Dottie writes from Leopoldville: This has been a pretty unusual week though sometimes it seems as all weeks are like that in the Congo, especially in the bush. Thursday night, Koi asked me to see a ten year old boy who had signs of intestinal obstruction. Dr. H. had gone on a trip to Lodia. I saw the boy and from his history and symptoms feared he might have started to have gangrene. What a spot! Paul and I decided to send o note to Tshumbe asking for the W. H. O. doctor to come, or his assistant, authorized to operate dur- ing his absence. Turns out he was Uwadj'ati Victor, my old and dear friend of years back. He answered | gangrene, we would do a temporary colostomy and let the doctor join the ends together later because anastamosis takes a lot of prac- tice. Victor said he had done one before, which was one more than either Paul or I had done. Again I did the cutting, found it was ad- hesions causing the obstruction, freed as many as possible. Some were up behind the liver and we were afraid to touch them. Could have been the result of an amebic liver abscess. I sewed this patient up with Vic- tor giving suggestions. He was very cautious, doing everything the way Dr, Sterberg had taught him. Of course the best part of the whole thing is that mother and |
