THE LATE NELLIE HISLOP

Death Breaks Link In Five Generations

With the death of Nellie M. Hislop last week a link in the chain of five generations was broken according to members of her immediate family who, in their bereavement, did not recount this rarity in the family to the Dallas Post.

Mrs. R. K. Hislop, Sr., "Gramma" Hislop to scores of people, represents the first generation. She lives with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Moore, East Dallas.

Nellie M. Hislop represented the second generation, her late husband having been the son of "Gramma" Hislop.

The third generation is represented by Robert K. Hislop Jr., formerly of Dallas but now living in Lovelton, "Bob" is the son of Nellie and R. B. Hislop who resided at the family home on Church St. for over 40 years.

Robert W. Hislop, Maple Street, Trucksville, and Sandra Hislop Whitaker, Pittsburgh, make up the fourth generation.

Children of "Bob" and "Sandy" make the fifth generation. Bob's children are Robert Hislop, age 4 and Sandra Hislop aged 2. Sandy's child is Douglas Whitaker, now entering his second year.

The family stated that somewhere there is an indistinct snapshot of the five generations taken at a family gathering soon after the birth of the youngest children. It was planned at that time to have the five generations assemble at a photographers so that the rarity of five living generations might be preserved for posterity but like many such family affairs it was never accomplished. Now it is too late and they regret that they did not take advantage of the opportunity while all were living.

New Construction On Jackson Road

New construction eliminating steep grades and curves is moving apace on the Jackson road from Huntsville Nursery to the State Correctional Institution at Chase.

Addy Construction Company has a large force of men at work there doing the preliminary grading, land fill and straightening the right of way.

It is expected that about two miles will be completed this season with surfacing being completed early in June.

The scene above shows the work being done to eliminate the big curve near Huntsville Nursery, just off old Route 115. Considerable easing of the grade is also being done at this point.

Ambulance Made First Two Calls

The first call for Northmoreland-Franklin Township Ambulance was answered at 9 Friday night when Robert Whalen, a guest of Louis Goeringer at Lake Louise suffered a heart attack. Dr. Harry Gallagher was summoned and in turn called the ambulance, giving instruction to administer oxygen to the patient enroute to Mercy Hospital. Henry Hess, Robert Berlew, George Schoonover and Clarence Schoonover responded and manned the ambulance. Reports say that Mr. Whalen is improving.

On Sunday the Ambulance Association had its second call; Dr. Campanella ordered Mrs. Joseph Ostrowski who lives on a dirt road near Vernon to be taken to the General Hospital. The Northmoreland-Franklin Township Ambulance was called, manned by Rev. J. Edwin Lintern, Les Howell, William Boyes and George Mattusavige. Oxygen was administered enroute.

The stated meeting of Northmoreland-Franklin Townships Ambulance Association will be held at Orange Methodist Church on the evening of May 14.

Viewers Fix $25,500 For Noon's Property

Property of Thomas P. Noon, Fernbrook, consisting of a commercial garage and living quarters on Memorial Highway in a location needed for widening of the highway, was rated as worth $25,500 by a board of viewers. Findings of Atty. G. Reuling Davis, Gilbert Jacobosky, and G. Murray Leighton were approved by Judge Richard L. Bigelow on Monday.

The Noon property is one of the last to be viewed. Most properties needed by the State Highway Department along the proposed route of the new highway have already been purchased, with homes boarded up, torn down, or moved. The house next door to Noon's was moved early in the year.
