The Glory Of An Organ

By Rev. Charles H. Gilbert

It was a deeply spiritual experience to hear the "Recital in Dedication of the New Schlicker Organ" last Sunday night at Green Ridge Presbyterian Church in Scranton, which had invited Clifford E. Balshaw, F.A.G.O., organist at St. Stephen's to bring out the best in this new organ. A page in the program leaflet about the organ itself, was a new idea to me who had thought of an organ merely as an instrument. "An organ is an expression of goodness, truth and beauty in tone." Further the brochure states, "In a sense the building of an organ is a medieval kind of thing. It demands complete devotion to an idea that must often transcend personal comfort and even necessities." And the last line concludes "Here then is an instrument through which revelation may be manifest in its fullest glory."

This instrument of divine wonder called for a man with a soul thoroughly imbued with the spirit of sacred music coupled with a skill which itself is the result of "complete devotion to an idea" to turn on the light of musical illumination.

The organ was something new in design to me, in that hundreds of the pipes are exposed to full view, such pipes as I had never seen excepting by crawling in through a narrow door behind the console. One looked at those gleaming pipes first on one side of the chancel and then the other almost expecting to see something moving up there as the sounds came ripping or rumbling from the loft.

Clifford Balshaw was devotionally at home with such an organ. Those of us who know him felt something of the thrill of such a combination of an organ of marvellous design and a man of supreme dedication to his art.

Yacht Club Sponsors Girl Scout Mariners

Girl Scout Mariner Troop for this area is now definitely sponsored by the Harveys Lake Yacht Club. Twenty-four of our senior high school girls are interested in the proposed program. To learn a little more about Mariner Scouting, these girls visited a Mariner Troop in Kingston last week.

Mrs. Jack Barnes, leader, says that meetings will start shortly, probably right after Thanksgiving. This is a program that is planned for twice a month schedule rather than every week. Mrs. Barnes will be assisted by Barbara Evans and Mrs. George Bauman.

Alderson Prepares For Its 75th Anniversary

Alderson Methodist Church is preparing to observe its 75th anniversary in mid-December. Not the anniversary of the edifice, explains Rev. Fred Eister, pastor of Alderson Charge, but anniversary of the congregation which was founded several years before the present church building was constructed.

A committee of seventy-five is supplying material for the historical committee, which delves into old records and family notes as well as statistics kept on record in the church, since the days when meetings were held in a railway car at Alderson.

Prizes will be awarded to the person turning in the most memberships; the largest number of new memberships; and the greatest number of renewals.

There will be a Senior High Canteen Dance on Friday, November 22, at 8:30 at the Back Mountain Y. A small admission is required.
