

Library Auction Chairmen Plan Final Session

Will Be Guests Of David Schooley At Country Club

Tonight, chairmen and co-chairmen of committees for the 17th Library Auction will meet at 8 in the Library Auction will meet at 8 in the Library Auction will meet at 8 in the sun-room at Irem Country Club, guests of David Schooley, president of the Library Association, and Atty. Robert Fleming general chairman.

Reports from all chairmen will be received, their last formal meeting until the Auction is over. Committee chairmen have held their own meetings, and the Auction is rolling.

Bob Bachman, chairman of Auctioneers, announced at a recent meeting of his committee names of men who will man the block, all of them experienced auctioneers: Myron Baker, John Vivian, Robert Laux, Atty. Mitchell Jenkins, Dick Demmy, Doc Jordan, and Bob himself.

Workers for general solicitation, under Mrs. Roger Owens, are combing the area. Commonwealth Telephone Company will supply trucks for transportation to the Barn of heavy or bulky items.

An ancient sleigh, one-horse model, is sitting in the side yard of the Risley home.

Ziba Smith, drafted for the job of putting together the grounds, swung into action the past weekend. Already erected are framework for the booths.

Mrs. Arthur Newman is working like a Trojan, dressing dolls for her booth.

Refreshment chairman Mrs. Howard Wiley has plans in order, and plants are going to pot for the Plants and Produce.

Frank Huttman is seeing to distribution of posters in the Back Mountain, north to Montrose, south to Berwick, east to the Pocomo resort area.

Key Club members are not only cleaning out the Barn, reassembling left-overs from last year to create space for this year's influx of goods, but forming the mainstay of Ziba Smith's crew on setting up the grounds.

Mrs. Mitchell Jenkins' Antiques Committee is accumulating some lovely glassware, brass, and china, in addition to interesting furniture.

Chance books for the Windsor bench donated by Mrs. Howard Risley are already in circulation. The bench will be prominently displayed under a canopy at the end of the Antique Display table.

Mrs. Newman has financed a Columbia bicycle to be chanced off as one of her doll-booth projects.

The new car, a 1963 Valiant, is parked this week at Malkemes Service station in central Dallas. Last week it was at Clyde Birth's, next week it will be on display at the Sunoco Station in Shavertown, and the last week at Cities Service, Trucksville. All these stations, says Ernest Gay, chairman of the car chances, have books of coupons for sale. Drawing will be the climax of the Auction late Saturday night July 11.

Ben Jones, III Admitted To Bar

Legal tradition in a local family continues into its third generation with the admission Monday of Benjamin Rowland Jones, III, 25, son of Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Benjamin R. Jones, Jr., Shrine View, to Luzerne County Bar.

Judge Jones was his son's preceptor. Motion for the young Lawyer's admission to the bar were made by the same lawyers who so moved for his father. Ceremony was held in Courtroom 2, where the late President Judge Benjamin R. Jones and Justice Benjamin R. Jones, Jr., were admitted to the bar.

Ben's mother was the late Dorothy Richards Jones, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Richards, Dallas, widow of Morgan R. Richards.

The young attorney is a graduate of Wyoming Seminary, Princeton University, and Temple Law School.

After a tour of duty in the army, for which he leaves for Fort Sill, Oklahoma, tomorrow, he will be associated with the law firm of Bedford, Waller, Griffith, Darling and Mitchell.

William Kelley, 42 Has Severe Attack

After he suffered a severe heart attack in his home at 55 Columbia Avenue, Saturday night at 11:50, William Kelley, Jr., 42, was hurried to Mercy Hospital by ambulance.

He is reported improving, and was removed from the oxygen tent Sunday night.

Himself a faithful and reliable volunteer crew-member of Dallas ambulance, Bill got the best possible service from his fellow workers Bob Besecker, Les Tinsley, Ralph Fitch, and Gil Morris.

Fireman Flattened By 325 Pound Blast

Volunteer fireman Les Tinsley, not an easy man to knock flat, was nonetheless knocked flat by a wild high pressure hose at Dr. Henry M. Laing Company fire drill Tuesday night.

He and Jim Davies were bringing the hose to bear on an objective at Klug's Pond when the hose, carrying about 325 pounds pressure, jumped out of their grasp.

The stream caught Les in the mid-section, knocked the wind out of him, and threw him to the ground.

Dallas Jr. High Presents Awards

The following awards were given in Assembly on Friday, June 14, 1963, at Dallas Junior High School:

Receiving emblems for points earned for Honor Roll and school activities — Scott Alexander, Elva Costello, Nancy Covert, David Hess, Jeff Townsend, Linda Wimmer, Ann Barnes, Barbara Brown, Susan Banks, Bonnie Brobst, Robert Graham.

James Steinhauer, Todd Richards, Reba Heidel, Gail Hughes, Lee Isaac, Ida Gillespie, Barbara Hauck, Frederick Mintzer, Howard Weiner, Lenore Kennedy, Scott Fry, David Kozick, John Evenson.

Ruth Higgins, Robert Kelley, Chris Grose, Janet Balshaw, Debbie Savickas, Donna Smith, Roy Supulski, Debbie Slater, Sandy Tait, Steve Townsend, Myra Berti, Pam Baker, Kerry Roberts, Rosellen Klabe, Robert Bayer, Roger Cheney, Kim Roddy, Russell Eyet.

The following students received certificates in recognition of outstanding performance on the Spring 1963 National Educational Development Tests:

Richard Mendelsohn, Frederick Mentzer, David Green, James Steinhauer, Howard Weiner, Galvin Tinsley, George Mahler, Jeffrey Townsend, Donald Lawson, Todd Richards, David Hess, Scott Alexander.

Robert Graham, James Williams, Lee Isaac, Patricia Bauman, Patricia Sicker, Sara Otto, Linda Taylor, Janet Kelley, Amy Hetrick, Joyce Hughes, Gail Hughes, Elva Costello, Colleen Conaghan, Bonnie Rood, Helen Edwards, Mary Antanitis, Cynthia Konsavage, Russell Williams, James Yarnal.

Awards presented for Audio-Visual Aid Club: Robert Graham, Russell Stoss, John Butler, David Kozemchak, Robert Berlew, Russell Montedonico, John Evenson, Roger Maury, Marc Davies, Roger Cheney, Thomas Ziegler, David Kapson.

Awards present to Music Librarians: Elva Costello, Donna Smith, Karen Tag, Pat Aleknavich, Diane Schweiss.

Sponsor and music instructor — Alfred M. Camp.

Sponsor and music instructor — Alfred M. Camp.

Firemen Hoist New Siren

The new two-tone siren for Dr. Henry M. Laing Fire Company is shown being positioned by crane Monday afternoon on a forty-five foot pole directly behind the old siren.

Location is behind the borough building. Siren was to be tested as soon as Commonwealth Telephone Company could anchor it against vibration.

Old siren was some thirty-five

Legion Awards At Gate Of Heaven

Michael Magnifico and Nina Shiner won American Legion awards at commencement exercises held for members of Gate of Heaven graduating class.

Joseph Kusiak won the arithmetic award, and Mary Sgarlet the award for proficiency in English.

Michael is son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Magnifico, Burndale Road; Nina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shiner, Sterling Avenue. Joseph is son of Mr. and Mrs.

Dallas Rotary Installs New Officers

Shown above are incoming officers of Dallas Rotary Club who were installed last Thursday night at Irem Temple Country Club by Past District Governor Elmer Daniels.

Seated left to right: Walter Moore, incoming Vice-President; Myron Baker, incoming President; John N. Landis, out-going President.

Standing: Earl Phillips, Secretary; Jack Stanley, Director; Daniel Chapman, Director; Harry Goeringer Jr., Director; W. E. Jeter, Treasurer; James Hutchinson, Sergeant-At-Arms; Leslie Warhola, Director; Elmer Daniels.

Ten Explorer Scouts On Way Down The Susquehanna On Annual Paddle

On their way down the Susquehanna are five canoes with ten paddlers, making the annual trip which has become a tradition of Shavertown Explorer Scouts. But this year there is a difference.

John Butler is not with the flotilla. Jim McGoog, assistant leader, is taking the responsibility, because of the Butler family's imminent departure by plane for Germany.

The Butler car accommodated two canoes, the Rockin' Robin and the Yellow-Jacket, on its roof when the drive to Owego, N. Y., started Sunday afternoon. Other canoe-bearing cars belonged to Jim McGoog and Mike McDonough.

The 113 mile canoe trip agenda this year includes a stopover at Standing Rock, a camp site selected last year as a possibility.

Today, it's Wyalusing, and tomorrow Camp Sterrett, Saturday either Tunkhannock or Falls.

Explorers developing their tan on the Susquehanna include Richard Konnick, William Carroll, Michael McGoog, Thomas Spela, Charles Dunn, Stephen Silic, Pat and Dan Malloy, and Robert Wolensky.

One More Night Of The Fiesta

One more night of the Fiesta at Gate of Heaven. Last night was a sellout at the family style dinner, with hot clear weather to bring out the crowd. Booths in the parking lot behind the school were mobbed all evening. With good weather expected again today, a repeat performance is practically guaranteed.

Incident involved a short fist fight earlier in the month and the use of a family car, after one of the boys lent his friend the key to the car for him to sit in it, and the transgressor drove the car around the parking lot. The court found them delinquent for car tampering.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Gary M. Smith Gets College Scholarship

Gary M. Smith, Kunkle, son of Garvin P. Smith and the late Mrs. Smith, who suffered a fatal heart attack the night of her son's graduation from Dallas High School, has won a scholarship to college.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

American Legion awards go to the eighth grade boy and girl who in the opinion of school faculty and the American Legion, best typify the characteristics which make America strong.

John Sheehan's crew is on duty until 12 midnight Sunday.

For the following week: Ed Roth, captain; Charles Plack, Tony Zachary, and Lane Jarrett.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Announcement was made by Mother Mary Regina RSM, Mother General.

Four Boys Cleared Of Assault Count

Juvenile Court, disclosed last week that four local boys, one of whom was the alleged victim, were cleared by lie detector of further implication in the beating of Daniel Yanchick, Bunker Hill, by several assailants at Dallas Junior High School April 29.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Three boys, two from Shavertown and one from Dallas borough, were cleared by the polygraph of charges of aggravated assault brought by Dallas Township police for the incident, and Yanchick, 15, was cleared on his story to police that the lavatory, in which he was grabbed from behind, held, and hit by several boys, was too dark for him to identify his attackers.

Element of the bizarre entered into the case, since the incident, which was of considerably more importance to the rest of the world than to the boys involved, led to the declaration of two, one of whom was Yanchick, as delinquent by the Court.

Russ Has New Car

Chief of Police Russell Honeywell is sporting a brand new tan four door sedan, which he purchased this week after trying many brands and enlisting the advice of friends. He finally bought the one he originally wanted.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

Border Guard Says Big Fire In Dallas

Returning from a fishing trip in Canada this week, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Thompson and Squire and Mrs. Leonard Harvey got a strange welcome to the U.S.A.

The immigration official halted the car, leaned over to Squire Harvey who was driving his own car, and said: "Go right on through, and hurry! There's a big fire in Dallas."

Scratching their heads, the travelers drove across the line, and abruptly recalled the flashy "Dallas Fire Company" plate on the front of the Harveys' car.

Clock Registers 91

Time 'n Temp. clock on the front of Miners Bank building, Main Street, flexed its muscles yesterday to register a comfy 91 degrees at 4 p.m., the highest since its installation.

Post To Publish One Day Early

The Dallas Post will publish one day early next week, because of the Fourth of July. Correspondents, ministers, civic leaders, get your material to the Post on Saturday.

More Blood Relayed By State Police Car

State police car screaming through Kingston Township, Dallas, and Lehman Monday afternoon, with siren and lights going, was another emergency blood relay from Wilkes-Barre Red Cross to Williamsport Hospital.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

A similar rally was seen passing through Saturday, the 15th.

&lt;