

Lake-Lehman High School

By MARY ANN LASKOWSKI

Seniors Preparation is being made for the annual Senior trip to Washington, May 9, 10 and 11. Each Senior has the choice of bus or rooming while in Washington.

Autographs have been the seniors' favorite pastime for the past few weeks. They will be used on the diplomas, yearbook cover, for their Washington and for the bus in which they choose to ride.

Junior Varsity Squads

At home basketball games, we have seen the fine work of Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. They wear black skirts and white blouses. The captain wears a black vest as official uniform.

These cheerleaders cheer for a terrific junior varsity basketball team made up of mostly freshmen. With some good training this squad has possibilities of being a top team in a few years.

Districts:

Five members of Lake-Lehman band attended District Band at Honesdale, January 18, 19 and 20. The names of the five, the instruments they play along with the chair and section are as follows: Tim Swanson, fourth chair, second trombone; Joan Fielding, third chair, second trombone; Jay Ruckle, fourth chair, first trumpet; Beverly Lord, second chair, baritone saxophone, and Marguerite Hackling, first chair, second clarinet.

Mr. Milauskas and this group left Lake at 7:15 Thursday morning. After they arrived in Honesdale, they practiced the rest of the day and all day Friday. A dance was held in the evening for all in the

Green-Shingled Houses And Barn From Boxes, Plywood, And Popsicles

Gordon Wolverson said, "You ought to see the miniature village that Lewis Underwood made. He didn't have it out for Christmas this year, but he unwrapped some of the little houses to show the children. Maybe he hasn't put them away yet."

It was worth going to see. Mr. Underwood, West Center Street, Shavertown, was preparing to put them away, but he stopped in his tracks, grafted a card table to the dining room table, and set them all up again from barn to henhouse.

It started out thirty years ago, he explained, with a farm scene ranged on a green sawdust covered platform under the Christmas tree, and grew up into a complete village with railroad station, water tower, a Lionel train rumbling around the curves, and even a swimming pool.

"You can't find little animals like these in the five and ten nowadays," said Mrs. Underwood, holding up a small banty rooster with a spectacular tail, and a Poland China pig. "And look at that old lady sitting on the park bench."

Some of the small figures have been lost over the years, but enough remain to give the village a populated look.

Prune boxes, cigar boxes, bits of plywood, popsicle sticks furnished materials. The houses come apart for easy packing, chimneys lift off, porches detach, roofs may be lifted to show second floors, and the second floors lift to show the first, with cunning stairways leading down. Sloping cellar doors are detachable.

Great attention was paid to detail in construction. The school house shows pegs for hanging coats and hats, school desks, and teacher's desk. At the church, pews are carved, the reading stand slopes appropriately, and there is a pulpit chair. The belfry lifts off.

In the barn, with its green shingled roof, there are stalls for horses, and a bay for farm mach-

Auto Drivers' Licenses Valid Through 1962

The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles today reminded motor vehicle operators that current operators' licenses are valid for one more year.

Director James W. Miller noted that a small number of persons have written to the Bureau requesting applications for a 1962 license.

Last year, a two-year license was initiated as an economy measure. Miller reported that reduced material mailing and handling charges are resulting in a savings of $250,000 annually.

Senior High School Students Enter National Typing Contest

Miss Engler, Arthur Hontz, and Kenneth Kirk have enrolled their Dallas Senior High School classes in the Third National Facit Accuracy Contest in Typing, sponsored by Facit Inc., national distributors of Swedish made Facit typewriters, calculators, Odhner adding and bookkeeping machines.

During the last two years, well over 370,000 students and more than 10,000 teachers have participated in the Facit Accuracy Contest in Typing. These students and teachers were unanimous in voicing approval of Facit's contest that stresses accuracy and offers so many wonderful prizes. Last year, over 8,000 medals and prizes were given, in addition to the grand prize of all-expense paid vacation trip to Sweden for the winning student and teacher.

According to Mr. Kirk the students in typing classes will be competing against many hundreds of thousands of students from coast to coast for the honor of being the U.S. secondary school champion and winning the grand prize vacation.

The winning students in each of Miss Engler's, Mr. Hontz's and Mr. Kirk's classes will receive a handsome achievement medal. Then 500 class winners throughout the coun-

The Key Club Drill Team has been given an invitation to the annual Kiwanis Convention in Denver! They have been hoping since early Fall to be given this honor. The convention will be held during the week of June 11, 1962. Since graduation is on the 12th, any Senior who desires to go will be given his diploma in Denver. The boys hope to travel by either bus or train. The expenses for each boy will be great, but they are each planning on getting jobs and holding some fund raising projects.

Congratulations, boys, and Good Luck!

Don't forget tomorrow, the boys will meet Fairview at home for their 6th conference game. The next Tuesday will be an open date and then, on February 1 we will meet Swoyerville at King's Gym.
