Paintings To Be A Feature At Library Auction

All Preparations Moving Smoothly For Big July Sale

Mrs. DeWitt Smith, chairman of the Art Booth for the Sixteenth Annual Back Mountain Memorial Library Auction, announced an expanded program for this interesting section of the three-day affair July 5, 6 and 7, when she reported at a meeting of chairmen held Friday night at the home of general chairman Dick Demmy.

Since that time, she has received solid assurance that artists of National reputation will contribute paintings, to be auctioned off from the block after going on exhibit, with minimum bids set by the artists themselves. Descriptions and other necessary data will be published well in advance.

Already committed to the project are: Chester Colson, art instructor at Wilkes College, who will give a water color; Phil Richards, member of American Water Color Society, New York, teacher of art at Eberhart Museum in Scranton; and Graydon Mayer, whose water colors are well known.

Something new has been added. Mrs. Thomas Longmore, instructor of art in the Dallas adult Evening School, will make quick landscapes as customers look on. Mrs. DeWitt Smith and Mrs. John Vivian will again make portraits.

A feature of last year's auction which attracted much attention was the Children's Auction, held Saturday morning. Again, there will be a Children's Auction, scheduled for 10 a.m. July 7.

Arrangements have been made to display new goods, which will be auctioned off at an announced time. Refreshment stand will have three coffee urns instead of two, and a greater quantity of hot sandwich material will be on hand for late sales Saturday night. Platters have been added to the menu.

On Thursday, opening day of the auction, booths will open at 6 p.m., to give early diners at the Barbecue a chance to roam before auctioning starts at 7:30. On both Friday and Saturday, booths will open at 10, auctioning start at noon.

E. V. Chadwick Plants and Produce, will again have a display against the bank leading to the Art Booth. Robert Scott will again provide this booth with small hand-made planters.

Mrs. Mitchell Jenkins will act as liaison between Odds and Ends and Antiques, to insure that as much revenue as possible be realized from small items which might turn out to be antiques.

Ziba Smith grounds chairman, says tents will be put up as early in June as possible, and more shelving will be provided.

It was announced that Auction chairmen will be guests of David Schooley June 15 at Irem Country Club, the final meeting before the July Auction.

Present, and giving reports were these chairmen: Mrs. Archer Mohr, Mrs. Charles Gardner, Mrs. Richard Myers, Mrs. Larry Moretti, Ziba Smith, Mrs. Howard Wiley, Stefan Hellersperk, Mrs. Edward Ditlow, E. V. Chadwick, Homer B. Moyer, Robert Bachman, Dick Demmy, Ruth Demmy, Mrs. Ellen Kimball, Mrs. Ziba Smith, Robert Fleming, Mrs. DeWitt Smith, George McCutcheon, Jack Conyngham, Mrs. T. M. B. Hicks.

Metal Pin In Leg

Bud VanCampen, injured a year ago in a traffic crash, and still wearing a cast on his leg, was operated on Tuesday morning at Nesbitt Hospital, where a metal pin was inserted in the bone.

Dallas Borough Embarks On New Street Program

Alvin Shaffer Is Replaced As Street Commissioner

Dallas Borough has embarked on a street reconstruction program which should see all of its twelve miles of highways resurfaced within the next two years, according to Robert Post, chairman of the Street Committee of Dallas Borough Council.

Mr. Post said streets being reconstructed this summer are East and West Center Hill Road to the top of the hill; Franklin Street, Terrace and East Terrace Drive, Wyoming Avenue, Elizabeth Street and Machell Avenue.

Of first importance according to Mr. Post is drainage in the Elizabeth Street, and Machell Avenue areas. It is the intention of Council to do one street at a time and do it well rather than to continue a system of patching and temporary repairs.

To this end, Mr. Post said, Council has borrowed $10,000 this summer to provide additional funds for permanent street work. Rollers and other heavy equipment have been rented from the County Road Department and all work is being done by the Borough Street Department rather than by private contractors.

"We will go as far as we can this summer with the money available," Mr. Post said, "then next spring we will start on other streets."

This program will save the Borough money in many ways. We also find that it costs much less per foot to do an entire street than it does to embark on makeshift patching.

Those streets which have been completed under this program, among them Franklin Street and Center Hill Road, are in beautiful condition and Council has been complimented for the workmanship.

Supervision of construction is now being done by Andrew Peranto, Parish Street, temporarily appointed as working foreman replacing Alvin Shaffer, former Street Commissioner, who was dismissed by Mr. Post some days ago for disregarding instructions.

It is expected that Borough Council will sustain Shaffer's dismissal at its next meeting Tuesday night and also dismiss him from the Borough Police Department.

Injured By Recoil Springs First Morning On Job

Fifteen minutes after he had started work on a new job Monday morning, Clarence Corby of Center Moreland was struck in the face and chest by huge recoil springs released from road grading equipment at Mt. Zion. Admitted to General Hospital at 8 a. m. by West Pittston ambulance, he is reported in fairly good condition.

Superintendent Bob Martin, East Falls Sand and Gravel Company, says it is the first accident in ten years of road work. Mr. Corby, an experienced grading machine operator, was standing in the road. The powerful springs narrowly missed another man.

George Condaras Wins

George Condaras, 12, son of Mrs. Condaras and the late Gus Condaras of Center Hill Road, received one of the 120 prizes awarded at the Achievement Day program of the Overbrook School for the Blind, Philadelphia.

The award was for high scholastic achievement and outstanding work in Braille.

First Science Fair At Dallas Junior High School Draws Crowd

To Enter Or Not To Enter, That's The Question

Things go wrong even in the best regulated towns. That's what Post Photographer James Kozemchak thought when he ran across these two signs in front of Dallas Methodist Church while he was making his weekly rounds. While the Church Bulletin Board urges all to enter and pray, the Borough Street Department apparently has some doubts. Photo by Kozemchak

Library Board Seeks Replacement For Mrs. Wirt Who Is Seriously Ill

The serious illness of Mrs. Prosper Wirt, librarian, has prompted David Schooley, president of Back Mountain Memorial Library to call a special meeting of the Directors for tomorrow night at 8 at the Annex to consider emergency measures for the direction of the library and possible appointment of an interim librarian.

Mrs. Wirt, who has not been well since she slipped on the ice and fell last December at her apartment on Lehman Avenue while preparing to take a bus home for the Christmas holidays, has been confined to her home 647 Clifton Avenue, Tom's River, N.J., for the past three weeks. Her condition has grown progressively worse.

She came here October 1, 1961 to replace Miss Miriam Lathrop, who retired. Since coming to Dallas she supervised the rearrangement of the library and the expansion of its stacks to the second floor, formerly Miss Lathrop's apartment.

In discussing Mrs. Wirt's resignation, Mr. Schooley said, the Library Board is faced with the problem of a replacement at one of the busiest seasons of the year. "We are eager to obtain a trained librarian and also to make contact with any local persons who have had library experience or feel that they would like to follow library work as a career."

"There is a shortage of 18,000 trained librarians in the United States. It would seem to me that this is a wonderful career for young people to consider."

Dallas Junior High School Staged First Annual Science Fair In Gym

Dallas Junior High School conducted its first annual Science Fair May 21-22, 1962 in the Dallas Junior High School gymnasium. Projects were judged by Dr. Detwiler, professor of Physics and Chemistry at Wilkes College graduate school; Anthony Ruddy, Biology teacher at Coughlin High School; Thomas Carr, Chemistry and Physics teacher at Dallas Senior High School.

Ninth grade: 1st Honorable Mention, Sharon Phillips, "Fuel Cell"; Robert Long, "From Egg to Chick"; 2nd Honorable Mention: Kenneth Higgins, "Seismograph"; Jeff Davis, "Fallout Shelter"; Sharon Evans, "The Growth of the Chick Embryo"; Elaine Dixon, "Moon Aquarium".

7th and 8th Grades: Honorable Mention, Robert Bayer, "The Solar System"; Robert Graham, "Wonder of Oil". Science Fair projects were on exhibit for the public on May 22nd from 7-9 p.m., at which time winners were presented with Science Fair medals. There were 140 students who entered projects for the fair. The exhibit was attended by approximately 250 interested parents and friends of the contestants. It was difficult for judges to select winners, competition was so keen and exhibits so nearly parallel in interest.

It was necessary to name more winners of Honorable Mention than at first contemplated. To cite only one—the sealed aquarium showing how future moon-dwellers would have to live in order to get along without atmosphere, had been closed to the air since October, the plants giving off oxygen and moisture. Mr. Cathrall reports that the seismograph exhibit was so sensitive to slight vibration that a leap on the gymnasium floor brought forth a definite response. Next year, he says, interest will be even keener than it was this year. Registration, expected to be 120 zoomed to 140 by the day of the exhibit.

Caravan Will Accompany 33 Boys From Orchard Farm To Scranton

Parents and friends of Dallas High School, Key Club rifle team have received word that the caravan that will escort the boys to Scranton on Friday will have police escort when it reaches that city.

Scranton police headquarters has sent word to Dallas Kiwanis that they will guide the caravan to the railroad station in Scranton.

The entourage will leave Orchard Farm Dairy at noon.

The boys will ride in a bus provided by Leon Emmanuel. Chuck O'Brien, Erie-Lackawanna railroad official, sent word that he is making it a point to be on hand to wish the local youngsters good luck. Chuck also stated that he may accompany the group part of the way and then catch a sleeper back to Scranton.

When the group arrives in Chicago, Erie-Lackawanna officials have made arrangements to have a bus take the boys on a planned tour of Chicago until afternoon when they will leave for Denver.

Al Ackerson, Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis, and Mrs. Ackerson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. William Wright and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Mc Cutcheon and family will accompany the boys.

Rodda Cousin Here For The Weekend

Dr. Paul Bournemann, a cousin of Mr. Paul Rodda, will sail in the Bermuda Race June 16, one of a crew of fourteen which will man the sixty-foot yacht Germanic, entry from the Hamburg Yacht Club, Germany.

Dr. Bournemann, in Dallas for the weekend, filled Eleanor Rodda in on the plans. The yacht, now berthed at City Island, New York, will meet other yachts at the starting point four hours out at sea from Newport, R. I. Bermuda is the end of the race. From Bermuda, Dr. Bournemann will fly to Idlewild, thence back to Germany to resume his dental practice.

He has been yachting, and collecting trophies for North Sea and Baltic Sea contests ever since he was a boy. With him on his flying trip to Dallas were Eleanor's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kandler, from Teaneck, N. J., hosts for his stay in the United States. This is his first visit to America, and the first time he has met his American cousins.

The two-masted 32 ton yacht was transported to this country on the deck of a freighter, by way of South America. It is the property of the Krupp family, famous for munitions.

One hundred yachts of all types are in the race. A cup rewards the first yacht to enter the harbor in Bermuda. There are cups also for the best corrected time in individual classes.

Presbyterians Organize Sunday

Sunday at 4, the Presbytery of Lackawanna will meet at Dallas Junior High School to organize Trinity United Presbyterian Church and to install the Rev. Andrew Pillarella as Pastor. Over 120 chapter members will be present.

Rev. Lloyd H. Crall, pastor of Dunmore Presbyterian Church; Elder Minor Aylesworth, Nanticoke Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Herbert E. Pickett, Jr., Kingston Presbyterian Church will conduct the worship service. Rev. Pickett will preside for the service of organization with Rev. Pillarella, Moderator of Presbytery participating.

Elder James D. Hutchison, Vice-Moderator of Presbytery will conduct installation of the Pastor with Rev. Dr. Jule Ayers, First Presbyterian Church, Wilkes-Barre, and Rev. Robert R. Smyrl, Executive Secretary of Presbytery participating.

Launston Travis, Executive Secretary of Wyoming Valley Council of Churches and Elder William A. Shuster, will welcome the newly organized church. Raymond Spencer Martin will be the guest organist. A nursery will be provided with two teachers, Mrs. Antoinette Mason and Mrs. Charles James in charge.

Drill Team And Keyettes Acclaimed At Tunkhannock, Owego Parades

The Dallas High School Keyettes and Key Club rifle team took first place honors in Owego, N. Y., Saturday.

Parading before 10,000 people in the 175th anniversary of the founding of the town, the local units received applause all along the parade route for their performances in precision marching and rifle movements.

Professional parade judges picked the winners and the units were restricted to time and movements which they could use.

On Memorial Day the rifle team performed for the Kiwanis Club in Tunkhannock. Dallas Kiwanis Club has been told that Tunkhannock has been raving about the local lads since their performance there.

The big Owego parade was made up of ten divisions which required three hours to pass the reviewing stand.

Bound For Year In Formosa

Anderson To Study At University Of Taiwan

Bound for Formosa where he will spend a year at the University of Taiwan, Frederic Anderson, Jr., Shavertown will leave at the end of June sailing on the Chinese freighter SS Hai Sin.

He will attend classes and do missionary work among the college students, in a program sponsored by World Brotherhood Exchange, an organization of prominent Lutheran men. His tuition and board will be paid by a doctor in Iowa.

Exchange students are required to raise money for their own passage. Five other young men will go to India and Ethiopia.

Fred, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Anderson; a graduate of Westmoreland, studied for two years at the Lutheran Bible Institute in Teaneck; N. J. He is a ministerial student at Augustana College Rock Island, Illinois. Interested from boyhood in missions he has preached at St. Paul's, Shavertown, and Trinity in Wilkes-Barre during summer vacations.

Fred is trying to find a ride to San Francisco, or to Seattle, where he will join the Chinese freighter.
