POLIO VACCINE

Everything is in readiness for the "Stop Polio" Program Sunday. Mrs. Fred Eck reports 40 volunteers, and Mrs. Edward Gilroy a like number, to handle the large group expected to take advantage of the Sabin oral vaccine.

OFF AGAIN

Well after seven weeks of activity, and happiness, Freddie is gone again, this time nearly half way across the nation, back to classes to continue preparation for his ultimate goal.

The house is strangely silent for the lively tales will no longer be told, the continuous good humor and dry wit, the anecdotes of wisdom and philosophy, the frequent discussions of predominant issues and lastly the understanding and affection will be missing for some time.

Even after five years of long absences it is impossible to dismiss that twinge of heartache at parting and one cannot fail to glimpse the tremor in Susie's voice as the companion of her adolescent years departs.

It is good that she is still with us to give everyday a pleasant touch and carry on some semblance of the days that used to be.

We are also grateful that Freddie's recent surgery left him improved enough to travel.

In homes nearby, there will be others leaving the familiar hearthside. Alice and Malcolm Borthwick will be a bit lonely too as Tommie and Jim test new frontiers at Penn State and the University of Pennsylvania.

George Jacobs, after a busy summer of plucking corn, will be returning to Amherst and his sophomore year. Jack and Marilyn Eck will soon be departing for Muhlenberg and Susquehanna University after a summer at camp, and the youngsters will be helping their parents get ready for the PTA Fair.

SYMPATHY

The sincere sympathy of her friends in this community is extended to Mrs. T. M. B. Hicks in her recent bereavement.

SETS UP PROGRAM

A busy man these days is Bob Crosson, who is doing a bang-up job as the new YMCA secretary. He has a schedule planned for the coming months which should keep everyone busy at the activity they prefer. Bob is a definite asset to our community.

Poor Carl Dymond, Evergreen Street, had a busy weekend answering the phone and assuring eager dog lovers that he had no chihuahuas for sale. Seems like someone was pulling a joke, or used the wrong name when placing an ad.

NEW VARIETY

The Borthwick yard is lovely with the tallest geraniums we have seen. Doc takes them in for the fall and winter, keeping the hearty stems in a greenhouse. Growing along side is a tall Easter lily gorgeous with many blossoms.

ing for. The men have been working very hard on it, and it is now the best road we have in Lehman.

Wait and See class of the Methodist church are still working on, and still have the desire to have, a public address system in the church, but the project has been delayed as we must take care of first things first. There has been a new water pump installed in the parsonage, and we know Rev. Tiffany and his wife will appreciate that.

Friendship class was entertained recently at the home of Mrs. David Eddy, and Mrs. James Cook assisted. Mrs. Marge Barnes presided. Vera Hoover led devotions, Alice Elston gave secretary's report and Elsie Ely gave the report on the rummage sale in Luzerne. Their next project will be a bakeless bake sale next month. In other words instead of baking a pie, they will pay the price of it.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. Eston Adelman and Mrs. Allen Fox.
