

Head Of Valley Crest To Address 3-Point Men At Mt. Zion October 20

Saturday night, October 20, at Mt. Zion church the 3-point men's fellowship will hold a supper. Included are men of Carverton, Orange and Mt. Zion Methodist Churches. There will be group singing with "Chuck" Johns at the piano. Dr. Alfred C. Kraft, Medical Director of Valley Crest, will speak. Dr. Kraft is a graduate of University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine; served in the U.S. Army Medical Corps 1942-1946; has had experience in chronic disease hospitals for 16 years. He is Past Superintendent of Mayview County and Woodville County Hospitals from 1946 to 1948 in Pittsburgh; and was Chief of Clinical Services at the John J. Kane Hospital, Pittsburgh 1958-1961.

Will Go Back To Utah

Elder Joseph I. Bankhead will return to his home in Utah early in November, after spending several months in this area as a missionary for the Mormon Church. He expects to enter Brigham Young University. Since leaving Utah two years ago on his assigned duties as a missionary, he has not been home. A new man will take his place in this area, assisting Elder John J. Wirth. Part of a young man's duties at this church involves serving as a missionary, often before completing his education.

Mrs. Mary A. Wright Released By Death

Mrs. Mary Wright, New Goss Manor, died at Nesbitt Hospital Friday afternoon after several weeks of illness. She was buried Tuesday afternoon in Greenfield Cemetery at Hempstead, Long Island. Services were conducted Monday evening by Rev. Russell Lawry, from the Bronson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wright, mother of William Wright, member of Dallas School Board, had lived in Dallas for ten years, for the past year at the home of her son. Bill was singularly devoted to his mother. Not able to get to the hospital to see her the night he received a community award from three Dallas service clubs, he visited her the next afternoon to show her his plaque. Nightly, Bill was at Nesbitt during the several weeks of her hospitalization.

Her death came as a release. She was a member of Shavertown Branch, Nesbitt Auxiliary and of Dallas Methodist Church. She was a familiar figure at the Red Cross Bloodmobile Donation, where she served in the canteen with her daughter-in-law, Kay Wright.

She was a native of West Sands Lake, N. Y., daughter of the late Arthur H. and Mary Ann Mahar Reynolds. Her husband, William C. Wright, died in 1938.

She leaves in addition to her son, two grandchildren, one niece, and one nephew.

Wesley P. Culver Was Past Master Of Grange

Wesley P. Culver, 78, native and long-time resident of Bloomingdale, died Thursday morning at the home of his son Otis in Lee Park.

He had lived in Lee Park for twenty years, and was a former custodian of the Lee Park school. Later, he was employed by Glen Alden Coal Company as a carpenter. Then he went to New York, and became assistant superintendent of an apartment building. A year and a half ago he retired.

During his residence in Bloomingdale, he was a member and secretary of Ross Township school board. He was active in Grange work, past-master of Bloomingdale Grange, and a member of Pomona and State Granges. He belonged to Bloomingdale Methodist church.

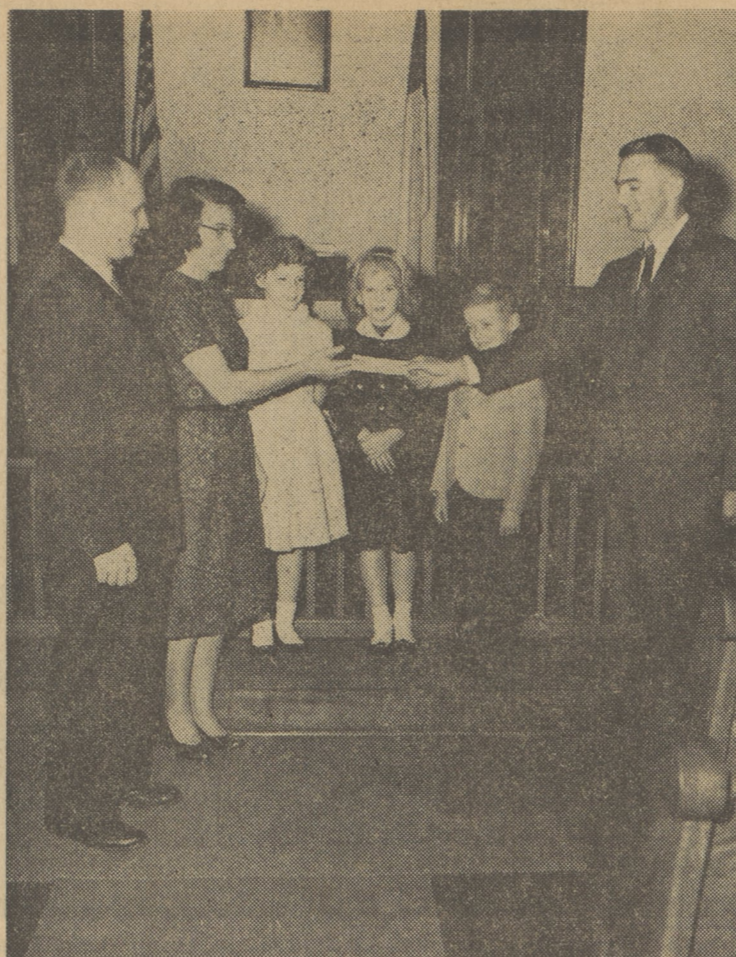

His wife Vida died in 1941. His parents were the late George and Dora Moss Culver.

In addition to his son, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. George West, Grandville, Mass.; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He was buried in Bloomingdale Cemetery Monday afternoon, following services conducted by Rev. Fred Moore from the Bronson Funeral Home.

Announcement

Material for the church page, including church announcements from ministers, MUST be in the hands of the editor by noon on Monday. There is no guarantee that any item will be printed, but items received early have priority. Material will be edited down to save space. There are over sixty churches in the Back Mountain.

First Stone In Foundation Of A New Church

First stone for the new church edifice was laid on Sunday, October 7, when a check for $1,000 was handed to building fund treasurer Mrs. Ruth Zeek by Rev. Grove Armstrong, pastor of Trucksville Free Methodist Church. The gift is from a member of the congregation. Chairman of the new church finance committee and chairman of the board of trustees Wesley Cooper, Jr., looks on as the check is passed. Presence of three children, Theresa Kern, Dorothy Cooper, and Mark Bynon, signifies that the church is building for the future, preparing to minister to a growing community.

Since the picture was taken, another $1,000 check has been received. In the church bulletin September 27, Rev. Armstrong asked for five donors who would each give one thousand dollars for the new church by April 15, date set for groundbreaking ceremonies at the new location beyond Meadowcrest on Carverton Road near the Bunker Hill intersection.

Property was recently purchased by the congregation from Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Crane. Building plans prepared by Edmund Hildebrand and approved by the society October 9, will be submitted to New York Conference Board of Buildings and Locations November 1 for approval or suggestions.

The decision to build a new church was made two years ago. It has now achieved nearly unanimous support of the congregation.

Mr. Schobert was a former resident of Wilkes-Barre.

Extends Sympathy

The community extends sympathy to Mrs. Lovella Coolbaugh, Dallas, whose father, Rool Schobert, 77, died Thursday afternoon at his home in Hancock, N. Y. Burial was in Hanover Green Saturday afternoon.

Local Churches Win Honor Roll Awards

Alderson, Noxen and Trucksville WSCS organizations won Honor Roll certificates October 9 at Wilkes-Barre District WSCS fall meeting, held at First Methodist Church, Pittston.

New curriculum material for children of Methodist Sunday Schools was explained by Mrs. Thurston Shumway, field worker for Wyoming Conference Board of Education. Rev. Leon Bouton, District Superintendent, spoke of the Methodist challenge "Put Christ First," a program for the Philadelphia area from mid-October to mid-November. Mrs. B. Everett Lord presided; Mrs. William Reid, Jr., wife of Rev. Reid of Carverton Charge, led devotions.
