

nits To March n Loyalty Day

Dallas Key Club Marching Units take part in the annual observance of Loyalty Day at Nanticoke, April 27. The Dallas Rifle Team, directed by George McCutcheon, was judged the outstanding unit to participate in the parade the past two years. If it wins again this year, a special trophy will be presented to the unit at a time to be announced.

The Rifle Team will be under the direction of William Wright; Keyettes, Mrs. William Wright; Dallas Junior High School Team, Mrs. William Hanna; and Colorettes, Mrs. Ray Titus. A new Junior Rifle team will make its first appearance.

Loyalty Day, sponsored in Nanticoke by Post 290, Veterans of Foreign Wars, began as a challenge to Communism. The challenge proved so effective that the "Day" now marks the Americans' fervent dedication to their own great cause, "patriotism in action."

Plans for observance of Loyalty Day in the area include widespread display of the Stars and Stripes and a special patriotic program scheduled at the VFW Post Home at which Congressman Daniel J. Flood will be the principal speaker. It is scheduled for 12:30 and will be carried over WNAK radio.

Basketball Camp At Danville, Pa.

Sunnybrook Basketball Camp for Boys, located at Danville, will be in operation for five one-week sessions starting June 23 through July 27.

Camp consists of over 22 acres of wooded and cleared grounds and a large pool for swimming.

Staff is composed of outstanding college basketball coaches and physical educators and experts in the field of growth and development.

College coaches include: John E. WBarr, Susquehanna University. Former All-American at Penn State, played professionally with St. Louis Bombers, and with Sunbury and Wilkes-Barre in the Eastern Professional League. A keen student of the game, his 1962-63 team was runner-up in the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Gene Evans, Bucknell University. A sound fundamentalist who gets the most out of his material. His team has met the best the nation has to offer, St. Joseph, Temple, Pitt, Navy, and LaSalle, etc. His squad was the Maine Invitational Tournament Titalist in 1962.

Bill Gibson, Mansfield State College. One of the nation's top defensive specialists, his teams are known for their tough defensive game. Pennsylvania State College champions 1961-62, runner-up 1962-63, NAAIA Pennsylvania Finalist 1962 and NCAA runner-up 1963.

High School coaches: Bob Aurand, director Danville YMCA. Physical education and recreation specialist.

Chet Doyle, Nescopeck High School. Five year record, 130 wins, 24 losses. 84% winning record.

Eddie Gageski, Northwest High School. Five Valley League championships, two Bloomsburg State College Tourney championships, three years runner-up.

Jake Handzelek, Northwest Area High School. Former Juniata College standout and professional star. Top-nitch defensive specialist.

Jerry Kopec, Montgomery High School. Perennial West Branch League champions, offensive specialist.

Guy Long, Danville High School. Four times champions of Susquehanna Junior High School Basketball League. Co-champions Susquehanna Valley Junior Varsity League, 1961-62 Overall record 98 wins, 8 losses.

Joe Maier, Penn State University, Bloomsburg State College. Fancy dribbling champion. Coach of Washington, N. J., Junior High School.

Walter McCloskey, coach of Danville High School, Susquehanna Valley Basketball League champions four years, 1958-59, 1959-60, 1961-62, and 1962-63. Pennsylvania State quarter finalist, Class A, 1962-63.

Jim Snyder, O. J. Roberts High School, Pottstown. Former college and professional star, former staff member of Clair Bee's All-American Basketball School.

The Sunnybrook Basketball Camp is open to boys 10 through 18 years of age who are in good health and eager to improve their basketball playing ability.

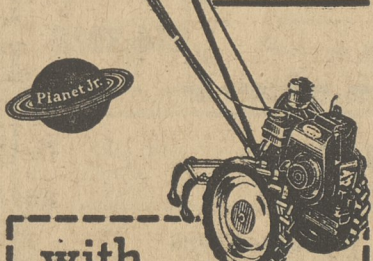

Enrollment is limited to thirty boys per week in order to provide individual instruction for each player.

The all-inclusive fee includes instruction, certificate, play technique booklets, camp notebooks, T-shirt, swimming, meals, lodging, counseling and insurance.

Early applicants given priority in reservations.

Write to Sunnybrook Basketball Camp for Boys, Box 5, Danville, Pennsylvania, or call Danville, Area Code 717, 275-1678.

Frederick Eugene Davis, Huston's Feed Service, Dallas, was one of 55 Purina dealer personnel selected from Pennsylvania to attend a General Poultry Feeding Advisory School March 28 at Palmyra.

Poultry specialists conducted the sessions, which were devoted primarily to pullet starting and growing. The latest techniques in poultry management and nutrition were discussed.

Theme of the school was "How to help poultrymen make more profits."
