Fifth Graders With Junior League At Sweetland Homestead
 Pictured above are some students of the fifth grade of Back Mountain schools, with members of the Junior League at the doorway of the Sweetland homestead in Wyoming. Identification of the children is impossible, due to crowding. Junior Leaguers are Mrs. Charles Lemmond Jr. and Mrs. Houston Day on the left, Mrs. Thomas Turner and Mrs. Thomas Heffernan Jr. on the right. Yesterday and today, these students along with other fifth grade children, are visiting the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society building to see the historical exhibits on transportation, minerals, Indian and early settler relics shown by Daniel MacGilvray, director of the society. Accompanying the children are their classroom teachers and William A. Austin, supervisor of Dallas elementary schools. League volunteers include Mrs. J. Houston Day, Mrs. Charles Lemmond, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Spruth, Mrs. Richard Hogoboom Jr., Mrs. Richard Pearsall, Mariellen Daw, and Mrs. Thomas Heffernan.
