Third place, with a low net of 75, was shared by team of Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mrs. Geo. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Frank Wagner and Mrs. Howard Jones; Mrs. Warren Unger, Mrs. Louis Maslow, Mrs. Arch Rutherford, and Mrs. Robert Spencer.

Outdoor Tips

HUNTING

Deer are sensitive critters. Strange noises and strange sounds will send them hightailing into the woods while the hapless hunter stands by wondering how anything that was standing still a second ago could disappear so fast. But strange smells other than human scent may just turn the tables and send the deer in your direction instead of away from you. Next time you're afield try rubbing oil of caraway or anise or a similar oil on your boots and on a cloth pinned to your cap. The oil will dispel your human scent and just may arouse enough curiosity in Mr. Whitetail to send him your way for a perfect shot.

If crows aren't protected in your neck of the fields you've probably found out by now what wise old birds they are. It takes a heap of trickery to fool 'em and a mighty fast shot to down 'em. The best way to get crows within shotgun range is to decoy 'em in. You can make dandy crow decoys from an old wire coat hanger bent in the shape of a crow and covered with black cloth. A few decoys on your crow call and a few of these decoys in the field will give you a chance to find out if a hunter really can outsmart these wily black birds.

FISHING

Some fellas sink in the shower, but fishermen think about new ways of enjoying their favorite sport - and for some it's the only sport. Well, one way of keeping lures straightened out in the tackle box so you can get at them fast when you need them is to string your lures on shower curtain rings. Different rings can be used to keep different size lures and that way everything will be in apple pie order in your tackle box—for a while anyway.

Minnows are slippery devils and sometimes are hard to find as well as hard to hold and hook. If you paint the inside of your minnow bucket a glistening white, you'll have less trouble locating your minnows and more time to spend on getting 'em on your hook fast so they can work for you.

Every fisherman knows that his car needs antifreeze when cold weather sets in or he's headed for trouble. But how many fishermen have thought of giving their fishing lines the same treatment? If you go ice fishing and have had your fishing line freeze, you might try soaking it in antifreeze before your next trip. You'll be surprised to learn the line won't freeze and one soaking lasts for quite a while. Now all you need is a warm pair of earmuffs.

John Bolton Is Senior Bowling Champion

Fellow members of "Teen-Agers" League look on as Tony Bonomo, proprietor of Crown Imperial Lanes, presents John Bolton with a beautiful trophy for winning the championship. The league, composed of men 55 years or over, was originally called "teenagers" when spectators noticed how spunky the men were and how eagerly they looked forward to each Tuesday afternoon when they got together to bowl, enjoying the sport and much laughter.

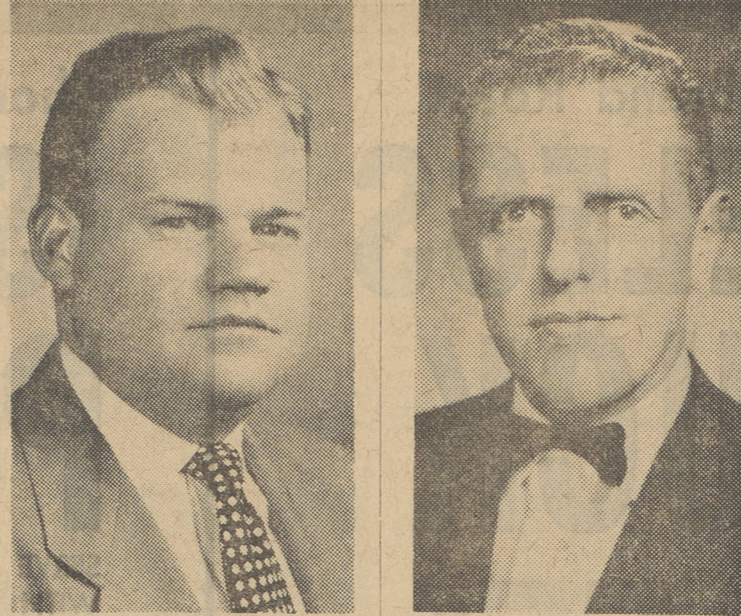

Agas varied in the group. A humorous incident occurred when George Shupp, 62, was discussing his advanced years with Charles Phillips, only to discover afterwards that Charles was only 72.

The "boys" participated under the Petersen Point System whereby each bowler received a point for every 50 pins and one for each game won. John beat runner-up, Nick Buynak, everyone's favorite house man at Crown, by 39 pins. Jack Cortright was third. Bolton will reign until he is dethroned in future years of competition.
