Scholarships Now Available

Dental Auxiliary And Rotary Have Funds

Three scholarships have recently been made available to Back Mountain senior students or high school graduates.

Mrs. Carlton Davies, Machel Ave., co-chairman of Dental Health of the Luzerne County Society Auxiliary, has announced that a $500 2-year scholarship in Dental Hygiene is available at Temple University and University of Pennsylvania. An additional $450 Senatorial Scholarship automatically goes with Auxiliary Scholarship.

Dallas Rotary Club through its Community Service Committee has also announced two $100 book scholarships to be awarded annually by its sub-committee on scholarships, awards and student loans, headed by Paul Gross chairman.

The Dental Auxiliary Scholarships are awarded to students living within the jurisdiction of Luzerne County Dental Society after competitive examinations on the basis of financial need. Currently Susan Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley, Columbia Avenue, Dallas, is enrolled in the Dental Hygiene School at Temple University under one of these scholarships. She is a graduate of Dallas Schools. Further information on these scholarships may be obtained from Mrs. Davies. Applications should be made before April 21.

Discussing the Rotary awards which are new this year, Anthony Marchakitus, principal of Lake-Lehman High School, member of the Rotary Committee, said letters of applications must be sent to the Guidance Director of the school attended by the applicant by April 12. Applications will be screened by the Guidance Committee and forwarded with recommendations to the Rotary Committee by April 26. The awards will be made next fall when the applicant is enrolled as a freshman in a college of his choice. Applicants will be scored 25 percent on letter of application; 50 percent on recommendation of school and 25 percent on Rotary's investigation.

Members of the Rotary Committee are: Paul Gross, chairman, Anthony Marchakitus, Sheldon Mosier, Walter Mohr, Lester Squire, Jack Stanley and Earl Phillips.

Jenkins on the trumpets, accompanied by Dorothy Eck.

John Wardell was trumpet soloist in the piece "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp". The evening came to a close as the flags were carried forward followed by the majorettes. The "Star-Spangled Banner" was played by the band with Richard Rataleffe on the organ.

"The Flight of the Friendship 7"

Last week Mr. Evans and Mr. Carr showed the film "The Flight of the Friendship 7" to all their classes. It followed Glenn's space flight right from the beginning to the speech he made to Congress. It was very interesting and enjoyed by all.

Sally and I have talked it over and we both agree that it would be permissible for me to inject a personal item in this week's column.

Yesterday, March 22, Judy Woolbert and I had our prospective student physical examinations at Geisinger Medical Center. During the day we found ourselves with time on our hands. It suddenly occurred to us that if it was permitted we would try to visit Fred Hennebaul. We did get permission, and thus were able to talk to him and attempt to cheer him up. Fred told us that just the day before he had undergone an operation, which of course, will limit his activity for a time. It is interesting to note that he has a very lovely room looking out over the scenic countryside.

We would like to make a sincere plea to you, the public, to keep those much-needed funds coming and don't forget that a card now and then is a welcome sight to such a sick boy. But, above all, keep saying those prayers for his continued and successful recovery.
