SHAVERTOWN

Ever try ice-skating after twenty (give or take a few) years? We did on Sunday. What an experience! Doing the Twist cannot be more strenuous than the gyrations necessary to remain upward instead of prone. All in all the muscles no doubt needed exercising and it was such a beautiful day.

Mrs. Arthur Hontz, Pioneer Avenue, gave us some information that was extremely interesting. Her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Carkeek, Sweet Valley recently celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary. These people manage their own affairs as to everyday chores and the like. They were married in the Dallas Methodist parsonage by the late Rev. Fred Young. They are the parents of Mrs. Ernest Eve, Hamilton, Ohio and William Carkeek, Portsmouth, Ohio, besides Mrs. Hontz. They have lived their married life in and around the Sweet Valley area.

Real progress has been made in the erection of the new Fire Company building. The tanker has been moved to the new site and by the time you read this it is expected that the other truck and ambulance will be comfortably situated in the new building.

To-day is the last day for reservations for the family night supper being held Sunday evening at 5, in the Shavertown Methodist Church. If you plan on attending call Mrs. Walter Andrews, Mrs. Ernest Ashbridge or Mrs. Richard Griffiths.

Mrs. William Brady and son William, Jr. 52 E. Center Street, returned Sunday evening after having spent a few days visiting in Brookline.

Around town there are containers marked "Fred Hennebaul Fund". By this time I imagine you all know about the terrible tragedy that befell this young boy. Dig deep into your pockets and put the dimes and quarters into a container. We hear his spirits are quite low and a card or letter might show him how interested people are concerning his recovery. How about it?

and the former occupants of that home, Marvin Dymond and his wife and three sons, will occupy a new home on Franklin Street sometime over this week-end.

Robert G. Lorentz is a patient in the U. S. Public Health Hospital in Staten Island, N. Y. Mr. Lorentz is a former serviceman and is in the New York hospital for an annual check-up. He resides on Demunds Road.

To-day is Open House at the Y-Center in Wilkes-Barre. The program consists of an inspection of the new auditorium and health education facilities. A free slimastics lesson will be given followed by a plunge in the pool. Lunch is available from 12 to 1. The afternoon special presentation will be "Art and Architecture" by Peter Bohlin. A tea and refreshments complete the afternoon program.
