Six Harveys Lake Students Compete In Sewing Contest

Last Thursday night six fashion-conscious students of Lake School participated in local judging of the Vogue Sewing Contest. The Harveys Lake Woman's Service Club, working in cooperation with the school's home economic department, sponsors the project which is run nationally.

Sharyn Montross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Montross, Noxen, was judged winner of the local competition. Contestants were Marguerite Hackling, Sharyn Montross, Rose Marie Jones, Bonnie Gennetts, Marlene Patton, and Irene Wolfe. Marguerite Hackling modeled the white lace gown which won first place at the Farm Show.

Miss Montross chose as her "Ideal Costume for the High School Students Dress-up Wardrobe" a dress and jacket of pink satin with deep pink nylon lace. The slim satin skirt with a lace overskirt of a shorter length joins the lined sleeveless satin bodice a little below the waistline. The lined bodice has a deep front and back neckline. The lace fitted jacket has glass buttons with elbow length sleeves. Her accessories consisted of beige gloves and a matching clutch bag. She wore a beige flowered hat band with rose veil and beige shoes.

On March 15 Mr. and Mrs. Montross will accompany Sharyn to Bethlehem, Pa. where she will represent her school in the District judging of the Contest. The District winner competes for State and National honors. The District judging is an all day affair and will be at the YWCA. Mrs. E. W. Halteman of Bethlehem is Chairman and the Woman's Club of Bethlehem will act as hostesses for the Contest.

Mrs. Mildred Scruitsky, instructor of home economics at Lake School, acted as advisor to the local contestants and directed the showing of the costumes. Wanda Minor acted as narrator. Judges were Mrs. Clark Oliver, Mrs. Garvin Smith and Mrs. John Kriel. Mothers and friends of the contestants were guests for the evening.

Mrs. Wilfred Ide presented each contestant with a gift from the Crafts Department of the Club and thanked those who made the project a success. Main purpose of this contest is to encourage young girls to develop deeper appreciation for homemaking skills. Appropriateness of the costume for dress-up occasions, workmanship, fashion effect and becomingness to the wearer were considered in the judging.
