WINNER

Joan Darby, Vogue Contest Winner, placed third in district judging at Bethlehem's Y.W.C.A. Thursday.

Joan tells us, "I was accompanied by my mother and Mrs. John Chesnovica, vogue Sewing Contest Chairman of Lehman Woman's Club. We arrived in Bethlehem at 9:30. After registering, I arranged my suit and all accessories on the table with those of fifteen other high school contestants and 17 women contestants. I was quite nervous. For relaxation we watched the judging of a high school art show. A girl from Forty Fort won first prize."

Following a noon luncheon served to contestants and over one hundred women from various districts, the high school contestants modeled their outfits and were judged. The judging was based on three main categories—sewing, fashion, and modeling.

CURRENT EVENTS TEST

Each year our school sponsors a current events test. Since our newspaper is a member of Quill and Scroll Society, the school is sponsoring this society's Current Events Quiz.

Each school participating may administer the Quiz in any way desired. The best paper from the school is eligible for national competition.

The Quiz was administered in the high school history classes on Monday. The winner will be announced shortly.

JUNIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

Lehman Junior class will present their class play on March 30 in the auditorium.

This play develops around two typical teenagers—Ginny Allen and Beef Anderson. Ginny Allen, played by Sharon Farver, is the smartest girl ever to graduate from the "Junior Quiz Program" and has spent the last five of her seventeen years trying to live down her reputation. Beef Anderson, portrayed by Carl Schreiner, captain of the football team thinks she is dumb and offers to help her with history. Through Ginny's antics, she gets Beef suspended and the rest of the football team sick.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Vocational Agricultural Students of Lake-Lehman attended a conference at Penn State University, March 17. Lectures, demonstrations, and exhibits showing scientific developments in the biological and agricultural sciences were featured every half hour. Attendance was greater than the College had anticipated.

CHAMPIONS

Senior Class took the noon intramural basketball championship. Both girls' and boys' teams defeated their opponents in the playoffs this week. Freshman girls put up a good fight against Senior girls, but lost by two points. Senior boys' teams opposed each other in a rough game. These games took place at the Lake building.

F. F. A.

Ronald Young, representative of Luzerne, Columbia and Montour Co-operative Youth Council spoke to F. F. A. Friday to acquaint members concerning cooperatives. Object of the program is (1) to interest and guide youth in learning about the individual future and (2) the future of farmer cooperatives in the community. Participation is open to any boy or girl living in Pennsylvania who is a member of an FFA, FFA, 4-H Club or Senior Extension Club.

Awards will be given. A few of the FFA boys from the Lake-Lehman Chapter are planning to enter.

Foul-Shooting Contest

Three of the girls from our basketball team attended the foul-shooting contest at Wyoming Seminary. They were Dorothy Eck and Judy Woolbert, seniors, and Beverly Eck, a sophomore. Even though none of them placed they put on a showing and were proud of them.

Warning to Seniors!

When the school year ends, are you going to have enough credits to graduate? Take a mental check of yourself and evaluate your last report card. Were there any failing marks? Are you making any effort to pass all subjects? If you are not certain about your credits, you had better check this item in the Guidance Office. You must have thirteen credits to graduate in any course. Students who must give this really serious thought are those who have failed to make up subjects which were not passed in grades ten and eleven.

Sophomore and Junior Tests

Thirty-one juniors and sixty-five sophomores participated in the National Merit Scholarship and National Educational Development Testing Program on March 6. These tests are important to you and your future. Those of you who are interested in college or nursing schools should make these tests a must. Many advanced training institutions use the results to analyze a prospective candidate. In addition, you will be advised by the testing company of weak areas which need extra work for improvement.
