Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newman Celebrate 47th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newman, East Dallas, celebrated their forty seventh wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevens, East Dallas.

Mrs. Newman is the former Jennie Jumper, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Jumper of Hanover Township. She spent her early life in Ashley and the Township. Mr. Newman is a native of Cambridge, England. When he to the States he settled in Kingston where he operated a trucking farm on the present Sears Roebuck site in the narrows, Kingston.

The couple was married by Rev. McAlpine in the Scotch Methodist Church, and came to Dallas forty two years ago when Mr. Newman purchased the farm they now own at East Dallas. Part of the farm was purchased by the Dallas School District for the present High School. The Newmans have always been active in the development of the Back Mountain Area. Both were driving forces in the Dallas Fire Company from the beginning. Mr. Newman as president of the Company, Mrs. Newman as president of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Newman, always active, worked diligently for the athletic fence at the present Dallas Junior High School. Many a time she walked from home to the Dallas Post with publicity on it. She has been an outstanding worker at the Back Mountain Library auction, dressing hundreds of dolls, traveling to New York and other central cities to find parts for antique dolls that had to be restring, and distributing left overs to hospitals and children's homes.

They are members of the Dallas Methodist Church.

We at the Post and their neighbors wish them many more years of happiness together!
