Her husband Joseph died in 1928; a son Burt died last year, and a son Claude, Mountaintop, died late in March.
She is survived by a son John, Sweet Valley; nine grandchildren, eleven great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.
She will be buried this afternoon in Bloomingdale Cemetery, following services conducted by Rev. William Hughes from the funeral home.

To Preside At Conference

BISHOP FRED CORSON

Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, will preside over the 111th session of Wyoming Methodist Conference May 16 to 20th, his eighteenth consecutive conference. It was at Elm Park, site of the 1962 conference, that he presided for the first time in 1945. Other years when Elm Park was the place for the annual conference were 1949, 1952, 1955, and 1958. Elm Park is the largest church in the conference.
Pastoral appointments will be made at the conference.
Bishop Corson is one of the leading Methodist in the world. Last year, in Oslo, Norway, he was elected head of the World Methodist Council.
He was ordained in 1920 when 24 years old, a recent graduate of Dickinson College and Drew Theological Seminary. When 43, he was consecrated a bishop.

Fundamentalist Speaker

REV. GEORGE CRAMER, JR.

Rev. George Cramer, Jr., representing Eastern Independent Church Missions, Inc., of which he is field director, is the featured speaker for a series of meetings at First Christian Church, Sweet Valley, May 16 to 20.
Rev. Cramer says Rev. J. Kirby Jones, pastor of First Christian Church, will bring a much needed message from a Gospel founded upon literal interpretation of the Bible, an answer to "soul-destroying rationalism" and a return to the simpler faith of a bygone generation.
Rev. Cramer has had over 22 years of missionary and pastoral experience, 15 years as pastor of Feasterville Baptist Church, which was founded by him, and has now an active enrollment of 500 in the Sunday School, along with a missionary program that contributed $16,000 to missions in 1959. He has served on National committees and taken part in the Eastern Regional activities, including two years as its president.
In 1959 he made a mission trip to the Orient, visiting the Philippines, Hong Kong, Tokyo and Hawaii.
In the Church Family Bible Conference, Rev. Cramer lays special emphasis upon the Christian home, and the responsibilities entailed by bringing children into the world. He also stresses Biblical stewardship, and basic responsibility in financing the work.

GERI-KAY

NURSING and CONVALESCENT HOME
Situating on a beautiful spot overlooking the Huntsville Dam at Huntsville, Pennsylvania, is now operating under new management. The standards have been brought up to a high level and will continue to operate on that level.
Geri-Kay has a very home-like atmosphere; not being over large. The nursing staff and myself will do all we possibly can to make that atmosphere real.
Please consider this an invitation to visit our nursing home at your convenience, so that you can judge for yourself whether or not any person of your acquaintance, whom you should decide to recommend as a resident guest to our home, will get the care and love they so richly deserve.
Sincerely,
STERN N. SMITH,
Owner and Administrator.
