In Tribute To Their Fallen Chief
Marnes Stand Silent On Okinawa

By a Mt. Zion Boy, E. W. LaBar, per C. H. Gilbert

"It was a cool November day and the wind blew with its fall chill from the North. The American Flag flew silently at half staff as a calm and almost complete silence fell upon the field. This is how it took place at Headquarters Battalion, 3d Marine Division (Rein), FMF Camp Hauge, Okinawa.

At 11:00 A. M. on November 25, 1963 the men of our unit, five full companies with only the watch standers left behind stood at attention as the alert was sounded. The command, "at ease", was given and one at a time the Division, Catholic and Protestant Chaplains offered a prayer for our fallen Commander in Chief, John F. Kennedy. As the prayers were offered, all to be heard were a few muffled coughs. Here and there one could see the glint of a tear in a man's eye. As the solemn and mournful funeral march began to play, men who had seen combat and seen comrade's fall dead at their sides, began to cry unashamed. This was a time when tears and sorrow were in the hearts of all men from the youngest to the oldest man on the field. We came here to pay tribute and respect to our leader and dedicate a new pledge to defend with our very lives the freedom he so gallantly fought for. Our leader is gone, but a new leader has taken up the challenge and we stand ready at his command.

"At 11:20 A. M., as if a sign of finality, the sad but beautiful notes of taps sounded and echoed in the air. As the last note faded in the wind, the glorious strains of "America the Beautiful" broke the stillness of the air. At a funeral cadence, the men of the Battalion marched in silence and grief from the field at seventy steps per minute, that of the funeral march. For the first

NOW YOU CAN . . . . . HAVE
DUSK to DAWN LIGHTING
ONLY $4. Per Month

Just imagine how a modern mercury vapor light would bathe your house and lawn with light! The Dusk-to-Dawner would serve as your own private street lamp, making the driveway and walks easier to find and safer to use in good weather as well as on dark, rainy nights. It would banish creepy shadows and you'd feel a lot safer when coming home late—especially if there are many shadowy areas between the garage and the house.

- The Dusk-to-Dawner automatically comes on at dusk, turns off at dawn. It's your all-night watchman, discourages prowlers, standing guard while you sleep or while you're away. And the light will beautify your home and landscaping after dark. It lets you garden after the sun goes down, and the whole family can enjoy more evening hours of outdoor living. It's also ideal to light up areas that you and your neighbor share—protects summer cottages, too.
- Luzerne Electric Division will furnish the light with built-in photoelectric cell, install it and maintain it—even to replacing bulbs. You can have one of these standard size general purpose, 7000 lumen mercury vapor lights for only $4.00 a month.
- The electricity used by the light doesn't go through your electric meter—it's included in the monthly charge. Many Luzerne Electric Division's customers already enjoy this fine lighting service.
- While the majority are used around homes, you'll also see the Dusk-to-Dawners at stores, farms, motels, gas stations, restaurants, church and school parking areas—anywhere good night lighting is needed.
- To find out how you can have your own private street light call Luzerne Electric Division or fill out and mail the coupon below. One of the Luzerne Electric Division representatives will call on you.
