

Local Minister's Wife Included In Bishop's Tour Of Puerto Rico

Mrs. William Reid, wife of the Methodist pastor at Carverton, recently returned from an 8-day tour of Puerto Rico, one of a group of 28, the only one from Wyoming Conference. San Juan was the port of arrival and of departure. They visited the Methodist churches on the island, the Bishop's School and the Evangelical Seminary.

By school bus they travelled over the mountains to visit churches on the southern shore. These mountains, Mrs. Reid said, have been likened to inverted ice cream cones.

On the trip they also visited the Bishop's Youth Camp. By boat they visited Vieques Island where one missionary is doing a marvelous work. These tourists arrived toward the end of the week when the closing sessions of the Puerto Rico Annual Conference were in progress. Bishop Fred P. Dorson spoke in English and had to be translated through an interpreter for the Spanish-speaking listeners. The Puerto Rican WSCS annual conference was a special fascination for the women of the touring group. Now that she is home Mrs. Reid says she finds herself thinking with "one half of me here and the other half of me still in Puerto Rico!"

Mrs. Reid is Spiritual Life Secretary of the Wilkes-Barre District WSCS and as a licensed local preacher was ordained Local Deacon at the 1961 session of Wyoming Conference.

Rev. Lawry To Attend Insurance Council

Rev. Russell Lawry was elected by the Regional Policyholders Advisory Committee of Nationwide Insurance Companies to represent them at the annual advisory council of policyholders in Columbus, Ohio, in March.

Rev. Lawry and John Albeck of Dallas represented the policyholders of Western Luzerne County at a regional meeting of policyholders in Bloomsburg, with representatives from ten counties in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

92 Years Old, Recovers From Two Broken Arms

A woman of 92 in West Dallas is making medical history by recovering from a plunge down thirteen steps, an accident which left her with two broken arms, a fractured collarbone, and two cracked ribs.

Injured October 18 at the home of her son, Walter Goodman, Idetown florist, Mrs. Margaret Goodman has had her arms free of the casts since December 1. A month later she was able to get out of bed by herself for the first time, and is now regaining cautious use of her arms. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Pilger is assisting in her care.

DAR Hears Director Of Historical Group

The February meeting of Wyoming Valley Chapter DAR, was highlighted by a speech given by Daniel R. MacGivroy, director of the Wyoming Valley Historical and Geological Society. His topic was "The Continuing Effect of the American Revolution."

His talk was based on a lecture delivered by Dr. Arnold Toynbee in Williamsport in 1961, in which he pointed out that present day revolutions around the world are the direct result of our own American Revolution.

Mrs. Jones Evans, first vice Regent, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Robert Hunter read the secretary's report and Mrs. Thomas Bobo, the treasurer's report.

Mrs. L. E. Garinger reported on the American Indian collection.

Hostesses for the tea, which concluded the meeting, were Mrs. Emory Lutes and Mrs. Harry Bogarth. Mrs. Harry Montz and Mrs. George McCord poured.

Huntsville Church To Honor Rev. And Mrs. Frick Sunday

Huntsville Christian Church will honor Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Frick Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 in the social rooms. Rev. Frick has served this church a total of thirty-five years. An interim pastorate in Mt. Rainier, Washington, D.C., divided his years of service into two periods. The Fricks were happy to return to Huntsville where a smaller church awaited them after many years of heavier responsibilities.

Rev. Frick has accepted a call to Benton Christian Church as an interim pastor. He will assume the new position the first of March.

Throughout the years Mr. Frick has encouraged the church in several expansion projects. The general overall program has been greatly improved. He leaves the church with all debts paid.

One seven year old boy expressed his feeling this way, "Now Mr. Frick is going away and we can't have any more winter hikes!" However, the church has already appointed a committee for next year's hike so that this custom started by Mr. Frick will always continue. During the past Christmas holidays the usual winter hike was planned and led by the 85 year old pastor.

The committee for the Sunday affair is Mrs. David Joseph, Mrs. Stella Roberts, Mrs. Walter Covert, and Elma Major.

Everyone is invited including all of the Back Mountain friends of the Fricks.
