Mt. Zion

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sharpe and daughter Cindy of Norristown spent a weekend recently with Mrs. Sharpe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon VanTuyke.

Came Saturday night before I was to supply the pulpit at the Bethesda Congregational Church in Edwardsville. Snow! Well, you know snow by now. So up at seven to put the snow-blower to work opening the driveway clear to the highway. Next, put on chains on both cars. I've taken to jacking up the wheel for that. Used to lay out the chains and back the car onto them, or over them. I left home about 9:15 to get there ahead of the 10:00 service. Good thing I did, for I had to stop and jack up one wheel three different times on the way to repair with "monkey links".

When I got to the church a man on the sidewalk greeted me with, "So you got here all right didn't you?" He was the janitor, recognized me by my Bible and sermon book. Friendly as could be he was the one who stood in the vestibule after church holding my coat for me! Everybody treated me as if I had always been there, cordial and kind. Didn't know a soul there excepting the organist our own Chucky Johns. Good choir.

Two Changes at Mt. Zion Church

Roy W. Thomas, our young neighbor down the road who is a gifted cabinet maker, has made a literature rack of oak plywood, beautifully finished. He and his father Roy J. Thomas had installed over the worship center in the youth room the electric cross which I made several years ago. It used to hang back of the pulpit and has been waiting for this position in the MYF room for some time. Neatly installed with no wires showing by means of what Roy tells me is a "clock receptacle". A wall switch provides the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kinsey and daughter Tina Patricia are now living in the apartment of Lucy Howell, on the Hicks river road. Mrs. Kinsey is the former Nancy Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lewis. Mr. Kinsey is employed by the Rex Shoe Manufacturing company of Exeter.

When I walk Tuffy around the corner and note how Lewis' barn stands up on the corner exposed to the cold winds I have wondered how the cows stand it. So I asked Dick, who owns the attractive herd, how they stood the cold. He tells me the barn is really so warm that he sometimes has to leave a door open. Come to think of it all those warm bodies in there give off heat and the barn holds it in, for it seems to be well insulated. Had almost forgotten my own days back on the farm! Dick is milking 20 cows, by machine of course. Fortunately has had no break down or power failure to compel him to do it by hand. Wonder how it would be if I kept 3 or 4 cows in our back cellar to help warm the house! In some countries I understand it is done. On the other hand there are other considerations and it might not be a good idea.

We had a flock of evening grosbeaks on the feeder one day last week. They are later than usual, but we don't recall any coming last year.

Any member who would volunteer to do this important work should tell Marie LaBar or Catherine Gilbert. Also needed is someone to send cards to members who are ill. During the social hour the class

SHAVERTOWN

In the good old days when many of us were growing up, neighbors were the salt of the earth. They were the backbone of support whenever tragedy or misfortune befell one of their community. Today it takes an overwhelming disaster to arouse most from their apathy. It is disheartening that this should be so.

There is this day in our community a family torn asunder by sorrow, illness and loss, a family with grass roots in our town, who served us in the past. Life must go on, but the future looks bleak and the way ahead is one of financial hardship against tremendous odds.

Your contributions would greatly lighten the load. I believe you would like to be a part of giving new life and new hope to this family. Containers have been placed in Hall's Pharmacy and Evan's Drug Store labeled "Fund For Our Neighbor." Proceeds will be turned over to the family from these sources of collection. Your kindness will prove somebody cares.
