A most enthusiastic report has come regarding a community-wide project illustrative of whole-hearted cooperation on the part of our people. For instance, the volunteer fire company has been in the habit of conducting a coin-card drive. This year there was combination of efforts by the Fire company, the Ambulance Association and the Cancer appeal. There were about thirty workers out canvassing the homes. Report came to me that the whole thing was highly successful in number of workers enlisted and response to the united appeal.
