Frederick W. Anderson Writes From Formosa

Frederick W. Anderson, Jr., Shavertown, now assigned to a missionary post in Taichung, Taiwan (Formosa), writes in a letter received Monday by his family that December 25 has just been made a national holiday in this land.

"Because less than 4% of its people are Christians, Christmas could not be designated as a holiday previously. Since this date is also the anniversary of the signing of the constitution, this was given as the reason for giving the day holiday status this year.

President Chiang Kai Shek is a Christian and many of his officials are likewise and this is actually believed to be the reason for proclaiming the new holiday.

Fred spent Christmas Day with friends at the home of a Chinese pastor. He was out caroling with his Chinese Christian friends until the wee hours, with the group being welcomed into many homes along the way.

Fred writes, "My Christmas, this year has been very different from any previous Christmas I have experienced. As much as I missed you all this joyous day, I have rejoiced that I could spend my Christmas with my Chinese Christian brothers. How wonderful the family of Jesus Christ is. I am sure that as the sun circled our world today, its light fell on few, if any, places where the name of our Lord was not being proclaimed. What a miracle that all nations have heard His name and the promise it carries."

The young ministerial student writing his letter at 10:30 p.m., Christmas night, stated that our Christmas Day was just beginning and that it would be 9:30 a.m. here.

Fred is now teaching at the Lutheran Theological Seminary and the Medical College in Taichung. He describes the weather in Taichung as much nicer than Taipei, where it is wet, cold and damp. In Taichung it is more tropical in nature, with the natives most comfortable in light spring jackets.

He frequently visits Taipei where he attended classes, taught and worked in the Lutheran Youth Center, just newly erected, before going to Taichung.

Sandra Smith Becomes Bride Of Robert Endres On Saturday

Sandra Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith, Mt. Zion, became the bride of Robert Endres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Endres, West Pittston, at a lovely holiday wedding, Saturday afternoon at Mt. Zion Methodist Church.

Ceremony was performed by Rev. William Reid. Carol Sutton played the wedding music and Nancy Weimer was soloist. Ferns, white chrysanthemums and poinsettias, highlighted by white tapers in brass candelabra formed a pretty setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore floor length gown of white chantilly lace over peau de soie. The fitted bodice had a Bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. The pleated skirt, embroidered in aurora borealis sequins and crystals, fell into a chapel length train.

Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion fell in four tiers from a crown of crystals and pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white poinsettias and holly leaves, with white orchid, with frosted bells and silver ornaments intertwined throughout. She wore a single strand of matching crystals, gift of the bridegroom.

Ruth Smith, maid of honor and sister of the bride, wore gown of turquoise satin organza made with a scoop neckline, three quarter length sleeves, and a bell shaped skirt, gathered to a bustle in the back. A bow shaped head piece of matching material had a nose length veil.

Bridesmaids, Barbara Taylor, cousin of the bride, and Ann Roberts, the bride's classmate, were similarly dressed. All carried cascade bouquets of white poinsettias and holly leaves.

Sandra Perry, flower girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Perry, Jr., and "nemesake of the bride, was dressed in short gown of turquoise organza made with puffed sleeves and pleated skirt. She wore a holly wreath in her hair and carried a miniature cascade bouquet.

Ringbearer was Bobby Dymond, cousin of the bride, who carried the ring on a heart shaped peau de soie pillow.

Best man was Albert Endres, Jr., brother of the bridegroom; ushers, Drew Smith and Tom Obrutz.

Reception for one hundred and fifty guests was held in the church parlors.

The bride, a graduate of Nesbitt Hospital, was on the staff of that institution. The bridegroom, an alumnus of Lafayette College, is taking graduate work at the University of Missouri in metallurgical engineering.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Cove's Haven, Lake Wallenpaupack, and left Wednesday morning for Hallstead, Missouri, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, the groom's parents, entertained the bridal party at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening. Variety showers were given by Mrs. David Perry, Jr., Carverton, and Misses Roberta and Harriet Taylor, West Wyoming.
