Polish Visitor Here Finds U. S. Unbelievably Wonderful Land

For Mrs. Stanley Gresczyk, Mt. Airy Road, Shavertown, it was a happy Christmas. Her sister, Miss Loda Tziganowicz, Warsaw, Poland arrived December 5 in Quebec, Canada aboard the Polish liner, "Battery."

The visitor now 65 years of age had not seen her sister for 50 years and the reunion was a joyful one. The Greszyks met her in Canada.

Miss Tziganowicz will stay for a six month sojourn before returning to her homeland. A brother Zigmund, Camden, N. J., has already been visited and will spend the New Year weekend with his sisters here.

In another week, the Greszyks and their guest will go to Miami, Fla., where they will visit another sister, Mrs. Marie Fuchs. They will remain in the south until April.

Miss Tziganowicz is delighted with the United States. She can scarcely believe that there could be such an abundance of everything. She is having a wonderful time and is so joyous to be reunited with her sisters and brother. Two sisters and a brother live in Poland. This is her first trip out of her native land.

The visitor says conditions in Poland are steadily improving with free speech, free worship and travel restrictions lifted. In the small towns there are scarcities of goods but the larger cities are able to offer more and more to the people.

Russian troops still patrol the borders near Germany and the naval base but otherwise are not scattered throughout the land. The natives are praying that the last remnants of the occupation forces will soon be removed forever.

Party Go Round

Guests go round the table and concoct their own sandwich creations. A big bowl of tuna provides the basic inspiration. Pickles, chopped celery, sliced radishes, chopped ripe olives provide accompanying factors. Mayonnaise, plain and curry-flavored, chili sauce and Russian dressing keep the sandwich situation moist. An assortment of breads, too, for mixing and matching.
