

Was Former Matron Of Luzerne County Prison

Mary Boldt, long-time resident of Trucksville, died Saturday night at the home of her niece, Mrs. Edward Specio, in Watkins Glen, N.Y. She was buried Tuesday afternoon in Hollenback Cemetery, following private services conducted by Rev. Fredrick Eidam, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of which Miss Boldt was a member.

Miss Boldt, a native of Wilkes-Barre, was daughter of the late daughter Charles F. and Sophia Becker Boldt.

She and her brother made their home together until Charles died a number of years ago. For years, he was warden of Luzerne County Prison, and she was matron, retiring in 1930. In her eighties when she died, she had lived alone since the death of Charles, making visits to her niece in Watkins Glen. She had been staying with Mrs. Specio. Her brother took great pride in having belonged to Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders, cherishing a picture of himself in Rough Rider uniform on his horse.

There are no immediate survivors. She had kept much to herself, managing her own affairs and her own household, asking no favors, making no close connections.

Rev. H. D. Olver Back In Dallas

Rev. Herbert D. Olver, who for six years was District Superintendent of the Free Methodist Church, was assigned at last week's annual conference to the position of Conference Superintendent, with headquarters in Dallas. He returns after a six-year assignment in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. Paul Hosier, former Conference Superintendent, will take the pastorate of Bowman's Creek Free Methodist Church, succeeding Rev. Howard Deats, who will go to Liberty, N. Y.

Of the four Free Methodist pastors in the area, Rev. Deats is the only clergyman who is being moved. Rev. Grove Armstrong remains at Trucksville; Rev. Ralph Smith at Dallas; and Rev. Emery Stokes at Outlet.

Stained Glass Window Dedication At Vernon

Friends and relatives of the late Mr. and Mrs. Guy May of Beaumont are invited to attend dedication services of the stained glass window presented in their memory at the Vernon Community Baptist Church in Vernon August 5.

Rev. C. P. Moss and Rev. E. A. Benson will officiate. Services will start at 2 p.m. Special music has been planned for the program.

YMCA Camp

Back Mountain YMCA Day Camp will start its final two-week session on Monday.

The second session closes tomorrow with an outing, cookout and swim at Lake Jean. Campers include new campers Ned Bessmer, Joe and Ricky Phillips, Mark Kunkle, Tommy Sicker, Billy Frederick, Raul Lopez, Mike O'Malia, Walter Roberts, Don and Bob Hoffman, and Jim and Jerry Juris. Old campers, who also attended the first session, include Bob LaBarre, David Payne, Barry Layaou, Wayne Nichol, Paul Rubino, Neville Shea, Bruce Nagle, Candy Wismer, Peter Swain, Eyre Price, Bob Pattison, Karen and Allen Addison, Peggy and Carolyn Day, Karen and Sheri Kitchen, Jerry O'Malia and David Wood.

The Camp staff includes Ruth Tinsley and Ronnie Sinicrope, Dallas Senior High School students, John Henninger, Jr., and Clifton King. R. A. Addison is Camp Director.

The Camp, which meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., has two special events planned for the final period. On Friday, August 3, campers will visit an ice cream plant in the morning and a soft drink bottling works in the afternoon.

Spectacular Pageant To Feature Age-Old Events On This Continent

A spectacular and colorful pageant, with visions seen through a curtain of falling water, the sound of destruction and the Rumble of earthquakes, will be presented to the public August 1 to 4 at Hill Cumorah, near Palmyra, N. Y.

Admission is free, and there is plenty of free parking space. Performances begin at 9 p.m. to take advantage of darkness and, consequent contrast with unusual lighting effects.

Highway 21 takes the motorist within four miles of Palmyra, to Hill Cumorah, where early Mormons established their religion 135 years ago, were driven out, persecuted, and travelled west to Utah.

The pageant delves deep into history, when another persecuted race is said to have floated toward America, borne by prevailing trade-winds across the Pacific, around 600 B. C.

Aztec and Mayan peoples are said to stem from these first white settlers on the continent.

The pageant, in which two young elders of the Mormon Church who have been active in the Back Mountain will take part, will show the finding of the famed golden tablets on Hill Cumorah as a climax to the historical and visionary presentation.

Elders Joseph L. Bankhead and John J. Wirth left on Monday, with elders from Tunkhannock and Scranton and Honesdale, for the trip to Palmyra, and the rigorous practice sessions in advance of the pageant.

Whether they will be costumed in the gorgeous garb and head-dress of the Aztecs, as North American Indians, or as ancient Hebrews, depends upon the director, Dr. Harold I. Hansen, who selects his cast after their arrival. Both young elders say that rehearsals will be lengthy, all day long and far into the night.

They hope that local people will drive to Palmyra to see the pageant. The 25th anniversary of the performance promises to be unusually exciting, a polished pageant carried out on the hillside on successive stages, each one lighted as attention is called to another historical or legendary event. An hour before the pageant starts, there is a recorded concert from the Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle choir.

This is a serious performance, with no carnival overtones, no peanuts or popcorn. It is a tradition not to accept donations of any kind, nor to permit sale of programs and refreshments.

If you want to see something out of the ordinary, take Route 21 to Cumorah Hill August 1, 2, 3 or 4. Saturday, August 4, is the final night, when the greatest crowd is expected. From all over the country, 100,000 spectators come each year.

Center Moreland Church Benefits From Annual Auction And Barbecue

Floyd Besteder is general chairman of the Center Moreland Auction and Barbecue scheduled for August 10 and 11 on Center Moreland Methodist Church grounds.

In charge of the barbecue are Mrs. Curtis Edwards, Mrs. Richard Brunges, Mrs. Fred Dymond, Jr., Mrs. George London, chairman of serving is Stanley Weaver; barbecue pits, Ted Dymond and Glenn Brunges; tickets, Mrs. William Troster.

Pickup, Karl Besteder; auction recording, Mrs. Karl Besteder; grounds, Ralph Weaver; cashier, Glenn Nulton; refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams; baked goods, Mrs. Clark Jackson and Mrs. Fred Dymond, Sr.; solicitation, Glenn Major and Bill Boyes; parking, Boy Scouts; publicity, Thomas Shelburne.

The chicken barbecue is an outstanding feature of the two-day event. Last year 2,400 dinners were served. Men and women of the church barbecue chickens on grills made by the local blacksmith, Bill Stary over charcoal pits, using a special barbecue sauce. The menu this year includes baked potato, corn on the cob, fresh tomatoes, salad, home-made rolls and pie, beverage. Annually people come from all over the area and the Valley, to enjoy one of the best outdoor dinners to be found anywhere.

The Camp, which meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., has two special events planned for the final period. On Friday, August 3, campers will visit an ice cream plant in the morning and a soft drink bottling works in the afternoon.

Grace Rustine, 77, Dies Suddenly

Lived In Dallas Her Entire Life

For 77 years, Mrs. Grace Francis Rustine had been an integral part of Dallas. Everybody knew her, everybody liked her, everybody knew that she would be here for years to come.

Late Sunday afternoon Mrs. Rustine died as she would have wished to die, suddenly, without consciousness of what was happening, with no exhausting period of illness. A few minutes after collapsing at the foot of the stairs of her home on Main Street, she was rushed to Nesbitt Hospital in the Dallas Community ambulance, and twenty minutes after admission, she died.

She was born here in Dallas, in the building which now houses the Borough offices. When a child of five she moved to the present home at 37 Main Street. Her father, Frank Snyder, died two months before she was born. Her mother, the former Cora Shaver, married again after a time George's stepfather was Chester White, whose butcher shop was on Main Street.

Her husband, Jacob Rustine, was a railroad man. Forty-two years ago he died in a railroad wreck at Coston Yards, where five men lost their lives. Her half brother, Dr. Herman White, with the Veterans' Bureau in Washington, died seven years ago.

Mrs. Rustine was a member of Dallas Methodist Church, where her mother had been a mainstay of the women's organizations.

She had enjoyed perfect health, busy about household tasks on the day of her death. Her sudden collapse was a terrific shock to her family.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Schmolz who shared the upstairs apartment with her, and Mrs. Joseph Hand, who lives downstairs; three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday by Rev. Russell Lawry from the Discus Funeral Home, with burial at Woodlawn. Pallbearers were Thomas G. Reese, Clyde Vetch, Clare Winters, Paul Shaver, Dr. Robert Bodycomb, and Harold Titman.

Requiem Mass For Mrs. Catherine Burnat

A requiem mass for Mrs. Catherine Burnat was celebrated Monday morning at St. John's Church, Larksville, with burial in the parish cemetery in Dallas. Mrs. Burnat, resident of Lehman for the past thirty years, died at her home Friday afternoon after a long illness.

A native of Poland, she came to this country as a young girl. She was the widow of Michael J. Burnat, well known in Polish Lodge circles, who died eight years ago.

She belonged to St. John's Church and its Altar and Rosary Society. She leaves these children: John, Larksville; Frank and Joseph, at home; Mrs. Joseph Chervenitski, Plymouth; two grandchildren; two brothers: Anthony Kava, Larksville, and Nicholas Kava, New Jersey.

To Attend Vatican Council

Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, as one of the prominent Protestant clergymen in the world, has been invited to attend the Second Vatican Council which opens in Rome October 11, as an observer.
