THESE WOMEN!

By d'Alessio

"Mr. Wiggins decided to Welch on the convertible, and asked me to marry him instead!"

Orange

In doing some pastoral service for pastor Reid while he is on vacation I found Ira Crawford in the General Hospital. He was sleeping and so I didn't get to talk with him.

In Nesbitt I found Mrs. Ellen Roberts of Orange. She had a heart spell a week ago Friday night and the Franklin and Northmoreland Township Ambulance was summoned. There was an accident at Centermoreland and several of the ambulance crew were there including the former pastor, Rev. J. Edwin Lintern.

On the fast run to the hospital Lintern administered oxygen to Mrs. Roberts. The patient is doing well.

Mrs. Roberts reported that everything was very kind to her. On her bed were many greeting cards which she was looking over, and she told me this was her birthday and that the nurses had managed to give her a birthday party right there in the ward. With that kind of treatment I think she will get well fast.

At her bedside when I called were her husband and son Don Roberts. I occurred to me that it was Don Roberts who began the stirring up of sentiment in the two townships for buying an ambulance and called the first meeting to discuss the matter. One never knows who is going to need an ambulance next.

Special to Trucksville Readers If anybody in the Back Mountain remembers Elsa Schneider (she used to live on Mt. Atry road Trucksville) try to go see her at Valley Crest. She often tells me she is "lonesome". I have never seen her other than around in a wheel chair. Often sits out in the doorway by herself. I can't understand her speech very well, but I do get the word "lonesome". She is in her 90's. Visiting hours are 2-4 and 7-9. She's a little hard of hearing, so speak up.

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Weatherly of Happy Hill, Mt. Zion, drove to Glen Ridge, N. J. last week to visit their daughter, Mrs. Henry Hobart Tallmadge. It was the occasion of Mrs. Weatherly's birthday. The two Tallmadge daughters, Lynne and Susanne, returned with their grandparents and are visiting there this week. Also Rev. and Mrs. Theodore L. Weatherly formerly of St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Nanticoke and now rector of Trinity Church Homestead, Pa. came in for a visit to the Happy Hill Weatherlys. With them were children Elizabeth, Paul and Stephen. The Theodore Weatherlys are vacationing during August along the Susquehanna at Mehoparty.

Ida Howell and daughter Harriet have spent two weeks in Colorado. They travelled by jet from Philadelphia and return. Harriet remained in Philadelphia and her mother returned to Wilkes-Barre by bus Sunday afternoon after having a wonderful trip.

Sunday morning I preached at Dorranceton at 9. I thought the attendance was good for a summer Sunday and that early in the morning. Also they had a choir. The special music was a solo by

FAREWELL PARTY

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Weatherly gave a farewell party at their home a week ago Sunday night to area Episcopal clergymen in honor of Rev. and Mrs. George P. Davidson of St. Peter's Church Plymouth, who are leaving to take up parish work at Bogota, N. J. Besides the Davidsons those present were: Rev. and Mrs. Burke Rivers, Rev. and Mrs. William Trumbore, Rev. Fred Trumbore, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Stuess, from Glen Summit, education director of the diocese, Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Weatherly, Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Fairman, Rev. and Mrs. John S. Prater the new rector of Prince of Peace Church in Dallas, and Rev. and Mrs. Lyle Scott.

Heavy Rain Turns Road Into Grease Friday afternoon a heavy rain turned our road into a toboggan slide of greasy yellow mud. A load of fine gravel intended for use in the roadside ditches where cinder block sluice pipes are buried came along, slid into the ditch. Along came a bright red car driven by Charlie Smith of Carverton, saw the plight of the truck, slid into a side slip and stopped. Along came a second truck loaded with some kind of gravel but saw and stopped in time. Later came the caterpillar with front end load, and rear end ditching scoop and did some towing. The truck turned down a side road and dumped his load. Charlie Smith got going down the road. The second truck began to shovel out its load on the red mud road to furnish traction. Looked just like winter!

Meanwhile on the porch our Dottie stood laughing. No, not making fun of their plight but thinking back two years when she was in Congo in similar circumstances. Those of you who have had The Gilbert Story some time back will recall her stories of being stuck in the mud—several times. When rain comes suddenly in the Congo that yellow dust—which also is hard to drive in—becomes slitherly mud. I told her I thought she was homesick for her beloved Congo, mud and all. Wonder when that visa is coming through!

Well, it's interesting preaching around in different churches. There's usually some at every church that I've met somewhere before.

Donald Jones who drove from Orange for the service. During the summer he and his wife are living with his father-in-law Perry Coolbaugh. What a booming bass both in speaking and singing voice! Also present at the service was a man who said, "I'm a correspondent for the Dallas Post, too". William Huebes who writes the Jackson news. Also in the choir was a reporter for the Times-Leader.

From Dorranceton I went on to Central Methodist in Wilkes-Barre. The family attended there. I always recall when in that church the ordination service on April 8, 1951 when our Dorothy was commissioned by the bishop as a missionary to Africa. We were not entirely strangers there for we have shown Dorothy's African slide pictures and curios before now.

Well, it's interesting preaching around in different churches. There's usually some at every church that I've met somewhere before.
