Shavertown

Shavertown crossroads is certainly undergoing a rapid change. Tschler's old store has disappeared and Bessie Brace's former coffee shop will be leveled by the time this goes to press. Rave's former stand is also down. One is really amazed at the fast process of demolition. A fairly good sized piece of Ed Hall's parking lot will be taken, and the old shoemaker shop and gas station of Phil Walters is soon scheduled to hit the dust. Let's hope road construction will likewise proceed at a like pace.

We were talking to a resident the other day, who although he had traveled the highway daily could not picture the roadside dwellings as they were several weeks ago. Many will find the same confusion as time marches on, but we are happy that the accumulation of further debris will not litter our highway stretches.

STRANGE ELECTION RESULTS

It was disappointing that in an important election concerning local matters of importance only 518 citizens saw fit to vote.

Shavertown for the first time is now without a representative on the school board. So is Carvorton.

It is rather disturbing that the community failed to back its own candidate, a man who opens each school board meeting with a prayer and publicly expressed his belief in greater economy which is what the final vote disclosed to be the desire of the populace.

Such was the case with a former Shavertown resident candidate who holds an important county school post.

Ted Poad was returned to office and is mighty grateful to his neighbors and friends. He will join Fred Eck and Allan Nichols as township auditor.

LATE FROST

A heavy frost on Friday morning played havoc with many fruit trees and tomato plants set out by gardeners last week. The old timers say that it was always safe previously to plant the young vines by

May 15 since all danger of frost should be past according to gardening almanacs.

It was very pleasant to hear that the Shavertown Fire Auxiliary may help out the cancer dressing program. Mrs. Ray Kopetchny, whose husband is in Veteran's Hospital, was the lady responsible. It is nice to know that those who have their own problems have time to think of others. So many fail to consider anything but themselves. My deep appreciation also for the kind donation to our Cancer Drive. Our best wishes also go to Ray,

VISIT BY BEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brown, Chase Road, had an exciting day last Sunday. It was the sixteenth wedding anniversary of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Brown of Chase Road, and they were having a family dinner for them and their children Linda, Shirley, Richard, Gary and Wesley.

In the afternoon Wesley went into the bathroom and blocked the sink and turned on the water. He had the fun of watching the water run over the sink, and all over the floor and then had the fun of watching the adults mop up for an hour or so.

This would have been enough excitement for one day, but not this time. Around dusk, what was first thought to be a big black cat turned out to be a big black bear in the back yard. It was not more than eight feet away from Mr. Brown. Several others saw it, and it wasn't long before a crowd gathered. After Mr. Brown got over his shock, he started running and clapping his hands, and the bear took off over the wall.

Needless to say he left a group of excited people, who were counting bears that night instead of sheep.

Dallas Post Office To Give Out Survey

Postmaster Ed Buckley of the Dallas Post Office announced today that Rural Mail Carriers (and Star Route Carriers have begun to distribute the 1963 Livestock Survey cards Saturday, May 18th. The cards will be placed in mail boxes of a sample of farmers served by the Dallas Post Office.

This survey is one of two State-wide surveys conducted cooperatively each year by the Post Office and Agriculture Departments. These surveys serve as the basis for estimating numbers of livestock on farms; livestock production; the size of the pig, calf, lamb and wool crops; and the number of chickens raised. This information is of considerable importance to farmers, the livestock industry, industries serving agriculture, public agencies and the general public.

Postmaster Buckley urges each patron receiving a card to complete the report as fully as possible and return it to the carrier promptly to assure that our locality is adequately represented.
