Lack of forest and grass fire fighting equipment was evident when a force of six men tried desperately to contain a brush fire on the Higgins property equipped only with rake, shovel and brooms.

The high wind caused a small fire to soon rage out of control over many acres of land. Where are the 'Indian Tanks' so effective in fighting these fires?

Do we have a Fire Ranger in charge of our Township, if so, why doesn't he or the Department of Forests set up a central location, such as the Fire Hall, where these tanks can be readily obtained? Isn't this a matter with which Representative Shupnik should be concerned? The terrible fire at Scranton; the death of two men from over exertion are cause for concern. The greatest percentage of these fires is caused by stupidity and carelessness. Citizens should think before burning papers and debris outdoors, especially when the winds are strong. Inasmuch as most fires are fought by volunteer men and boys, by whom and when are they paid? We would like our Representative or Forest Ranger to answer these questions in this column.
