Shavertown

Everything is bright and lovely about the town. Christmas lights are blazing from many a household, and before the churches rest the panorama of the Holy Birth.

Pioneer Avenue, Center Street, and James were among the early decorators, and the Joswiak home on Lehigh Street was the first to turn on its multi-colored strings. It is delightful to have a little longer time of celebration.

A lovely tree was again set up this week at Wyoming National Bank, and Back Mt. Lumber is just radiant with trimmings and fascinating gifts. Gosart's, Hill's and Evans' have a choice of gift items, and Henry's and Eyer's have an abundant supply of jewelry for Christmas giving. Hill's poinsettias are waiting to go to that special someone, or a shut-in, and Rave's have the fixings for outdoor trim.

At Humphrey's a delightful choice of finery for the young fry awaits your selection and all the stores in the shopping center are just bulging with everything you need for the holiday, only six days away.

The weather is true Christmas temperature with enough snow to make it white, and nippy enough to bring out the ear-muffs. Sunday morning found early church goers alert and stepping in the eight-above breeze.

Mal Kitchen tells me the Christmas trees sold by the Boy Scouts are really moving, with 115 sold by noon Sunday and a new supply due the next day.

HERE AND THERE
 The large pine tree in the Leslie Hoover yard will not be trimmed by the Brownies this year. Its unique ornaments will be missed by passersby, and the birds who came for suet tidbits will have to find another feeding station.

In the midst of the busy holiday rush, Mrs. Charles Gosart, Mrs. Ruth Houser, Mrs. Florence Kast, Mrs. Charles Sieber, Mrs. Roy Trexler, Mrs. William Pethick and Mrs. John Clause took time to make needed cancer dressings.

Down in Trucksville, Mrs. Sheldon Bennett, Mrs. Fred Dingle and Mrs. William Pierce also cut and folded the dressings.

Christmas time is a happy time for most families, but there are those who are ill, who are alone, and who are needy. Add someone to your list this year. It will bring so much happiness, and give you a glad heart during days to come.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Jr., and family, Cleveland, Ohio, will arrive in time to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Thomas, Sr., Lehigh Street.

Ollie Daubert was the spark plug behind the lovely anniversary party for the Charles Manners. Isabelle came to call on Friday giving Ollie near heart failure lest last minute arrangements be fouled up.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stahl will have all their children home for Christmas. Jack and family will arrive Monday from Boston. Stuart will have leave from Wurtsmith Air Force Base, and Mrs. Janet Evans and family will arrive next week from Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. H. H. Rymer is making her lovely Christmas arrangements again this year, fashioning such enchanting pieces with the greatest of ease.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Dawson, Teaneck, N. J., will be Christmas guests at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hauck, Perrin Avenue.

Billy Fauls is spending a leave from the Army with his father, William Fauls, Hazeltine Street.

It was nice to hear that Mrs. Alven Mortenson is feeling better again after being under the weather.

George Bednar is spending his holiday recess from classes at Notre Dame with his mother, Mrs. George Bednar, Hazeltine Street.

Bert Stitzer will celebrate his birthday this week and is a mighty fine example of growing older actively. Bert who will be 71 is hale and hearty, and still does some part time work.

Mrs. Ruth Houser, Mrs. Pearl Gosart and Mrs. Florence Kast spent Saturday in New York City where they enjoyed a day of sight-seeing and shopping.

Carlene Carey has a delightful schedule of arrangements to make one's home lovely. Each month, her table is decorated in a decor representing an outstanding holiday.

Mrs. Emaret Franklin has the most charming tea room. A number of local groups visiting her new home on Main Street were enthusiastic about the dining room accommodations and the excellent meals.

A certain gentleman, staunchly in the Republican fold, will receive recognition shortly for his efforts on behalf of the party.

Saw Sally Sieber the other day. She is very happy in her new home but I believe misses the town. She continues to drive over for many of the doings, however.

George Jacobs will spend the holiday season with his parents, arriving shortly from Amherst College.

BIRTHDAYS

Greetings this week to Andrew Denmon, Jr., Mark Bynon, Marilyn Woodling, Lydia Kemmerer, Grace Jacobus, Kit Leigh, Ann Dungey, Mrs. Charles Gosart, Sr., Ruth Marie Daily.

William Morris, Mrs. J. Traver Nobel, Martha McCoy, Mrs. Frances Keefe, Mrs. Thomas H. Jenkins, Madeline Magee, Cheri Lee Rosengrant, Gordon Edwards, William Frederick, David Jenkins, Charles Tucker, William Brown, Jr., Richard Powell, and Christine Banks.

Jackson Twp.

Jackson Township Firemen will hold their Annual Christmas Party for all the children of the township, twelve years and under, at the Fire Hall Saturday evening at 7:30. Santa Claus will be present to hand out stockings to the children, games will be played, and refreshments will be served.

W.S.C.S. of Huntsville Methodist Church held their Christmas Party in the Church parlors last night, with a large number in attendance.

Two-Fold and B.A. Classes of the Methodist Church will hold their Combined Christmas Party at the Castle Restaurant, Saturday evening at 6:30.

A good time was had by the Boy Scouts of Troop 225 at their Christmas Party last night at the Fire Hall.

Two residents of Chase Road figured in auto accidents in Kings-ton Borough on December 10, and fortunately escaped injury. Sterling Brown figured in an accident at the entrance of Kirby Park and John Duke's car was wrecked on Hoyt Street.

Huntsville Methodist Sunday School will hold their Annual Christmas Party for the children of the church immediately after practice, Saturday morning at ten o'clock. The children of the church will meet at that hour to practice for the Childrens Program which will be given in the Church parlors, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Immediately following the Childrens Program, a Tea will be held in the Church Parlors for all members and friends of the church.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William G. Laity on the birth of a daughter, Pamela, who weighed in at seven pounds, ten ounces at Nesbitt Hospital December 7. Pamela has two sisters, Elizabeth and Linda and a brother, Matthew. Mrs. Laity is the former, Jean Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawson, Trucksville. Mr. Lawson is employed by the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Davis on the birth of a daughter, Susan Gwyne, October 14. Susan has a sister, Cindy Jean. The Davises live next to Fielding's Economy Store on Chase Road.

Auxiliary of the Jackson Township Firemen held their Christmas Party at the Fire Hall on Wednesday night, December 4. A short business meeting was held with Mrs. Louis Wilcox, president, presiding.

Games were played and refreshments served. Each lady present was given a box of candy, a gift from the firemen in appreciation for help rendered by the Auxiliary during the past year. The Auxiliary presented a check for $500 to the firemen for the purchase of equipment.

The following attended: Beatrice Headman, Meryl Wagner, Ann Olinatz, Mary Ashton, Margaret Bonning, Helen Balliet, Ellen Gibbons, Hilda Ashworth, Ruth Norris, Gertrude Kropp, Betty Norwig, Leona Aston, Freda Snyder, Hazel Fielding, Caroline Esser, Marion E. Beaumont

Community's sympathy is extended to the family of the late Ervin Denmon, who will be sadly missed by many school youngsters.

As the many "deer-slayers" at the Forest Motel told stories of the shots they missed, Mrs. Janet Traver Shalata drove in with a ten-point buck!

Mrs. Walter Pilger, Sr. is a patient at General Hospital.

The ten-month old son of the Wilson Travers is at General Hospital for diagnosis.

The Richard Luteses of Palmyra were recent guests of the Ralph Lutes family.

Morgan Lewis, who is pursuing studies toward his doctorate in psychology at Penn State University will spend Christmas with his sister's family, the Warren Johnsons.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arch Austin were recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Keating, West Chester.

The icy surface of the Lake Road caused Robert Condon to "wreck" his car Saturday night.

Lehman

Lehman Fire Auxiliary had their Christmas party at the Castle, a lovely dinner and entertainment, Mrs. James Cook presiding. Mrs. Charles Nuss won the door prize, a lovely center-piece of fresh flowers.

Mrs. Abner Millard, Plymouth, and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Trucksville, sang Christmas selections and had group singing. There were 46 present.

Auxiliary will serve another famous Fish Dinner February 8.

At a Wait and See Class Christmas party recently, it was reported that the public address system will be installed as soon as possible, maybe before Christmas. Christmas gifts were exchanged, and games played. A lovely luncheon was served by Mrs. Bert Sutton and Mrs. Earl Eustice.

W. S. C. S. had their Christmas party in the basement of the Methodist Church recently. They had a selection of Christmas carols, led by Mrs. Howard Ehret, president. Mrs. H. A. Brown led devotions by having several take part reading about Christ followed by prayer by Mrs. Morton Connelly. Mrs. Charles Nuss read several Christmas poems, and also showed Christmas pictures in the home. Gifts were exchanged. The Little Notes Choir sang, led by Mrs. Edward Oncay, Sr., and assisted by Mrs. Walter Chamberlain, and Mrs. J. Ellsworth accompanied them on the piano. The Louella Neely Class was their guest.

Mt. Zion

My friend Rev. Ralph Weatherly came a-foot the other day to visit me. Now that's about a mile from his house to mine but to him it is just a nice exercise. Carrying a cane is the mark of a gentleman with him. He doesn't lean on it. He carries the cane; the cane doesn't carry him. There's a difference. He gave me this bit of news, by the way: that son Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Weatherly and children Elizabeth, Paul, Stephen and Philip (ever see such an array of fine Bible names?) from Homestead were visiting the Weatherlys' Happy Hill recently. And this week Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Weatherly are visiting Rev. and Mrs. Bruce Weatherly in Moorestown, N. J. Mr. Weatherly sat down and visited with us about his recent visit to Palestine and Rome, showed us some beautiful colored pictures. It is his opinion that the grotto of the Holy Nativity in Bethlehem can easily be the authentic birthplace of Our Lord, because it is the only rock cave anywhere around Bethlehem and a likely place for the manger of the village inn. Now it is embellished with emblems of holy imagery.

Mrs. Norman Lewis fell ill last Monday and was taken to General Hospital. Norman tells me she is responding to treatment, for which we are all glad. It may take considerable time for complete recovery, but the doctors do expect that she will definitely improve.

Anybody passing by may wonder about the four foot fence around the windowsill bird feeder. Well, the suet and peanut butter had been disappearing faster than our two-legged feathered folks would normally consume it. I discovered our friendly neighbor dog can stand up six feet high when on his hind legs, and he likes suet. Maybe a cat made off with peanut butter, I don't know. Anyway, this fence makes the food last longer. Don't know whether it will fence out the squirrels, but it may delay them some. Sunday we had a new visitation by Grosbeaks, about five of them. Chewed up sunflower seeds.

Mrs. Blanche Masters of Scranton, mother of Mrs. Ann Bell of Mt. Zion, fell recently and broke her hip. Several people around here are acquainted with Mrs. Masters.

Nettie Parrish visited her niece Alice Woolbert who lives and works in Summit, N. J.

CARVERTON
 The following baptisms were performed at Carverton last Sunday: Earl Wesley Harris Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harris; Alva Wesley Cook, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Cook.

MT. ZION
 The Kings Crusaders Class held its Christmas supper and program

last Friday night at the Mt. Zion Church. Mrs. Reid conducted the devotions. The program, planned by Mae Lewis, Peggy Thomas and Marie Shaffer included solos by Marjorie Seiple plus carol singing and games by the group. A skit was presented which featured the solution of the problem of what to get their husbands for Christmas! The decorations were by Priscilla Krum, Lane Lloyd, and Janice Vosburg. Dinner was served by Marian LaBar, Susan LaBar, Karen Hronich, Nancy and Betsy Alling. The following attended: Emma Miles, Mae Lewis, Jean Emmanuel, Jane Lloyd, Marie Shaffer, Peggy Thomas, Mabel Brace, Wilma Baker, Marian Thomas, Carrie Lewis, Marjorie Seiple, Joan King, Alice Daniels, Florence Burgess, Ida Howell, Janet Dymond, Joan Dymond, Catherine Gilbert, Thelma George, Priscilla Krum, Mildred Krum, Audrey Earl, Jean Earl, Betty Earl, June Alling, Mildred Piercy, Margaret Reid, Jean Best, Clara Gosner and Janice Vosburg.

A large delegation from the Methodist Youth of Mt. Zion attended the District Youth Choir Festival at Kingston's First Methodist Church Sunday night. There were more than two church seats full. Several from the area sang in the chorus including Susan LaBar and Tommy Marcy from Mt.

It's Real Art

Congratulations to Bill Ziegenfus, Dallas Senior High School student, whose startling picture of a reindeer for the holiday tabloid, comes in the classification of real art. That stylized creature is a forecast of what is to come.

Zion, (Tommy sang a solo part), Paul Turner and Carol Sutton from Carverton, and Betty Jean Davis and Linda Renville from the Trucksville church.

WINTER SOLSTICE COMING UP

It's getting harder and harder to roll out of bed in the morning, but in a couple more days the Winter Solstice will take care of things, with days getting longer and longer instead of shorter and shorter.

TIMELY SNOWSTORM

December 12 snowstorm came just in time to keep the Dallas Post tabloid honest, with its fairy-land picture of a winter wonderland heading the first page.
