At the time of the accident the doctor's examination could find nothing wrong but later she became drowsy and was taken to her family physician. He ordered x-rays and admittance to the hospital. The x-rays showed pressure and she was confined to her bed.

Local Officer In Alaska Combat Test

Participating recently with other members of the 80th Transportation Company in the annual combat readiness test at Fort Richardson, Alaska, was Army Chief Warrant Officer Dennis J. Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Ferry, 294 Huntsville Road, Dallas.

During the test, which was held in conjunction with the 1st Battle Group, 23d Infantry's readiness test, the unit supported ground operations by flying resupply, troop movement and medical evacuation missions.

Throughout the exercise, Army aviation personnel were graded on their ability to perform combat missions and air transportation in a combat zone.

Ferry, an aviator in the company, entered the Army in August 1947.

The 32-year-old officer is a 1948 graduate of Mexico (N. Y.) Academy.

His wife, Irmgard, is with him at the fort.
