Dorothy Lonie and John Pall, Jr. Wed In Lovely Fall Ceremony

At a very pretty fall wedding, solemnized in Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Lake Silkworth, on September 28 at 9 A. M., Miss Dorothy Lonie, Sweet Valley, became the bride of John Pall, Jr., Hunlock Creek. Rev. J. Barlik performed the double ring ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass. Soloist was Miss Kathleen Farber.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, the bride was attired in a white floor length gown of silk organza and chantilly lace. It was designed with a semi-Sabrina neckline, wedding ring bodice, and long tapered sleeves to the wrist. The silhouette skirt of silk organza featured a lace flounce which was caught by dainty bows and the aisle width train was chapel length. She wore a matching Queen's crown of pearls and crystals which was arranged in a bouffant veil of French imported illusion. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons centered with an orchid. She also wore a gold cross, a gift of the bridegroom. The bride was feted at a shower given by her maid of honor, Miss Donna Pall.

cocktail length dress of yellow nylon over taffeta with a fitted brocade bodice. Her headpiece was a crystal crown with a bouffant face veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of bronze pompons. James Casserella, Drums, served as best man.

The bridegroom's mother chose a gold suit with a matching hat and black accessories and a corsage of bronze pompons. The bride's grandmother selected a blue dress with a cranberry hat and a corsage of white pompons.

A breakfast was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, after which the couple left on a trip south.

For going away, the bride chose a three piece charcoal knit suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Mr and Mrs. Pall are graduates of Lake-Lehman High School. The groom is employed by Eckrodt Body Works, Conyngham, where the couple have purchased a home.

MISS DEB

... answers questions about Junior Miss etiquette, grooming and interests.

Q. A friend of mine has telephone-his. She keeps me on the phone for hours at a time and my family is wild. How can I cut it short without cutting off her friendship?

A. A telephone is definitely a family affair. Hour-long chats rate zero in the family popularity poll. If your pal is wound up for a long session, plunge in at the first comma, make a date to see her soon (like tomorrow after school) and tell her you really want to talk about it then.

Q. Does baby sitting include K. P.? One of my "clients" always leaves a sink full of dirty dishes — even tells me to mop up the floor. Since there are three active children I think I have enough to do just "sitting." Do I have the right to say no?

A. Yes. Settle the chore question before you accept the next assignment. Your client should tell you what chores she expects you to do aside from caring for the children. If you don't mind — and many girls don't — fine. If you do — or if you feel it interferes with your primary responsibility of supervising the children — parents will appreciate your being frank about it. Of course, as an employee you always have the right to accept or refuse a baby sitting assignment.

Q. My mirror tells me my figure isn't too bad, but I do have a tendency to slump. I try to remember to square my shoulders, but as soon as I stop thinking about it, my shoulders begin to droop.

A. What you need is a sticky reminder. While you assume your very best prom-queen posture, have your mother put a strip of adhesive tape across your back from shoulder to shoulder. Every time you start to droop, a gentle tug from the tape will remind you to keep 'em square.

(For answers to other questions on grooming, beauty and baby sitting write for your two-in-one guidebook "Sitting Beauty." Send 25 cents, plus 10 cents for handling to: "Sitting Beauty," Box 512, Kimberly-Clark Corporation, Neenah, Wisconsin.)
