Elect Deborah Rogers State Vice President

Frances Slocum Society, Children of the American Revolution, received two state awards, a first for Radio-Television Work, and a second for Press Relations, at the nineteenth annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Division in Uniontown. Besides the business sessions there was a swim party and picnic, a luncheon, a tour, and a dinner-dance.

The local society saw its vice president, Deborah Rogers, elected to the state office of Central District Vice President.

A resolution sponsored by the local group urging the state society to support the nation-wide campaign for Fourth of July bell-ringing was passed unanimously.

The family of Dr. Lewis L. Rogers 3rd, Shavertown, attended the conference en masse. Making the trip, besides the Doctor and his wife were Patricia, the local society's president; Deborah, the vice president; Lewis and Susan; Mrs. Coray Miller, past regent of the Wyoming Field Chapter, DAR, which sponsors the local group, and Mrs. Edgar May.

All the local young people were voting delegates. The next meeting of the Frances Slocum Society will be held in July at Mehoopany, where a report on the convention will be given.

Kookie left Saturday afternoon by bus to Harrisburg, and by train to Cleveland, where he will take a two week cruise aboard the U.S.S. Whitehall P.C.E.R.

Seaman Apprentice Daubert is a member of the Kingston Naval Reserve, Surface Division 458.

Lewin Grandchildren Honored At School

Dorothy Janus Lewin, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Walter W. Lewin of Riverside, Calif., was one of ten of the 462 graduates of Central Junior High School to be nominated to the Honor Student Group for the Freshman year of 1963. Janus was also first-place winner in the Spanish Comprehension Field Day at Valley View College in San Bernardino, where all schools in Southern California were represented and competed in the Field Day; Janus receiving a gold cup for being a first-place winner.

As an art student, her drawing for the cover for the Commencement exercises was selected.

Walter W. Lewin, Jr., is currently attending the summer program of Academically Gifted Students at Gage Junior High School.

Both students are grandchildren of the late Mrs. Anna M. Lewin of this area and have visited with their aunt and uncle—Mr. and Mrs. Z. S. Harmond of Shavertown.
