Lehman

ORAL ROBERTS RALLY

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ide and Mr. and Mrs. Morton Connelly attended a rally and dinner, given by Oral Roberts and his staff in Scranton at the Armory building, Saturday.

They showed pictures of Oral Roberts in all the different countries and his sermon was translated in their own language, also pictures of the new college they are erecting in Tulsa, followed by a dinner served to 3000 people.

Brother Roberts went among the people and greeted everyone personally.

When leaving the building, all the ladies received a Crusade pin and the men tie clasps, also a book on his life and a Hi. Fi record of the Abundant Life Quartet with 7 hymns on it.

It was a wonderful service.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ide spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Boyd Taylor in Montgomery, Pa.

Scout Troop 241, hiked around Ricketts Glen Saturday: Fred Valentine, Larry Van Sooy, Gary Van Sooy, Robert Pattison, Don Honeywell, Bill Dawe, Robert Disque, Ray Dennis, Joe Doran, Ralph Edwards.

Scoutmaster: William Simms and Gordon Dawe, Jonathan Valentins, Asst. Roy Squier.

The boys prepared a foil dinner, and had a cook out.

W.S.C.S.

Rev. Leon Bouton (District Superintendent) gave a message on the life of "John Wesley". Also installed the district officers.

The following members of Lehman church attended: Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. Randolph Wright, Mrs. Charles Ely, Mrs. Charles Nuss, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Hoover, Mrs. Lillian Hildebrant, and Mrs. Morton Connelly, and Bess Klinetob of Maple Grove Charge.

Fred Valentine had to eat his Dad's hat, it was a bet that there was not any snow there, and Fred lost out. He did not like the flavor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sidler entertained Mr. and Mrs. James W. Teethers and daughter Leigh Ann of Roslyn Pa., Thursday and Friday.

Carverton

In talking with Mrs. Edward Charney the other day I find that she has a son David in Japan. His birthday is this coming Saturday. She says he is in the northern part of Japan and has enjoyed some skiing. By now the snow is all gone.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald and son Jerry, and Mr. and Mrs. David Perry went to Florida last week.

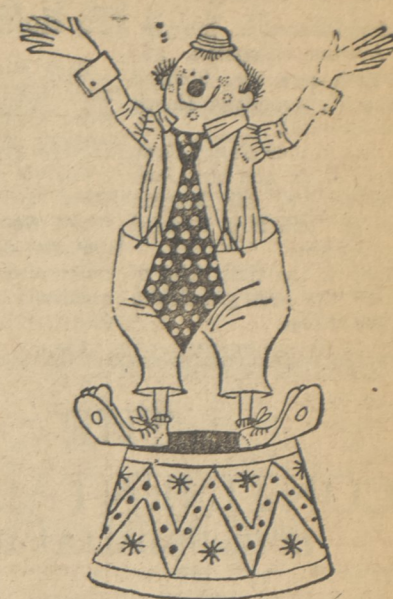

I had a surprise when I dropped in on the Edgar Sutton home. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, formerly of Carverton, neighbor of the Suttons, was visiting them. She lives in Annapolis now but was visiting her son John in Wyoming and took the occasion to visit some old friends. Dick and Naomi Prynne happened to be at the Suttons at the same time. So we had quite a jolly visit. The corner of the store looks like a busy secretary's office, with paper and typewriter. Of course Melinda Sutton is the new church secretary, preparing the weekly bulletins, etc. But she is also one of the district secretaries of the W.S.C.S. and is in the process of typing conference reports. I couldn't help heaving a big sigh and remarking, "I used to have to make out conference reports, too!"

Carol Sutton is the Carverton, Church organist and is delighted with the rebuilt pipe organ. She is taking organ lessons from Clifford Balshow on St. Stephen's Church organ but says she is falling in love with the improved organ in her home church. I used to hand-pump that organ when Professor Edwin Clark was giving Henrietta Bodle and Dorothy Gilbert lessons. It has been reconditioned and the pipes have been retained and tuned. Mr. Bullions of West Pittston did the work. He says it was built about 1840 by Alexander Mills and was the twelfth instrument manufactured by that firm. It was formerly in the West Pittston church, and then in the Luzerne Methodist Church and from there it came to the Carverton church. Albert Schweitzer, the famed missionary doctor and musician of Africa was an authority on pipe organs and praised up the old organ pipes as being as good as they ever were when new. It is right that they were retained in this Carverton organ. And those pipes out front are really pipes that sound, not just ornaments. When I was pastor here Jack Scoble asked if he could try making a mechanical pumper for the organ. I consented when he told me that if it did not work it could be removed and the hand pumping could be resumed. Well, he did fix up a machine made out of an auto transmission that worked a long rod up and down attached to the bellows. But in time the bellows wore out. Now, I understand there is a new electrical producer of the wind necessary for the music. The rebuilt organ was used first on the last Sunday of March and Carol Sutton is most enthusiastic about it. Long live those century old pipes whose tones have mellowed with the years and still reverberate with the praises of God.
