LEAVES VET'S HOSPITAL

Is In Greensboro, N. C.
 Latest from Rev. Charles H. Frick is that he is making such rapid strides that he was released from Veterans Hospital in New Orleans on Saturday, to go to his son Paul's home in Greensboro, N. C. for the remaining weeks of his convalescence.
 He was up on his feet for a few minutes last week, and cautiously seated in a wheelchair.
 It is the opinion of the chief at Vet's Hospital, that within three months of the time of his accident, he will be able to assume his pastoral duties again in Benton, but probably for a time from a wheelchair. The fractured vertebrae are mending without complications, and concussion is a thing of the past.
 His address for the next few weeks will be: 608 Candlewood Drive, Greensboro, N. C., care of Paul Frick.

Trucksville Free Methodist Church To Change Its Location And Name

This coming Sunday will be the last day spent in the old church in Trucksville for Trucksville Free Methodist.
 On Sunday, March 15, the congregation will change its name as well as its location.
 Rev. Grove Armstrong, pastor, will shepherd his flock to the new edifice on Carverton Road, within easy distance of the new Frances Sloum State Park. The new name will be Park Neighborhood Free Methodist Church.
 This Sunday, Rev. Armstrong plans to build his sermons about the old and the new churches. Sunday morning he will preach on "What Mean These Stones?" a backward glance at the building which the congregation is selling in order to keep step with progress.
 Sunday evening the sermon will be on "Launch Out Into The Deep", a hopeful preview of what is to come in the future, with a vastly expanded program as a goal.
 The following Sunday, the day of the hegira, sermon topics will be "The Glory of The Temple," and in the evening, "A Living Soul."
 The old edifice in central Trucksville has not yet found a purchaser for building or grounds.
 The new building, designed to accommodate future expansion, is long and low, with adequate parking space. It commands a spectacular view from its heights on Carverton Road.
 Rev. Armstrong foresees an influx of new residents in the area, attracted by the Francis Sloum development. Fourteen new members will join the church March 15.
 Formal dedication services will shortly be scheduled.
