Sunrise Service

By Rev. Charles Gilbert
 It seemed like old times to be preaching at the sunrise service 6 o'clock Easter Sunday morning. Rev. Reid had asked me if I wouldn't like to do that. He was so nice about it, saying that every preacher ought to have a chance to preach an Easter sermon. I said I would. When I went into the studio Elmer DeWitt met me and said, "How long ago was it that you first did a sunrise service here?" I had just stepped over the stone outside that had 1940 engraved on it. I said, "Twenty three years ago." His reply was characteristic: "I didn't think you were that old!"
 Project was a joint production of the Carverton adult choir and the Mt. Zion Intermediate choir. Rev. Reid read the scriptures and offered the prayer and at the end gave the benediction. Chuck Johns was organist. David Werts gave Memorial Shrine's welcome to visitors. Carverton choir was composed of Betty Turner, Dorothy Walp, Algebra Spare, Ruth Ann Shales, Grace Harris, Betty Jean Switzer, Pauline Phillips, Kermit Sickle, George Parrish, Roy Meeker and David Werts. They sang "The Heavens Are Telling".
 From Mt. Zion under the direction of Catherine Gilbert these were the Intermediate choir: Nadine Van Tuyle, Susan LaBar, Sharon LaBar, Jackie VanTuyle, Karen Hronich. They sang "O Sons and Daughters Let us Sing." Larry Earl and Hal Seiple played their trumpets for the combined choir singing "Christ the Lord is Risen Today." Larry also played a descant on the hymn which Catherine had arranged.
