BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS THE DALLAS POST

Football Schedules Free For State Games

Football schedules of 49 Pennsylvania colleges and universities and the professional Eagles and Steelers are ready for free distribution, Thomas J. Monaghan, Secretary of Commerce announced today.

Slippery Rock State College and St. Vincent College play the opener of the collegiate season at Latrobe, September 14, while the final 1962 college game is the traditional Penn State-Pitt meeting at Pittsburgh, November 24.

Army and Navy will play the nation's classic at the Philadelphia

Stadium, December 1. The Liberty Bowl game will be played on the same field, December 15.

Pennsylvania's pro season has already started with exhibitions, and ends with the Eagles playing the St. Louis Cardinals and the Steelers tackling the Washington Redskins in away games December 16.

Harold A. Swenson, Deputy Secretary of Commerce and Director of the state's Travel Development Bureau said, "This year's Pennsylvania Pigskin Parade, showing 405 collegiate and 32 pro home and away games, is printed on tough quality paper, folded to 2 3/4 by 8 1/2 inches, for convenient pocket-carrying throughout the season."

He called police: State, Kingston Borough, Luzerne, Kingston Township, Dallas Borough and Township. All said they would be glad to help. Trucksville, Shavertown, and Jackson sent fire engines.

He called friends to tell them to spread the word. The Back Mountain was ready. Three hours elapsed between 2:30, when Andy started his campaign, and the arrival of the bus at the Hospital. And over fifty cars joined the motorcade, many with streamers, to follow the boys home to the Back Mountain.

The motorcade was no surprise to the All-Stars, but it was a relief. They had been informed by Marz Bus intercom that there was a big crowd of people who loved them just as they were (mere Pennsylvania State Champions and victors of all New England), waiting for them just outside Wilkes-Barre.

After a parade through the Back Mountain, the tired, happy kids were feasted and feted at the Checkerboard Inn, Trucksville, by owner John Havir. Everybody was glad to have them back.
