Shavertown

SIDELIGHTS

The community witnessed a good turnout on Election Day with 822 casting their vote. Trucksville had 904 and Carverton, 162.

Shavertown failed to follow the majorities built up in the other two communities for the democratic candidate, Farrar.

Several write-ins were noted here, one vote for Mrs. Barbara Lohman for auditor, two for Charles Masneer for school director, one for W. Wright also for school director and one for Morris Slater for supervisor.

Ziegler received a total of 745 votes and Ted Poad 736 locally on both tickets for the offices of supervisor and auditor.

FLOAT IN PARADE

Shavertown Fire Company's crepe paper model of an antique six man pumper which appeared in the Rotary Fair parade at Lehman was in such excellent condition the boys decided to enter the attractive float in the down town Veteran's Day parade on Sunday.

Also a three day rain helped considerably to penetrate the open ground, another spell of warmer dry weather could again raise the hazard of fire in the local woodlands, where trees and brush presented a good soaking. Caution is still urged.

SUCCESSFUL HUNTER

It was Walter Gosart, Jr., whom I mentioned as a young hunter last week and not his father, Walter bagged a fat rabbit Tuesday after school and another on Saturday.

Also out after game on the weekend were Obed Hontz and son, Billy.

Mrs. Walter Karl was the person who had cared for the helpless kitten and would like to find it a home as her older cat does not take kindly to an intruder.

BIRTHDAYS

Greetings this week to Robin Campbell, Wayne Troxell, Winnie Jones Bowcock, Vera Wall, Milton Whiting, David Nafus, Dr. John Blase, Diane Louise Nagle, Thomas Appel, Berton Riley, Thomas H. Morgan, William G. Prater, Lena Veely, Mrs. Charles Peake, Malcolm James Kitchen.

Karen Kitchen, Todd Curtis Bynon, Judith MacAvoy, Arthur Roberts, Sr., Evelyn Daley, Bill Alexander, Pearl M. Johnson, Lisa Holman.

Beverly Okoneski, daughter of Mrs. Mary Pudimott, and Carol Archavage, received confirmation at the Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Sunday at 7:30 P.M. Margaret Jones, Nanticoke, was their sponsor. This correspondent has received several telephone calls relative to installation of a fourth stop sign at Chase Corners. Some were of the opinion that signs on Larksville Mountain road should be removed and placed on Chase road on both sides, as, due to heavy foliage at Chase Corners, it is impossible for a motorist coming up the Chase Road to get a clear view. Some agreed with me that stop signs should be placed on all four corners instead of only the three corners at present. At least no one would go through the stop at full speed.

Mrs. Clarence Elston has returned home after spending some time visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyrsh, Binghamton. Mr. Wyrsh underwent surgery on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

State Highway Department should erect a large sign warning of the sharp 90 degree curve at the foot of Gardecki Hill on the Lake Silkworth-Chase Road, as several bad accidents have occurred at this point. Oscar Bartlett's property receives most of the damage caused by cars not being able to make the sharp curve. At the present time a small sign, indicating a curve ahead, is erected near this sharp curve. The absence of the Yellow Center Line on this road is badly missed especially on foggy mornings, which will become more prevalent with the approach of winter weather.

W.S.C.S. of Huntsville Methodist Church will hold their last Noon Public Dinner of the year today.

Sun Pipe Line Company has completed the raising, replacing and insulating their oil pipe line throughout this region, which work consisted of widening of right-of-way, to enable the airplane observer to better see and follow the pipe line. The work was originally done by a man who walked the pipe line to check for leaks and tampering of lines. The company raised the old line and replaced pipe, and insulated and returned the pipe underground. Due to unusual dry weather, they were able to complete all work on the line up to Lake Silkworth Road, where they will stop operations for the Winter and resume same in the Spring.

The Preaching Mission held at the Alderson Methodist Church last week by Rev. Fred Eister was very well attended and very inspirational. The mission was planned by members of the Commission on Evangelism and Membership from the four charge churches Kunkle, Alderson, Ruggles, and Noxen, with members participating each night in the service. The choirs from each church were a fine contribution to the services. On Friday night, the last service, all churches were represented in the pulpit, and a large congregation attended. A fellowship hour followed in the church basement, and lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Clark spent the week-end in Baltimore visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Yellalonis.

It was quite the sight on Sunday afternoon to see the formations of jet planes zooming across the sky in observance of Veteran's Day. Many silent prayers were offered for the 53,000 service men killed in World War I and the 291,000 service men killed in World War II. It has only been ten years that the last major war ended, and we can be grateful that the planes flew over head in peace and not in terrible destruction.

Harry Cisco, Toluba Trailer Camp, has returned home after a stay in General Hospital.
