

Shavertown

FROM SANTA'S SACK

Christmas is the children's season and this week we dedicate this column to them.

Old Santa apparently visited every home in Shavertown on Christmas Eve, bringing a cherished toy to all the little ones in the household.

Chatty Cathy dolls were the favorite gift of the girls and the boys chose from a wider variety of playthings.

Little Patricia Wadas had written early for a baby doll then delighted everyone in the household by saying she forgot what she wanted but Santa would remember. This was no doubt a coy act on her part to forestall the frequent questioning by her dotting older brothers. On Christmas morning Santa had remembered her with a lovable Chatty Cathy baby and a carriage.

Carol Sheldon, her playmate, also received a Chatty Cathy doll and found the day a happy one as she mothered her new possession.

Brenda McClure, a little too young last year to comprehend the meaning of Christmas, was real excited when a dolly was waiting under the tree.

Danny Updyke couldn't wait to try out that new bike.

A charming new talking doll Sally Says, who chatters on and on when you push a button has Sharon Frederick all agog these days and a new outfit arrived for Tammy.

Tiny Peggy Konechney, who asked only for lollypops, received an abundant supply along with a doll and teddy bear.

Johnny Sidorek was a happy lad when Santa delivered a construction truck for him and Casper the Ghost for little brother Jimmie, who was fascinated with the comical toy.

Linda Saxe found a rocking chair and a dolly waiting on Christmas morning. Donna, a doll house and doll, and Sandy her requested two wheeler bike and wrist watch.

At the Ed Thompsons, four youngsters were a happy group when Santa delivered a train for Foy, an Etch A Sketch for Booth, Sno-Gor for Ned and a baby Chatty Cathy for Lisa.

Julie Ann Evans, daughter of the Milton Evans, was thrilled with her new bicycle and a carriage.

For little Christina, daughter of the Tom Jenkins, the day was one of amazement and excitement and her little dolly was often forgotten in the classroom. Mark's dump truck and grader and Gwen's typewriter.

Mimi Roan's wish for a big truck was fulfilled and Santa brought along a dolly, Peter brothers, Andy and Steve were thrilled no end with their walkie talkies, carrying their wish-listed gifts to bed with them Christmas night.

Barbara Ann Voelker's doll and cradle, baton and record player clock made her holiday a happy one.

Debbie Roberts, daughter of the Walter Roberts, has hours of happy playtime ahead with her new Barbie Doll, complete with wardrobe and furniture while brother Dave is intrigued with his tank and soldier set. A new toboggan for the entire family was tried out on the Country Club slides on Saturday with the extra snow bringing a glow to the little faces as Daddy maneuvered its course.

HERE AND THERE
Freezing conditions early Friday evening found drivers unable to manipulate Pioneer Avenue until the State Highway truck sent cinders to aid motorists. Many travelers coming through the Pocono said they had little trouble until they hit Pioneer Avenue.

Perhaps a few more ashes would have helped. With a bad night on hand, a number of residents stayed home to enjoy a quiet evening after the holiday rush.

John Butler and his son received their walkie-talkies some time before the holiday and are looking forward to using them in the near future.

Miss Dorothy Dillon, Harrisburg was a Christmas guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Dorothy Lengel in her recent bereavement.

Irvin Davis, Washington, D.C. was the guest of his sister, Mrs. William Glahn, over the Christmas holiday.

Miss Kathy Dobinick, Alexandria, Va., spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dobinick, Goeringer Avenue, and all enjoyed Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Saxe.

Tommie Jenkins was unable to get home for Christmas, being stationed with the US Navy on Okinawa.

Radioman F. C. and Mrs. Lawrence McClure spent Christmas in Akron N. Y. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McClure.

It was good to hear from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, now in Nevada, who formerly lived here and enjoy the news from the home town through our pages.

Little Candy Poad, Lancaster, arrived Christmas Day to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall enjoyed Christmas Day at the home of their youngest grandson and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jewell.

James Parry Took Part In Kennedy Services

James T. Parry, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Parry, Pioneer Avenue, Dallas, participated in the State Funeral ceremonies for the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Washington, D. C., in the Capital Building Steps Corridor.

Jim was among 150 Coast Guardsmen from the Receiving Center, Cape May, N. J., who took part in the procession from the White House to the National Rotunda, served in the funeral cortege and on security assignments for visiting heads of state.
