Dallas Junior Women Discuss Scholarships, Sign Petition

Mrs. Joseph Borton, president of Dallas Junior Women's Club announced at the March meeting of the organization held Tuesday evening at Prince of Peace Parish House that more than forty members had signed the petition to bring Bible Reading back into our public schools, and will be sent to Harrisburg.

A generous profit realized from the musical, "Harvest Revue," will be used solely for the club scholarship program.

Education Chairman, Mrs. Walter Kozemchak, reviewed the Scholarship rules. Any Dallas High School senior may apply for the $200 scholarship by filing an application with George McCutcheon, school guidance counselor.

The winner may use the scholarship at any school of his choice and will be selected by a committee of faculty members. Three scholarships have been given by Dallas Junior Women's Club in the past two years, previous winners being Elsa Orchard, Wilkes College, Bonnie West, Penn State, and John Mol-ski, Wilkes College.

Mrs. Leonard Groboski, Fine Arts Chairman, announced that the club is again sponsoring a Junior High School Art Contest. Pictures will be judged and placed on display at the April meeting. Cash prizes will be given.
