Stained Glass Window At Mooretown Unveiled By Paul Clemow's Children

Children of the late Paul Clemow unveiled the stained glass window in his memory at Mooretown Assembly of God Church Sunday evening. A spotlight outside, shining through the stained glass, made the window glow in the darkened sanctuary as Paul Jr. and Connie Clemow pulled the cords that released the draperies. Worshipers took part in the ritual.
 The congregation was augmented by many well-wishers from other churches, resulting in a comfortably filled building. The unveiling of the window was the high spot of recent remodeling and enlargement of the edifice.
 Rev. Trotta took as his sermon topic, "Pay Day Someday" building his address around the unexplained ways of God, and the grief felt by Rev. Clemow's congregation and many friends at his untimely passing in his early thirties, when his life work was just beginning.

 Musical offerings included a duet by Leonard Baer and Wilbur Shaw; a quartet by Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. Baer, and Mrs. Russell Kitchen; special solo by Margery Trotta; and a special piano solo by Mrs. John Trotta, who is heard each Sunday morning at 8:30 on Revival Echoes over Station WILK.
 At the morning Sunday School, results of the current Loyalty Campaign were reported before a gathering of 85, the largest ever noted in Sunday School. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Mahoney were given an award for longest years of service, and Mrs. Wilbur Shaw and Mrs. Earl Kittle awards for the greatest number of homes visited during the campaign.

Local Boy Wins Six-Year Struggle To Revitalize Dying Congregation

Rev. Kenneth A. Meade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Meade, Sweet Valley, took over, six years ago, the pastorate of a church in Wheaton, Maryland. The Wheaton Church of Christ was gasping its last when the eager young minister, then only twenty years old, but already married and with an infant daughter, applied artificial respiration to the dying church and its tiny congregation.
 During his pastorate, the church has been put on a solid financial foundation, the edifice renovated, and the debt liquidated. When he first arrived in Wheaton, a congregation of 28 at a morning service was phenomenal, and frequently only one or two pews were occupied. Financial support was not enough to eke out a living for a minister.
 So Rev. Meade took on a job as assistant files supervisor at the National Institute of Health, and went up the ladder until he reached the post of clerical assistant for The House Committee on Appropriations, but without relaxing his labors in the vineyard.

 His reward is a call to the full time ministry of his chosen people, after six years of almost superhuman struggle.
 When a lad attending Lehman school, he was president and salutatorian of his senior class, and as an eighth grader had received the American Legion medal for character, perseverance and all round citizenship.
 Rev. Meade made headlines recently on the church page of the Washington Post, when his efforts were rewarded by a grateful congregation which was now able to support him adequately . . . on a full time basis.

Was Nationally Known Wrestler William S. Lee, 47, Lies At Hollenback

Services for William S. Lee, Dallas, were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Disque Funeral Home, with burial in Hollenback Cemetery. Rev. Jule Ayers officiated.
 Mr. Lee, 47, died early Monday morning at Nesbitt Hospital, where he had been admitted January 29.
 A native of Wilkes-Barre, son of the late William and Ada Burnard Lee, he won nationwide prominence as an athlete and wrestling official and was called on many times to officiate at meets at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, and Pennsylvania State University.
 Mr. Lee was a graduate of Wyoming Seminary and attended Franklin and Marshall College.
 He held the Middle Atlantic AAU 123-pound championship and the National YMCA title, both won in 1940, and for six years held the 128-pound crown in Northeastern Pennsylvania.
 At Franklin and Marshall, he won recognition for varsity track and wrestling and at Seminary he won letters in track, wrestling, junior varsity football and boxing.
 He was headed for the World Olympics as a member of the United States team when World War II broke out.
 In 1949, Lee was appointed to the Wilkes-Barre YMCA physical department staff.
 At that time Lee was the only national YMCA wrestling champion in Wyoming Valley. For several years, Lee also served as an assistant wrestling coach, Wilkes College.

The newly formed Hi-Y Club at Dallas Junior High School elected these officers at a recent meeting: President, Don Buford; Vice-President, Carl Altemus; Secretary, Richard Huey; Treasurer, Harry Cooper; Chaplain, Ernie Barber; and Scribe, George Hackling.
 The Club of 25 members meets each Friday during activity period at the School. The Club advisor is William Morgan.
 With the exception of this past Christmas season, Mr. Lee coordinated and officiated at the Wilkes College Open Wrestling Tournament nationally known as the Rose Bowl of Wrestling.
 In 1952, he was the only local official handling wrestling meets in the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association which included the Ivy League.
 He attended St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Shavertown.
 Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Sandra Mollahan, Barbara Lee, Thomas, Judith and Jack Lee, all of Noxen; sister, Mrs. Betty Farr, Dallas; one grandchild.

Lehman Boy Scouts Hike To Mountain Springs

Boy Scout Troop 241, Lehman, led by William Simms, Gordon Dawe and Henry Doran, hiked to Mountain Springs on Saturday. Going along were William Dawe, Roy Squier, Robert Disque Jr., Barry Coombs, Raymond Dennis, and Kenneth Cook.
 Mr. Lee was a graduate of Wyoming Seminary and attended Franklin and Marshall College.
 He held the Middle Atlantic AAU 123-pound championship and the National YMCA title, both won in 1940, and for six years held the 128-pound crown in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

John Hay Frantz, 84, Dies In Cleveland

John Hay Frantz, only brother of Ira Frantz, orchardist, was buried yesterday in Warden Cemetery, following services conducted from the Disque Funeral Home by Rev. Russell Lawry.
 Mr. Frantz, 84, died Saturday night at his home in Cleveland, after a long illness. He had moved eighteen years ago from this area to Cleveland.
 What is now Devens Feed Mill was once owned and operated by Mr. Frantz. A native of Carverton, son of the late Andrew J. and Philena Smith Frantz, he attended Dallas Township schools. His wife, the former Ola Hildebrand of East Dallas, died five years ago. Mr. Frantz belonged to Dallas 100F and was a member of Lakewood Congregational Church in Cleveland.
 He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Arline Eiben, of Cleveland; a brother Ira, Dallas RD 3; a nephew Loren Morton, Florida.
 His daughter flew in from Cleveland Tuesday afternoon, arriving several hours after the body, which came to Scranton by train in the early morning hours.

Sweet Valley W.C.T.U. Holds F. E. Willard Tea

Mrs. Elizabeth Quoss recently entertained the Sweet Valley W.C.T.U. at a tea honoring the organization's founder, Frances E. Willard. The beautiful tea table had a banquet of roses as a centerpiece. Mrs. Letha Cragle, President, poured.
 The special program of the month was readings of the lives and works of Presidents Washington and Lincoln. There were two visitors; Mrs. Charles Perkins, who explained the works and purpose of the "Hills of Hope". Sweet Valley, and Mrs. Delbert Meade. Members in attendance were, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Vida Kitchen, Mrs. William G. Hughes, Mrs. William Ferry, Mrs. Virgil Mattice, Mrs. McKinley Long, Mrs. Richard Culver, Mrs. Freece Morris, Mrs. Roland Upsyke, Mrs. Sheridan Lewis and Mrs. Charles H. Long.
 returns be made for the recent variety show held in the Lehman auditorium. Mrs. Charles Fiske, in charge of refreshments, asks fifty at sixth grade mothers of Ros School to serve.

Boy Scout Troop Plans Covered Dish Supper

In observance of Boy Scout Week, Troop 281 and their families will be entertained at a covered dish supper at Dallas Methodist Church tonight, February 15, at 6:15.
 Each family will bring a covered dish and place settings. Tables will be marked with miniature patrol flags and families will sit according to patrols.

Horseshoe 4-H Club

Next meeting of the Back Mountain Horseshoe 4-H Club will be at the Lehman Firehall on Saturday, 10 A.M.

Thanks To Ministers

A hearty thank-you to the area laymen who get their church notices in on time, week after week, a reminder to Maple Grove and Center Moreland Methodist Charge ministers, to either telephone or send their notices. Another church's due to be eliminated next week. SEE YOU IN CHURCH

ANNOUNCING

The opening of BABYLAND . . . a new section of Chapel Lawn Memorial Park . . . beautifully landscaped and marked with an ANGEL pedestal inscribed on four sides.

Realizing the mere thought of the possible use of such a section, is not pleasant, we also know how many babies from birth to one year, do not survive and that the expenses incurred are not usually covered by insurance. Therefore, to alleviate some of these normal costs we are offering this section in Chapel Lawn Memorial Park . . . without charge. All funeral directors have been notified of our intentions, so that they can advise anyone in need of such space, that there will be a DEED issued to them . . . absolutely without charge.

This is our way of serving the community in which we are located.
