pair of pine grosbeaks. These quite large birds are really beautiful with very much rose color predominating, the male being brighter than the female. The birds were within 3 feet of us, giving us an excellent view, and they did not seem real scary, like some birds are; just kept picking seeds for food from the ground.

ANNOUNCING

Some small but important changes in the '62 Dauphine

Probably the biggest news about the '62 Dauphine is the price: $1395*. That's about $200 less than the Dauphine cost a year ago. Yet it's got a lot of important improvements. The new transmission, for an instance. We've synchronized the low gear, which means you can shift down without stopping, slide through traffic on the run.

Some other small but significant changes in the '62 Dauphine: The engine now runs even quieter because we've improved the piston design. Exteriors are dip-painted to get a protective coating into places spray painting can't reach.

We've also brought out a dolled-up model, the Dauphine Deluxe. It's got all-vinyl interiors, foam rubber seats, 4-position backrests on the front seats, two ashtrays in the back, a lot of nice touches. It costs a little more and it's worth it.

Then there are some things so good we didn't dare change them: Such as Renault's famous gas economy, up to 40 mpg. The 12-month or 12,000 mile warranty. Or the un-imitatable Dauphine style, which makes some people ask for a repeat when you tell them how little it costs.

We repeat, $1395.
