

Lehman Has Big Show

Two thousand enthusiastic horse-lovers crowded the new show grounds on Route 118 to see a great eighteenth annual Lehman Horse Show on July 3 and 4. This was record attendance.

Site of the show this year was donated by James Joseph and Thomas Park. It gave possibility for holding even more spectators next year, as the show's reputation continues to grow in the east.

Cars bearing tags from New York, New Jersey, Michigan, and Kentucky, among those on the parking lot.

Lehman Fire Auxiliary chicken barbecue was so popular that it was served till 4 instead of closing at 2 as scheduled.

Carol Drapiewski of Sweet Valley was crowned Rodeo Queen at the square dance Tuesday night, following the rodeo. About 700 horses were engaged in one aspect or another of the show, and with a few exceptions, they all showed beautifully in manners and conformation.

Even people who can take or save horses couldn't help perking up for the battle between Thunder, ridden by John Devens, and Sharr, f. Lininger, in the Western Cloverleaf (hot-rod time-trials on the roof). Thunder finally made it.

Almost everybody was in the parade Wednesday morning from the new Lehman School down to the grounds. Most of the fire companies sported polished equipment, sirens howling, and clowns lighting newspapers (the rascals) ahead of them. Antique cars trembled up the long grades on Route 118 while the crowds cheered them on.
