

Gate Of Heaven To Stage Annual Spring Play Sun.

Gate of Heaven School will present its annual spring play Sunday afternoon and evening, at 2 and 8 p.m., in the school auditorium, under direction of Sister Susan Marie RSM and Mrs. William Carroll. Choreographer is Miss Donna Fries, College Misericordia.

Specialty numbers as well as songs, dances, skits, and instrumental music, will be rounded out by clever minstrel boys and girls, promising performances vivid with entertainment. Make-up is in charge of Sam Stiles.

Huge Gathering Sees Side Of Beef Cut Up

Demonstration of meat cutting staged by A&P butchers at Tuesday session of Back Mountain Home-Makers Holiday, drew 185 women to Shavertown Methodist Church kitchen. Twenty-five lucky winners took home cuts of meat expertly trimmed from the entire side of beef. Hints on selection of meat accompanied the demonstration, and coffee and doughnuts were served, courtesy of A&P.

Mrs. John Vivian introduced George Berryman, meat supervisor for the A&P Scranton Area. Present were YWCA members from Wilkes-Barre and Mountaintop, and many guests.

Preparing For Green Thumb Days

Mr. and Mrs. Roger McShea and Rosemary Arzente took an inventory of their plants and shrubs at their home in East Dallas in preparation for the opening of Gate of Heaven's Green Thumb Days, May 25 and 26, where they will have an opportunity to view and buy a great variety of evergreens, shrubs, vines, plants, fertilizers, manure and peat moss.

Green Thumb Days, sponsored by Gate of Heaven Altar & Rosary and Holy Name Societies, promise to be one of the most attractive events of the Back Mountain Spring season.

Herbert J. Major Is Honored At Eighty-fifth Birthday Party

Open House was held in Huntsville Christian Church social room Monday evening by Elma and Mildred Major honoring their father, Herbert J. Major, Overbrook Ave., who celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary.

Mr. Major has been a life-long resident of the Back Mountain area. During the early part of his life he engaged in farming. For many years he was employed by the Wilkes-Barre Transit Company as a street car motorman and later by the Hazard Wire Rope Company of Wilkes-Barre. He then became interested in the poultry business and also served as Road Supervisor in Dallas Township.

After his retirement, his interest returned to farming. His health is good and he is presently active in gardening and especially enjoys raising sweet corn and cutting his own lawn.

He is an active member of the Huntsville Christian Church and is an honorary elder of the church. For many years he was a teacher in the Bible School. Even though his hearing is now impaired, a special device has been installed in the church for his benefit and he is able to enjoy services every Sunday.

Mr. Major was married to the former Maude Hoover for fifty-seven years, she passed away August 18, 1958. They have three children of their own and two foster children. His only son, Elmer L. Major, lives on Davis Street, Trucksville; Elma and Mildred, at home; Mrs.

Jane Cave Superb In Musical Comedy

Jane Cave, daughter of Shel Cave of Idetown, turned in a stellar performance as Sarah in Little Theatre's production of the musical comedy "Guys and Dolls", using her operatic soprano to the best advantage in the song "I'll Know," and later in "Ask Me How Do I Feel", a duet with Dick Yanovitch. Not only in singing parts was Jane superb, but in touching scenes with Sky.

So great was community response to Little Theatre's annual musical comedy, that on the last night, with the standing-room only sign displayed, attendants threw open the doors to permit would-be spectators to peer into the theatre on North Main Street.

"There's nothing much in today's papers for kids. It's one of the things that is bothering thoughtful publishers, for youngsters today aren't drifting into newspaper reading as we older folk did."

Worthy Matron Of Eastern Star Entertains Officers At Dinner

Hawaiian music, leis and punch greeted the officers and substitutes of Dallas Chapter 396, Order of Eastern Star, when they were guests of Worthy Matron, Mildred Garinger, in the social rooms of the Alderson Methodist Church April 25.

Eva Dixon, District Worthy Matron, addressed the group before some Hawaiian fishing revealed secret pals and gifts were exchanged. Slides of Hawaii taken by Mrs. Garinger's daughter-in-law while participating in the International Girls' Soccer Meet were enjoyed before dinner.

Present were Eva Dixon, Evelyn Smith, Annjane Cochran, Betty
