Shavertown

The pleasant weekend weather was uplifting to us all. Some residents were observed washing cars and cleaning up the debris of winter after the amazingly rapid disappearance of snow piles. The hills still bear a white covering, but will likewise transform into thawing streams if the warm spell continues. Spring is just around the corner as a hundred lovely snowdrops burst into bloom in Miss Pearl Averett's yard on Friday. By the time this is printed, Mrs. Anna Bell's crocuses next door on Shaver Avenue, will have flowered, and the pleasant harbinger will do much to lift spirits along the peaceful street, which has seen so much illness and bereavement this winter.

CHOICE TO BE MADE It is expected that a new supervisor will be chosen soon, and all indications point to the selection of Dan Shaver, a lifelong resident and businessman, who many feel can cope with the present problems.

Among those contacted for the job were Milton Evans, Jack Porter, Fred Malkemes, and Peter Williams. Dan has the backing of several prominent businessmen and residents, who prefer his conservative views.

CIVIL DEFENSE AID Although many will have water in their cellars and mud all about, how fortunate we are to be out of the Valley, where fears of flood beset many homeowners living in the low-lying areas.

Local Civil Defense volunteers were called out to help in the emergency downtown. Hank Hill gave many hours on Friday operating the Duck with others from the Back Mountain.

The flooding of low areas in Plymouth gave Jeanne Merolla a thrill as she came home from Bloomsburg State College for the weekend on Friday. The bus in which she was traveling came through Chase, and entered Plymouth by way of descending Plymouth Mountain. If you want a thrill, try that twister in a bus, says Jeanne.

The Shavertown girl, a freshman, majoring in Political Science and History, was recently named to the Dear Coed staff at the college.

SYMPATHY Our very deepest sympathy is extended to Dr. Michael Bucan and his family in the loss of their mother, who became an integral part of this community when she moved here six years ago.

We, who knew him well, were shocked by the passing of Tom Reese. His cheerful manner was a delight to callers, who dropped into see him during his hospitalization and we had hoped that he would be coming home soon, a wish he expressed to all who visited him. Our sincere sympathy goes out to his wife Alice and son Jim.

Condolences of the community are also extended to Robert Whalen and daughter, Mrs. Paul Lauer, in the loss of their wife and mother on Saturday.

ON REACHING 96 It was a happy birthday for Mrs. John Joseph on Friday. In fine mettle for her anniversary she sat at the head of the table as her family gathered and blew out the candles on her cake. She questioned church in their uniforms on Sunday.

the fact that she had reached 96, and when assured she had indeed passed that milestone, coyly remarked, "Well for goodness sake, then don't advertise it." We are all proud of you, Mrs. Joseph, and trust you may reach your first century.

It was good to see Jack Jones out and getting about on Saturday. Jack took a stroll down to Wally Gosart's and enjoyed his short outing after several weeks of illness.

Mrs. Johnson Miers continues quite ill at Nesbitt Hospital. We are all rooting for you, Dorothy.

Vonnie Shaver came home from General Hospital on Saturday and is adjusting to the successful effects of an eye operation. Dan was sure glad to have her back home.

Mrs. Herman VanCampen is also making good progress after a long siege with a broken leg and is getting about more easily these days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clause spent yesterday in Philadelphia, where John was fitted for a new artificial eye.

Tommy Borhwick continues to roll up an outstanding record as a member of Penn State's wrestling team.

Mrs. Harry Alberts is ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopetchney, Newark, N. J., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kopetchney. Ray will report to the Veteran's Hospital on Wednesday for a check-up. He is coming along nicely.

Ray, Jr., recently visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pugh at Sheephead Bay, Brooklyn, and reports them getting settled.
